The News Condensed.

Three and thirty-three hundredths inches of rain fell in New-Orleans, last night.

The United States supreme court has been asked to pass upon the constitution-ality of the civil rights bill, so far as it relates to theatres in New York.

Postmaster General Key has rescinded his order stopping letters addressed to R. C. Wintersmith, supervisor of the Frankford School Fund Lottery, on the ground that it was inadvertently given.

Parnell leaves by to day's steamer from New York. He has invited friends in the Eastern States, desirous of sustaining the land league, to meet him in New York.
He will return to America after the Irish elections.

Preparations are being made in Ireland for the return of Parnell. The question of a peasant proprietary will be renewed, and meetings in favor of the scheme will be resumed by a series of county demonstrations in all parts of the country.

A canvass of the students of the University of the city of New York was taken recently in reference to choice for Presidential candidate, with the following results: Grant, 28; Sherman, 24; Blaine, 12; Bayard, 12; Tilden, 3; Washburne, 2; Conkling, 2; Edmunds, 1; Hancock, 1.

The President sent a message to the Senate yesterday in regard to the agreement made by Secretary Schurz with the Ute chiefs. He earnestly recommends its approval by Congress. The provisions of the agreement have already been printed in the REVIEW.

Among the documents transmitted to Congress with the President's Message concerning an interoceanic canal was a careful report by Secretary Evarts, covering the whole record of the United States upon this question from the foundation of the Government.

Twenty-five destitute Hungarians arrived in New York on Monday. Nearly all were suffering from effect of the famine which has prevailed in that country.
They report a terrible state of suffering among their countrymen, but that relief is being afforded as fast as opportunity will allow.

The Virginia legislature adjourned last night without passing an appropriation bill. It is hoped by this to force the governor to call them together again. It is thought he will not do it. The sessions of the legislature being biennial under the new constitution, this legislature cannot meet again unless called together by the governor.

The Kearneyites are evidently tiring of their martyrdom, and it would appear that they are about to return to the bluster policy, Mayor Kalloch publishes a proclamation in answer to the manifesto issued by the citizens' protective union.
Kalloch denies that the city is threatened with violence by the working classes, and insinuates that any unlawful demonstration is more likely to come from the merchant class. He says in effect that the authors of the protective union circular will be consigned to political infamy and oblivion.

William H. Kemble, Charles B. Salter, Jesse R. Crawford and William F. Rum-berger have all plead guilty, at Harrisburg, of legislative bribery. The Commonwealth, it is said, would rather have fought out the case, and thus have shown, not only the guilt of these individuals, but all the ramifications of the lobby. The four above named admit the log-rolling, but Kemble denies the criminal intent.

The theory is that this plea of guilty was entered in order to avoid disclosures which would badly compromise several well-known persons. It now remains to be seen whether these guilty persons will be duly sentenced. Each of them may be fined $1,000 and imprisoned for two years.
Will these penalties be imposed in full, or will the defendants be let off with a light fine and short imprisonment? But under any circumstances these defendants lose their right ever again to hold office in the State.

It is intimated that the defendants anticipate the favorable action of the Board of Pardons or the clemency of the Judge.
At any rate, the public will be curious to see what course the cases will now take.
Meanwhile the friends of honest and uncorrupted legislation in Pennsylvania are disposed to regard this as a great moral victory, indicative of more honest Legislatures in future.—Tribune.
