The News Condensed.

Bismarck has recovered his health, and had a long conference with Emperor William on Friday.

O'Leary won the walking match in San Francisco. At 10 o'clock Saturday evening he had scored 510 miles to Weston's 485.

Churches seem to flourish in Leadville. The Episcopal congregation there have offered $1200 to one lady singer, and $900 to another for one year.

Russia has asked the Powers to make a united protest to China against the execution at Peking of Chung How, the late Chinese ambassador to Russia.

The steamship "Montana," of the Guion line, was stranded Saturday morning, on the rocky coast of Wales. All on board, together with the baggage and mails, were safely landed.

The friends of the Fitz John Porter bill have taken warning from the speeches of Senators Logan and Carpenter and laid it on the table, where it will probably remain until after election.

Timothy Morris, of Richmond, Va., a member of the first negro minstrel troupe that made a tour of the country, thirty-four years ago, and who had continued in the business ever since, died in Providence last week.

The commission that was appointed some time since have decided that the indemnity due from Turkey to Russia for the maintenance of Turkish war prisoners in the late campaign, is 4,696,599 rubles exclusive of Asia.

Henry Adams, colored farm hand, testified before the exodus committee at considerable length on Friday. He says the negroes of Louisiana emigrate from that state because they are ill-used by their former masters.

Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood, the Washington female lawyer, has written an open letter to Senator Ben Hill, charging him with numerous immoralities, and says she can substantiate her allegations in a court of justice.

Secretary Sherman says he intends every week to invest all the revenues, less actual expenses and a proportionate share of the accruing interest of the public debt, in the purchase of 5 and 6 per cent bonds on public offers in New York.

Chancellor E. O. Haven in a recent letter strongly advocates the adoption of measures for the improvement of the condition of the Onondaga Indians. He favors the abolishing of the tribal system and asks that they have the privilege of separate ownership, made inalienable, on proper conditions.

An expedition is about to be fitted out by the French Government to co-operate with a similar American enterprise in exploring the remains of Aztec civilization in Mexico and Yucatan. It is expected that valuable additions will be made to American history as a result of the expedition.

Secretary Sherman has written the following letter to a friend in Chicago:

WASHINGTON, March 10.
MY DEAR SIR—Your letter of the 7th inst., in which you express strong dissent to my retiring from the Presidential race is received. I never for a moment contemplated such a course. The rumor you spoke of was no doubt promptly denied. The first public mention of my candidacy was in the inference drawn from my letter to Hon. Hoskin, of New York, in which I stated what I would seek to do in case of my nomination and election. Since that time I have been considered by the public as a candidate and so regarded myself, with the purpose neither to press any one to support me, nor to delinea such friendly aid as was offered me. This position I intend to occupy to the end. I don't think it necessary for me to belittle or arraign Grant, Blaine, or any one else, nor will I use my official position to promote my candidacy.

Very truly yours. JOHN SHERMAN.
The February report of railroad statistics shows the gross earnings of thirty-three of the principal railroads of this country to have increased about thirty-four per cent. over the corresponding period last year. This increase is largely due to and an indication of the general revival in business.
