A Philadelphia dentist did some artificial work for a woman for which she declined to pay, urging that the teeth did not fit her mouth. The dentist asked Judge Thayer on Saturday to compel the woman to come into court, open her mouth before a jury, and let somebody insert the false teeth for the purpose of allowing the jury to make personal examination whether the bed-plate fitted properly. Judge Thayer promptly refused to make any such order, and said the law gave him no power to bring any body into court for the purpose of having experiments made upon their persons. He added that he did not know anything more torturing than to compel her to come in before a crowd of men to make such a spectacle of herself. The lawyer asked the Judge whether his client's case was to fail of evidence, when the Judge intimated that he couldn't help it, for he would not make any such order.

Daniel Couroy, of Erie, Penn., has gone raving mad over the "fifteen puzzle." He is a strictly temperate man, a devoted husband and kind father. For several days he neglected his business and applied himself constantly to the game, until his brain gave way under the attempt to master the 13, 15, 14. On Monday morning he grew violent, seized his infant child and was dumping it on a hot stove when the neighbors rushed in. He was overpowered, and a body of police carried him to jail, where he now lies, a raving maniac, scratching the game on the wall and shouting "Fifteen, thirteen, fourteen."

The late James Lenox not only made liberal public gifts under his own signature, in order to show the power of an example, but he also followed up the same object in a secret manner. His regular annual subscription to the cause of foreign missions was $5,000, but those who examined the treasurer's monthly report often noticed gifts recorded thus: "$1,000." These were the secret gifts of the same philanthropist, who had no desire to glorify himself by any show of extraordinary liberality. Occasionally the term "a friend" accompanied the remittance to prevent too much attention to any special mark.

Seth Green in a recent letter to the Albany Journal says:

"I have recommended R. B. Roosevelt as a candidate for the Presidency. Would it not be a good joke to have a President that had brains and common sense enough to take his rod and go a fishing? We never have had so great a man for President. There is an old book that speaks of a fisherman by the name of Peter. He was a great man in those days, and held important offices. But since then, for a number of generations, the fisherman was looked upon as a vagabond, until twenty years ago. And who has brought about this change? It is such men as Horatio Seymour, George Dawson, Robert B. Roosevelt and many others that I could name."

Notwithstanding the great display of virtuous indignation indulged in by the big newspapers of the country over the application of W. H. Kembrie for a pardon, and the great fear expressed least he should not go to prison, we believe the sober second thought of the public will decide that the allegations in his petition are true, and that he was only technically guilty, having no corrupt motive nor personal interest in the riot bill, and that the full demands of justice have been met by his plea of guilty.

Twenty-four years ago, in July, 1856, the wife of Wilson Murray a carpenter living in Boston, gave birth to three boys, who were named respectively Benjamin Franklin, Henry Wilson and Charles Sum-

Murray. They are all now living, have more than the usual mental and physical vigor, and are all attending the State Agricultural College at Orono, Me. Mr. Murray, their father, enlisted in the war of the rebellion, and died at New Orleans.

FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL YEAR.

"THE LEADING AMERICAN NEWS-PAPER."

THE NEW YORK

TRIBUNE FOR 1880.

During the coming Presidential year The Tribune will be a more effective agency than ever for telling the news best worth knowing, and for enforcing sound politics. From the day the war closed it has been most anxious for an end of sectional strife. But it saw two years ago, and was the first to persistently to proclaim the new danger to the country from the revived alliance of the Solid South and Tammany Hall. Against that danger it sought to rally the old party of Freedom and the Union. It began by demanding the abandonment of personal dislikes, and set the example. It called for an end to attacks upon each other instead of the enemy; and for the heartiest agreement upon whatever fit candidates the majority should put up against the common foe. Since then the tide of disaster has been turned back; every doubtful state has been won, and the omens for National victory were never more cheering.

THE TRIBUNE'S POSITION.

Of The Tribune's share in all this, those speak most enthusiastically who have seen most of the struggle. It will faithfully portray the varying phases of the campaign now beginning. It will earnestly strive that the party of Freedom, Union and Public Faith may select the man surest to win, and surest to make a good President. But in this crisis it can conceive of no nomination this party could make that would not be preferable to the best that could possibly be supported by the Solid South and Tammany Hall.

The Tribune is now spending much labor and money than ever before to hold the distinction it has enjoyed of the largest circulation among the best people. It secured, and means to retain it by becoming the medium of the best thought and the voice of the best conscience of the time, by keeping abreast of the highest progress, favoring the freest discussions, hearing all sides, appealing always to the best intelligence and the purest morality, and refusing to cater to the tastes of the vile or the prejudices of the ignorant.

SPECIAL FEATURES.

The distinctive features of The Tribune are known to everybody. It gives all the news. It has the best correspondents, and retains them from year to year. It is the only paper that maintains a special telegraphic wire of its own between its office and Washington. Its scientific, literary, artistic and religious intelligence is the fullest. Its book reviews are the best. Its commercial and financial news is the most exact. Its type is the largest; and its arrangement the most systematic.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE

is by far the most successful Semi-Weekly in the country, having four times the circulation of any other in New York. It is especially adapted to the large class of intelligent, professional or business readers too far from New York to depend on our papers for the daily news, who nevertheless want the editorials, correspondence, book reviews, scientific matter, lectures, literary miscellany, etc., for which The Tribune is famous. Like The Weekly it contains sixteen pages, and is in convenient form for binding.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE

remains the great favorite of our substantial country population, and has the largest circulation of any Weekly issued from the office of a Daily paper in New York, or, so far as we know, in the United States. It revises and condenses all the news of the week into more readable shape. Its agricultural department is more carefully conducted than ever, and it has always been considered the best. Its market reports are the official standard for the Dairymen's Association, and have long been recognized authority on cattle, grain and general country produce. There are special departments for the young and for household interests; the new handwork department already extremely popular, gives unusually accurate and comprehensive instructions in knitting, crocheting, and kindred subjects; while poetry, fiction and the humors of the day are all abundantly supplied. The verdict of the tens of thousand old readers who have returned to it during the past year is that they find it better than ever. Increasing patronage and facilities enable us to reduce the rates to the lowest point we have ever touched, and to offer the most amazing premiums yet given, as follows:

TERMS OF THE TRIBUNE.

Postage free in the United States.

Five copies, one year.....1 50 each
Ten copies, one year.....1 00 each

And number of copies of either edition above ten at the same rate. Additions to clubs may be made at any time at club rates. Remit by Draft on New York, Post Office Order, or in Registered letter.

AN AMAZING PREMIUM.

To any one subscribing for The Weekly Tribune for five years, remitting us the price, $10, and $5 more, we will send Chamber's Encyclopaedia, unabridged, in fourteen volumes, with all the revisions of the Edinburgh edition of 1879, and with six additional volumes, covering American topics not fully treated in the original work;—the whole embraced by actual printer's measurement, twelve per cent more matter than Appleton's Cyclopaedia, which sells for $80! To the 15,000 readers who procured from us the Webster Unabridged premium we need only say that while this offer is even more liberal, we shall carry it out in a manner equally satisfactory. The following are the terms in detail:

For $12, Chamber's Encyclopaedia, A Library of Universal Knowledge, 14 vols., with editions on American subjects, 6 separate vols., 20 vols. in all, substantially bound in cloth, and The Weekly Tribune 5 years, to one subscriber.

For $18, Chamber's Encyclopaedia, 20 vols., above, and The Semi-Weekly Tribune 5 years.

For $18, Chamber's Encyclopaedia, 20 vols., as above, and ten copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

For $27, Chamber's Encyclopaedia, 20 vols., above, and twenty copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

For $26, Chamber's Encyclopaedia, 20 vols., as above, and the Daily Tribune two years.

The books will in all cases be sent at the subscriber's expense, but with no charge for packing. We shall begin sending them in the order in which subscriptions have been received on the 1st of January, when certainly five, and perhaps six, volumes will be ready, and shall send, thenceforth, by express-mail, as subscribers may direct. The publication will continue at the rate of two volumes per month, concluding in September next.

A MAGNIFICENT GIFT!

Worcester's Great Unabridged Dictionary Free!

The New York Tribune will send at subscriber's expense for freight, or deliver in New York City FREE, Worcester's Great Unabridged Quarto Illustrated Dictionary, edition of 1879, the very latest and very best edition of the great work, to any one remitting

$10 for a single five years' subscription in advance or five one year subscriptions to The Weekly, or $15 for a single five years' subscription in advance or five one year subscriptions to The Semi-Weekly, or, one year's subscription to The Daily, or, $30 for a single three year's subscription in advance to The Daily Tribune.

For one dollar extra the Dictionary can be sent by mail to any part of the United States, while at short distances the expense is much cheaper.
