While injustice and wrong may seem to triumph for a time there is an innate sense of justice in the American people, which says to the oppressor "thus far mayest thou go and no farther." This is evidenced by the result of the late election in San Francisco, in which the whole country may rejoice. The Chinese question is one for the whole Nation, and the hoodlums of one State have no business to attempt the settlement of it. Suppose the Irish had resolved, years ago, to shut out German labor and German immigration. What would have been the result? Free emigration of Chinese laborers is guaranteed by treaty stipulations. These treaties are not only in accord with the genius of our government, but of the utmost commercial importance to the whole Nation. Already the share of the United States in the vast trade of Asia is threatened, primarily by disregard of our own treaties, and afterward by the artful suggestions of foreign diplomatists, who see with alarm the growing commerce between the United States and China. It is easy to arouse the indignation of Chinese authorities when this Nation utterly refuses to respect or enforce its treaties, and leaves creatures like Kearney, encouraged by the action of a truckling, cowardly congress, to trample with impunity upon the supreme law of the land. The consequences to American commerce, if President Hayes had not possessed the good sense and moral courage to veto the bill, and Kerneyism had not been arrested might soon have been very serious. It is especially fortunate at this time, when the Administration proposes, through an Envoy Extraordinary, to reach a new adjustment of our treaty relations with China, that the triumph of the Citizens over the Sand Lots party gives reason to believe that the sober second thought of the people is resuming sway in California.

There is a division in the sentiment among the faculty of Yale College regarding Herbert Spencer's study of sociology as a text book by Professor Sumner, who holds the chair of political and social science. President Porter requested Professor Sumner to discontinue the use of the book on the ground that Spencer's doctrines were not in accord with the views of the faculty. This Professor Sumner refused to do. The great majority of the faculty side with the President. Sumner is the well known writer on political economy and finance. He was formerly an Episcopal minister, but has not of late been in sympathy with the emotional side of religion.

The Boston Advertiser has come out squarely for Grant on the ground that the contest lies between him and Blaine. Of Edmunds it says:

"In the United States Senate, Mr. Edmunds has won position and influence to be proud of; his tastes, his learning and the habits of his life qualify him for conspicuous and brilliant service in that body. He has no disposition to retire from it, and it would be a public loss if he should leave it for any untried position."

The New York elevated railroads, which proved such a bonanza for a time and on which it is said Mr. Tilden cleared $1,000,000, have ceased to boom. Manhattan stock, worth 75 last November, was yesterday quoted at 25, and is said to be in danger of losing its charter because it cannot pay the ten per cent. interest on leased roads as the charter requires. Meantime a bill has passed to the third reading in the state senate to repeal the charter of the Metropolitan company.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 10, 1880.
A. E. BURR—Dear Sir:—I got a bottle of your Neuralgia Pills when I was in Scranton the other day, for my mother. She was nervous and could not sleep nights, and was troubled with pains all over. Your Neuralgia Pills relieved her so she slept well after taking two doses. Send me one dozen bottles. Yours in haste, THOMAS KELLEY.

I have sold Dr. Burr's Neuralgia and Sick Headache Pills for years. They give good satisfaction.
D. K. SPRY, Druggist.

FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL YEAR.

"THE LEADING AMERICAN NEWS-PAPER"

THE NEW YORK

TRIBUNE

FOR 1880.

During the coming Presidential year The Tribune will be a more effective agency than ever for telling the news best worth knowing, and for enforcing sound politics. From the day the war closed it has been most anxious for an end of sectional strife. But it saw two years ago, and was the first to persistently to proclaim the new danger to the country from the revived alliance of the Solid South and Tammany Hall. Against that danger it sought to rally the old party of Freedom and the Union. It began by demanding the abandonment of personal dislikes, and set the example. It called for an end to attacks upon each other instead of the enemy; and for the heartiest agreement upon whatever it candidates the majority should put up against the common foe. Since then the tide of disaster has been turned back; every doubtful state has been won, and the omens for National victory were never more cheering.

THE TRIBUNE'S POSITION.

Of The Tribune's share in all this, those speak most enthusiastically who have seen most of the struggle. It will faithfully portray the varying phases of the campaign now beginning. It will earnestly strive that the party of Freedom, Union and Public Faith may select the man surest to win, and surest to make a good President. But in this crisis it can conceive of no nomination this party could make that would not be preferable to the best that could possibly be supported by the Solid South and Tammany Hall.

The Tribune is now spending much labor and money than ever before to hold the distinction it has enjoyed of the largest circulation among the best people. It secured, and means to retain it by becoming the medium of the best thought and the voice of the best conscience of the time, by keeping abreast of the highest progress, favoring the freest discussions, hearing all sides, appealing always to the best intelligence and the purest morality, and refusing to enter to the issues of the vile or the prejudicial of the ignorant.

SPECIAL FEATURES.

The distinctive features of The Tribune are known to everybody. It gives all the news. It has the best correspondents, and retains them from year to year. It is the only paper that maintains a special telegraphic wire of its own between its office and Washington. Its scientific, literary, artistic and religious intelligence is the fullest. Its book reviews are the best. Its commercial and financial news is the most exact. Its type is the largest, and its arrangement the most systematic.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE

is by far the most successful Semi-Weekly in the country, having four times the circulation of any other in New York. It is especially adapted to the large class of intelligent, professional or business readers (so far from New York) to depend on our papers for the daily news, who nevertheless want the editorial, correspondence, book reviews, scientific matter, lectures, literary miscellany, etc., for which The Tribune is famous. Like The Weekly it contains sixteen pages, and is in convenient form for binding.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE

remains the great favorite of our substantial country population, and has the largest circulation of any Weekly issued from the office of a Daily paper in New York, or, so far as we know, in the United States. It reviews and condenses all the news of the week into more readable shape. Its agricultural department is more carefully conducted than ever, and it has always been considered the best. Its market reports are the official standard for the Dairyman's Association, and have long been recognized authority on cattle, grain and general country produce. There are special departments for the young and for household interests; the new handwork department already extremely popular, gives unusually accurate and comprehensive instructions in knitting, crocheting, and kindred subjects; while poetry, fiction and the humor of the day are all abundantly supplied. The verdict of the tens of thousands of old readers who have returned to it during the past year is that they find it better than ever. Increasing patronage and facilities enable us to reduce the rates to the lowest point we have ever touched, and to offer the most amazing premiums yet given, as follows:

AN AMAZING PREMIUM.

To any one subscribing for The Weekly Tribune for two years, remitting us the price, $10, and $20 more, we will send Chamber's Encyclopaedia, unabridged, in fourteen volumes, with all the revisions of the Edinburgh edition of 1870, and with six additional volumes, covering American topics not fully treated in the original work—the whole embracing by actual printers to amount, table per cent more matter than Appleton's Cyclopaedia, which sells for $20! To the 10,000 readers who profited from us the Webster's Unabridged premium we need only say that while this offer is even more liberal, we shall carry it out in a manner equally satisfactory. The following are the terms in detail:

For $12, Chamber's Encyclopaedia, A Library of Universal Knowledge, 14 vols., with editions on American subjects, 5 separate vols., 20 vols. in all, substantially bound in cloth, and The Weekly Tribune 5 years, to one subscriber.

For $18, Chamber's Encyclopaedia, 20 vols., above, and The Semi-Weekly Tribune 5 years.

For $18, Chamber's Encyclopaedia, 20 vols., as above, and ten copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

For $27, Chamber's Encyclopaedia, 20 vols., above, and twenty copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

For $26, Chamber's Encyclopaedia, 20 vols., as above, and The Daily Tribune two years.

The books will in all cases be sent at the subscriber's expense, but with no charge for packing. We shall begin sending them in the order in which subscriptions have been received on the 1st of January, when certainly five, and perhaps six, volumes will be ready, and shall send, thenceforth, by express-mail, as subscribers may direct. The publication will continue at the rate of two volumes per month, concluding in September next.

A MAGNIFICENT GIFT!

Worcester's Great Unabridged Dictionary Free!

The New York Tribune will send at subscriber's expense for freight, or deliver in New York City FREE, Worcester's Great Unabridged Quarto Illustrated Dictionary, edition of 1873, the very latest and very best edition of the great work, to any one remitting

$10 for a single two years' subscription in advance, or five one year subscriptions to The Weekly, or $10 for a single five years' subscription in advance, or five one year subscriptions to The Semi-Weekly, or one year's subscription to The Daily, or $30 for a single three years' subscription in advance to The Daily Tribune.

For one dollar extra the Dictionary can be sent by mail to any part of the United States, while at short distances the expense is much cheaper.
