"There are Fools all Over the World."

When General Grant arrived at the hotel at Houston, Texas on his way North, it was noticeable, writes a correspondent of the St. Louis Globe Democrat, that among the colored people who flocked to see the General were many old negroes who had been slaves, and naturally, in their humble way, come to express their gratitude to one who had so much to do in knocking off their shackles. As Grant stepped on the platform such expressions were heard from those poor creatures as they strained their old eyes to catch a glimpse of General Grant: "Dat's him; bress the Lor' I'se seen him." "Dat's de boss; God bless his soul." "Dat's the ole man what'll make 'em stan' aroun'; he ain't afear'd o' none o' 'em." One old negro, half blind, said; "I'se seed him 'n my prayer done been hear'n; dat's de las' I'll see of the General."

An incident occurred while the procession was moving that caused much talk. A young resident of Houston, who had never smelled gunpowder on either side during the war, approached Gen. Grant's carriage and shouted at the top of his voice, "Hurrah for Jeff. Davis."

Colonel Tracy turned to General Grant and said: "You see, General, that in a city like ours, with a population of 25,000, we have at least one fool."

General Grant replied: "Yes; there are fools all over the world"

It may be added that the young black-guard was heartily cursed by the ex-Confederates present, who were among the first to extend General Grant a warm and hearty welcome to their State and city.

The outrage upon the colored cadet at West Point is utterly abominable. The young fellow whose only crime is the skin which his Maker gave him, is found on the floor in the barracks, bound hand and foot, with one ear cut off and the other gashed, and his head bruised. His story is that three masked men entered the room during the night, jumped upon him, choked him, and finally tied his feet to the bedstead. One of them remarked that the proper thing to do was to mark him as they do hogs in the South. So they then got to work at his ears. General Schofield must go to the bottom of this business. If the three men who did this thing are cadets they should be dismissed from the service, and branded with the words "Coward and Bully."

A remarkable funeral scene was witnessed at Calvary (Episcopal Church, New York, yesterday. Robert N. McCurdy and Herman D. Aldrich, two old merchants, who had passed their entire lives in each other's company, and who died on Monday last almost at the same moment, were buried together.

The Des Moines County (Iowa) Republican convention yesterday elected sixteen delegates to the State Convention. A resolution was adopted by the convention that while preferring the nomination of Gen. Grant, it was opposed to sending an instructed delegation. The convention was enthusiastic for Grant.

A Salt Lake dispatch says that Republicans, dissatisfied with the action of the Territorial Committee of Utah, in assuming to appoint delegates to Chicago, have called a convention at Salt Lake for April 20th, to elect delegates to Chicago and a new Territorial Committee.

The Republicans carried the city of Springfield, Ill., and Sangamon county by a large majority, for the first time since 1860. This appears to be a good year for Republican returns.

FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL YEAR.

"THE LEADING AMERICAN NEWS-PAPER."

THE NEW YORK

TRIBUNE

FOR 1880.

During the coming Presidential year The Tribune will be a more effective agency than ever for telling the news best worth knowing, and for enforcing sound politics. From the day the war closed it has been most anxious for an end of sectional strife. But it saw two years ago, and was the first per-istently to proclaim the new danger to the country from the revived alliance of the Solid South and Tammany Hall. Against that danger it sought to rally the old party of Freedom and the Union. It began by demanding the abandonment of personal dislikes, and set the example: it called for an end to attacks upon each other instead of the enemy; and for the heartiest agreement upon whatever fit candidates the majority should put up against the common foe. Since then the tide of disaster has been turned back; every doubtful state has been won, and the omens for National victory were never more cheering.

THE TRIBUNE'S POSITION.

Of The Tribune's share in all this; those speak most enthusiastically who have seen most of the struggle. It will faithfully portray the varying phases of the campaign now beginning. It will earnestly strive that the party of Freedom, Union and Public Faith may select the man surest to win, and surest to make a good President. But in this crisis it can conceive of no nomination this party could make that would not be preferable to the best that could possibly be supported by the Solid South and Tammany Hall.

The Tribune is now spending much labor and money than ever before to hold the distinction it has enjoyed of the largest circulation among the best people. It secured, and means to retain it by being the medium of the best thought and the voice of the best conscience of the time, by keeping abreast of the highest progress, favoring the freest discussions, hearing all sides, appealing always to the best intelligence and the purest morality, and refusing to cater to the tastes of the vile or the prejudices of the ignorant.

SPECIAL FEATURES.

The distinctive features of The Tribune are known to everybody. It gives all the news. It has the best correspondents, and retains them from year to year. It is the only paper that maintains a special telegraphic wire of its own between its office and Washington. Its scientific, literary, artistic and religious intelligence is the fullest. Its book reviews are the best. Its commercial and financial news is the most exact. Its type is the largest; and its arrangement the most systematic.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE

Is by far the most successful Semi-Weekly in the country, having four times the circulation of any other in New York. It is especially adapted to the large class of intelligent, professional or business readers too far from New York to depend on our papers for the daily news, who nevertheless want the editorials, correspondence, book reviews, scientific matter, lectures, literary miscellany, etc., for which The Tribune is famous. Like The Weekly it contains sixteen pages, and is in convenient form for binding.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE

remains the great favorite of our substantial country population, and has the largest circulation of any Weekly issued from the office of a Daily paper in New York, or, so far as we know, in the United States. It revises and condenses all the news of the week into more readable shape. Its agricultural department is more carefully conducted than ever, and it has always been considered the best. Its market reports are the official standard for the Dairymen's Association, and have long been recognized authority on cattle, grain and general country produce. There are special departments for the young and for household interests; the new handwork department already extremely popular, gives unusually accurate and comprehensive instructions in knitting, crocheting, and kindred subjects; while poetry, fiction and the humors of the day are all abundantly supplied. The verdict of the tens of thousand old readers who have returned to it during the past year is that they find it better than ever. Increasing patronage and facilities enable us to reduce the rates to the lowest point we have ever touched, and to offer the most amazing premiums yet given, as follows:

AN AMAZING PREMIUM.

To any one subscribing for The Weekly Tribune for five years, remitting us the price, $10, and 8 more, we will send Chamber's Encyclopedia, un-bridged, in fourteen volumes, with all the revisions of the Edinburgh edition of 1879, and with six additional volumes, covering American topics not fully treated in the original work—the whole embracing by actual printer's measurement, twelve per cent more matter than Appleton's Cyclopaedia, which sells for $30! To the 15,000 readers who procured from us the Webster Unbridged premium we need only say that while this offer is even more liberal, we shall carry it out in a manner equally satisfactory. The following are the terms in detail:

For $12, Chamber's Encyclopedia, A Library of Universal Knowledge, 14 vols., with editions on American subjects, 6 separate vols., 20 vols. in all, substantially bound in cloth, and The Weekly Tribune 5 years, to one subscriber.

For $18, Chamber's Encyclopedia, 20 vols., above, and The Semi-Weekly Tribune 5 years.

For $18, Chamber's Encyclopedia, 20 vols., as above, and ten copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

For $27, Chamber's Encyclopedia, 20 vols., above, and twenty copies of The Weekly Tribune one year.

For $26, Chamber's Encyclopedia, 20 vols., as above, and the Daily Tribune two years.

The books will in all cases be sent at the subscriber's expense, but with no charge for packing. We shall begin sending them in the order in which subscriptions have been received on the 1st of January, when certainly five, and perhaps six, volumes will be ready, and shall send, therefore, by express or mail, as subscribers may direct. The publication will continue at the rate of two volumes per month, concluding in September next.

A MAGNIFICENT GIFT!
