OLLIE BENNETT, of Fitch's confectionery store, is suffering from a bad cold, and has been confined to his room for a few days.

Mrs. HILLIS stays with her husband in Harrisburg. It would be a good thing if all the members would take their wives with them.

Our former townsman, GEO. H. ESTELL, proved so popular as burgess of Canton borough last year, that he was re-elected, notwithstanding he declined to be a candidate.

CHAS. C. MILLER, an employe at FROST'S factory, was quite badly injured on Thursday last. A piece of board was thrown violently from a circular saw, and struck him.

The snow has nearly all disappeared from this section, and a warm rain of several hours was experienced last evening.

The hour of evening service at Christ Church (Episcopal) has been changed to 4:30 on Sunday afternoon, and 7:45 on Thursday evening. Services will be held Ash Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. Mrs. MERCUR'S Bible Class will meet immediately after the Sunday afternoon service.

The late Mrs. Judge GEORGE SCOTT was buried yesterday. The services were conducted by Rev. Doctor STEWART, and a large concourse followed the remains to Riverside cemetery. The pall-bearers were: M. C. MERCUR, JAS MACFARLANE, N. N. BETTS, Col. J. F. MEANS, A. WICKHAM, and J. V. WILCOCK. D'A OVERTON, Esq., directed the arrangements.

We are indebted to Rev. I. H. TORRANCE, agent Pennsylvania Bible Society, for a little pamphlet containing specimen verses of the Scriptures in 215 languages and dialects, printed by that society. Through the good offices of the Bible Societies it may truly be said by almost every nation under the sun, "We do hear them speak in our own tongue the wonderful works of God."

H. W. MILLER, the hackman, has fitted up a neat and convenient office, one door below the Council Rooms, on Park street, where he will be pleased to see his friends and all in want of his services. He has placed a letter-box in the window, so that orders may be left in his absence. Requests deposited in the box will receive prompt attention, it will be examined before every train in time to make calls anywhere in town.

At the mite society meeting at Mr. MERCUR'S Friday evening, refreshments were served by young ladies decorated with white aprons and MARTHA WASHINGTON caps. The following officiated as serving maids, under the direction of Miss LILLIE MERCUR: HATTIE MALLORY, GRACIE RODGERS, LILLIE MARSHALL, JESSIE MOODY, BELLE CARNOCHAN, EMILY ALVORD.

The receipts were $50, which cancels the indebtedness of the society.
