WALTER SCOTT returned to his home in Baltimore yesterday. He was accompanied by his niece, Mrs. MYRON SMITH, who will spend several weeks visiting in that city and Washington.

FRANK ROSENFELD left for the south again last evening—his objective point being Houston, Texas. He is a good fellow and ought to succeed in whatever he undertakes in the "Lone Star State."

ASA DOUGLASS is alarmingly ill with pneumonia.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. FELCH is very sick.

Sheriff SPALDING of Athens is in quite feeble health, and is staying with his son-in-law J. W. MIX, Esq., on Pine street.

S. M. LEONARD, a former enterprising business man of Troy, and now employed by a large New York wholesale house, was in town yesterday and went down to Dushore on the afternoon train.

CORRECTION.—In our brief and hurriedly prepared notice of the wedding at Mr. CULVER's in yesterday's REVIEW, which was prepared in great haste after a sleepless night we omitted the names of Mr. and Mrs. U. C. SHORES from the list of guests, as well as that of the jovial HORACE HORTON, who accompanied his wife as he always does on such occasions, having no cares in the shape of small children at home to demand his attention while his better half is enjoying herself at social gatherings. HORACE was there. Another whose name did not appear and who made herself useful as well as ornamental on the occasion was Mrs. J. W. GOODWIN, sister of the groom, and who accompanied the bridal party on their trip to New York.

I have several desirable houses to rent.
L. ELSBREE.

Mrs. J. D. SWAIN, who had been ill for a long time, died yesterday.

The receipts of the Ward House barber shop average about $135 per month.

Leave orders for MILLER's hacks at his new office, just below the Council Rooms.

Prof. JAMES MACFARLANE will deliver the next lecture in the Institute course, on the 5th inst.

Our notice yesterday that the GOODRICH residence had been sold to Mr. LANING, was incorrect, or at least premature.

Madame Foster, the Celebrated Claravoyant, has returned to her rooms at B. A. Pettis' Boarding house where she will be pleased to see all who wish to consult her upon business matters.

Mercur---Denis.

The wedding of JAMES MERCUR, son of Judge MERCUR of the Supreme Court, and Miss MARIETTA ELIZABETH DENIS, daughter of Mrs. NARCISSE H. F. DENIS, which occurred yesterday at noon in the Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity, corner 19th and Walnut streets, was among the most notable society events of the season. A large number of cards had been sent out, and the Church was thronged in every part with persons of high social position. The inclemency of the weather had no effect upon the style of dress, for almost every lady wore an evening silk or satin, which rendered the scene one of uniform brilliancy and richness. Among those present were Judges TRUNKEY, and GREEN, BENJAMIN BULLOCK, Dr. P. D. KEYSER, Colonel ESCHELMAN of Lancaster, and Gen. W. H. H. DAVIS of the Doyleston Democrat.

As the organ pealed forth the march from Puratani the bridal party, comprising nineteen persons, entered the church through the main door and passed up the centre aisle to the chancel. The bridal procession consisted of the ushers, C. B. TRALL of Frederick, Md.; J. W. CODDING, Towanda Pa.; R. D. Mc-

FADDEN, Quincy, Ill.; C. W. ROBY, Brooklyn, N. Y.; and WILLIAM ELLIOTT, Dr. T. WISTAR, J. P. TOWNSEND and S. E. MUIRFORD of Philadelphia; the bridesmaid, Miss DENNIS of Frederick, Md.; Miss WEAVER, of Media, Pa.; Miss LEIPRR, Chester, Pa.; and Miss THOMAS Miss LOVE, Miss WILLIAMSON, Miss BULLOCK and Miss EWING, of Philadelphia. Miss KUNKEL of Frederick, Md., was maid of honor. The bride was accompanied to the altar by her brother, GEOFFREY DENIS, and the groom walked with Dr. JOHN D. MERCUR, his best man.—The bride wore a rich dress of silver cloth with princess train, skirt and basque elaborately trimmed with pearl beads. A long tulle veil attached to the hair with orange blossoms flowed gracefully over the robe, extending to the sweeping train below. The bridesmaids looked exceedingly picturesque in short dresses of camel's hair cloth trimmed with swan's down and small bonnets of the latter material. Each carried a basket of Jacqueminot and Marshal Neil roses. GEOFFREY DENIS gave the bride away and Bishop WILLIAM BACON STEVENS performed the ceremony, assisted by Bev. W. NELSON McVICKAR, rector of the church.

Mendelssohn's Wedding March announced the conclusion of the nuptials, and upon departing from the church the bridal party was driven to the residence of the bride's mother, No. 1805 Vine street, where a reception was held from 2 to 4 o'clock. The parlors were handsomely decorated with evergreens, smilax and foliage plants, while the perfume of blooming flowers pervaded every portion of the interior. The display of presents was both numerous and extravagant and was much admired. At 4 o'clock the happy couple departed on a trip to Baltimore and Washington.—Philadelphia Press, yesterday

The REVIEW is most happy in having the honor to extend the hearty congratulations of this community to our fortunate young friend, Mr. MERCUR, and his accomplished bride.
