The Republican Senators have had a caucus and the unanimous opinion was, that if the Democrats attempt to organize the committees while four of the Republican seats were vacant, the effort should be strenuously resisted, as an effort to take an unfair advantage of the Republicans, and also as an injustice to the incoming Senators, whose wishes in regard to the committee appointments should be consulted by their Republican colleagues before the lists were completed.

It was therefore determined that the invitation of the Democratic caucus for the Republicans to name the minority membership of the committees shall be declined, and if the Democrats fill out the lists and present them to the Senate for adoption, the Republicans will abstain from voting. The question will then arise whether a quorum of the Senate consists of a majority of Senators holding seats or a majority when all the seats are filled. There are now 37 Democratic Senators and 33 Republicans and 2 Independents, Davis and Mahone. If, therefore, it be decided that a quorum consists merely of a majority of those holding seats, or if the Independents vote on the question of adopting the list, and thus make an undisputable quorum, the Republicans will have to accept the committee representation assigned to them. But in this event they will endeavor to reorganize the Senate, if it be in session after the four vacancies are filled, provided that the positions taken by the Independents shall by that time afford them a reasonable chance of success in re-opening the contest for control.

The Democrats take the ground that the business of the special session ought to be disposed of as rapidly as possible. It cannot be transacted properly without the formation of the regular committees, and it is therefore their duty to proceed with the work of organization forthwith. It was suggested at the Republican caucus that the President be advised to hold back his nominations until the Republican vacancies are filled, and thus prevent an adjournment to December, which might otherwise be ordered by the majority, after securing the control of the organization and transacting the necessary business. It was agreed that the nominations might properly be thus delayed, in view of the fact that the Senate may meanwhile devote its time to the consideration of the various pending treaties. Mention was also made of the power of the President to reconvene the Senate in the event of an adjournment, as often as he may deem proper.

"Fifty years hence," said the President, "Our children will not be divided in their opinions concerning our controversies. They will surely bless their fathers and their fathers' God that the Union was preserved, that slavery was overthrown, and that both races were made equal before the law." Twenty years have passed since the controversy began in war; sixteen have passed since the appeal to arms ended—and already "opinions" are consolidating. The South has already pronounced the benediction upon the overthrow of slavery.

Charlotte Thompson, the actress, when about to leave Toledo, Monday night, discovered that the casket containing her diamonds, valued at $15,000, was missing. There is no clue.

In the Supreme Court yesterday ex-Attorney-General Devens introduced his successor, Mr. MacVeagh, to the Court, and made an appropriate address. The Chief Justice responded in suitable terms.

A FEW FACTS

in regard to the White Sewing Machine.

It is an acknowledged fact that the White Sewing Machine now stands pre-eminent among first-class machines, for its simplicity and light-running qualities.

It is a mechanical fact that the White Sewing Machine is made from the best material and of excellent workmanship, and all its wearing parts are adjustable, so that lost motion can be "taken up" in an instant.

It is an undisputed fact that the durability of the White Sewing Machine is sustained by a written warranty for five years.

It is a progressive fact that the White embodies the most practical and useful improvements of other sewing machines, together with advantages peculiarly its own.

It is a money-making fact that the White is the easiest-selling selling machine in the market, and therefore all wide-awake dealers make it their specialty.

It is a gratifying fact that the White gives universal satisfaction, and that it is steadily and rapidly increasing in public favor.

CAUTION.

Do not be imposed upon by agents and parties who are interested in the purchase and sale of other machines. It has become a common trick for unscrupulous competitors to get a White machine and put it in bad order so that they might prejudice purchasers against it and in favor of their own machines. To guard against such contemptible trickery, we advise all intending purchasers to correspond with us direct, and we will take pleasure in giving them the address of a regular authorized dealer for the "White" in their county, or we will offer to sell them a machine direct at special prices, and guarantee satisfaction in every respect.
