A Nine-cent Dinner.

How to Cook a Nine-Cent Dinner was a subject sufficiently attractive to draw nearly five hundred persons, mostly ladies, last evening to Franklin Institute. Suspended above the platform, in full view of the audience, was a gigantic bill-of-fair which read as follows: "A nine-cent dinner for twenty-five persons. Pea-soup, 15 cents; Irish stew, 20 cents; curly potatoes, 6 cents; pork and beans, 32 cents; veal croquettes, 25 cents; cold slaw, 10 cents; macaroni, 18 cents; rice pudding, 26 cents; apple dumplings, 30 cents; coffee and milk, 23 cents."

The platform presented an unusual scene. On the right was a stand covered with pots, pans kettles and numerous other kitchen utensils. Next was a table upon which to prepare the ingredients for the dinner, while on the left was a sun-dial gas stove, already to receive the dishes for cooking. Francis Wells opened the exhibition by explaining that a nine-cent dinner was given on March 3d at the New Century Cooking School, No. 1112 Girard Street, to twenty-five persons, and it was the object of the management to practically demonstrate just how such a dinner could be prepared so economically. Mrs. Rorer, the tutor at the school, was then introduced, and she appeared prettily attired in a dark dress covered with a dainty white apron and wearing a picturesque headdress of the Martha Washington style. She explained the manner of cooking the different articles at considerable length.—Philadelphia Press.

This paragraph on secondary education from the Boston Advertiser is worth consideration: "Education is more important than instruction, for the aim of education is character, while the purpose of instruction is knowledge; and character is better, as well as stronger, than knowledge. The subject thus alluded to marks the great difference between the Boston Latin School and such establishments as Eton and Rugby and the few good academies of New England. These can educate, while the American public high school can do very little beyond instruction. This fact need not be disguised, and will explain why our public schools, particularly those of the secondary grade, are more than Eton and Rugby in need of superior teachers—teachers who not only know much and do much, but also are much and know well and do well. No fault is found here with the teachers of the Boston Latin School. On the contrary, they deserve confidence and respect, and if need be praise. But the general experience may be stated to be, that the best appointed countries, such as England, France, Germany and the United States, have six, and perhaps twelve or twenty good university professors to one good secondary school teacher. Yet a good high school or academy teacher should be held in the same esteem as a distinguished college or university professor. It is to be regretted that so few young men of character and high scholarship devote the whole of their life to secondary instruction."

The steamship Erin arrived in New York Wednesday with twenty-three men rescued from the Drumduff, abandoned in a sinking condition, March 3d. Communication between the vessel was made by a distress rocket and a line, and the crew rescued by means of this line after severe hardship and exposure.

A FEW FACTS
in regard to the White Sewing Machine.

It is an acknowledged fact that the White Sewing Machine now stands pre-eminent among first-class machines, for its simplicity and light-running qualities.

It is a mechanical fact that the White Sewing Machine is made from the best material and of excellent workmanship, and all its wearing parts are adjustable, so that lost motion can be "taken up" in an instant.

It is an undisputed fact that the durability of the White Sewing Machine is sustained by a written warranty for five years.

It is a progressive fact that the White embodies the most practical and useful improvements of other sewing machines, together with advantages peculiarly its own.

It is a money-making fact that the White is the easiest-selling selling machine in the market, and therefore all wide-awake dealers make it their specialty.

It is a gratifying fact that the White gives universal satisfaction, and that it is steadily and rapidly increasing in public favor.

CAUTION.

Do not be imposed upon by agents and parties who are interested in the purchase and sale of other machines. It has become a common trick for unscrupulous competitors to get a White machine and put it in bad order so that they might prejudice purchasers against it and in favor of their own machines. To guard against such contemptible trickery, we advise all intending purchasers to correspond with us direct, and we will take pleasure in giving them the address of a regular authorized dealer for the "White" in their county, or we will offer to sell them a machine direct at special prices, and guarantee satisfaction in every respect.
