A gentleman who has observed the habits of the different species of birds says the black bird seldom makes its appearance in this latitude until about the time warm weather sets in. He noticed one of these feathered specimens on a tree near his residence yesterday.

The entertainment at the M. E. Church last evening was a very enjoyable affair and was well patronized. A particularly pleasant feature of the evening was the recitation of BESSIE VINCENT, who recited an exceedingly difficult piece without a blunder, and the declamation of Master KYSER, who did remarkably well. The playing and singing was listened to with great pleasure. At the conclusion of the concert ice cream and cake were served. We judge the receipts must have been quite handsome. The young ladies who projected and carried the programme, in the interest of an invalid member of the Sunday School, deserve great credit. Miss LIBBIE WATTS, who was foremost in the good work, is entitled to special commendation. IRA MORLEY rendered himself useful as master of ceremonies.
