Remember the Germania Orchestra Assembly, this Friday evening in Means' Hall. Tickets 50 cents.

The trunk lines have agreed to discontinue the sale of third class western tickets at inland towns after the first of April. People who are preparing to go west this Spring will make a large saving by getting off on or before the last day of this month, as after that date Mr. BABCOCK has instructions to return all such tickets to the general passenger agent.

The Towanda bridge suit occupied the attention of the court in this borough all of last week, and it is said the case will probably not be submitted to the jury before Wednesday or Thursday of this week. The trial has excited some interest here, and there have been some nice points in law involved in the questions of franchise and the admission of testimony.— Wellsboro Agitator.

About ten days since Mrs. A. W. WHEATON was attacked with erysipelas and after a few days died. Soon after her death her husband was taken with the same disease, and died Wednesday evening after suffering most excrutiating pain. The funeral will take place at the residence near FROST'S factory this afternoon at one o'clock.

Both the deceased were highly esteemed by all who knew them. They had been residents of this borough for several years.

SHAD!—The "first run of shad" have made their appearance and of course RUNDELL got them. Call and get one this morning.

John H. Brewley and Marieta Brewley began a suit against the Equitable Life Insurance Company of the United States, claiming that it has violated the law governing such corporations, of misappropriating its moneys. Plaintiffs, who are policy holders, ask for an accounting and the appointment of a receiver. Among the alleged misappropriations were $4,000,000 invested in land and buildings here, $1,000,000 in the Boston Equitable building, $100,000 in the stock of the Mercantile Trust Company, $10,000 for erecting safes in the Equitable Safe Deposit Company, at Boston, besides other investments. The defendants demurred to the complaint, and the demurrer was heard Monday in the Supreme Court. Decision reserved.
