Rev. Doctor S. C. DUNNING, one of the most eminent divines in this section, is dying of apoplexy in Kingston, Luzerne Co. Doctor DUNNING has been pastor of the Honesdale Presbyterian Church for many years, and had just entered upon his duties as pastor of the church in Kingston. He occupied the pulpit on Sunday and was stricken down while at breakfast Monday morning.

A CALL FOR AID.—The Ladies Benevolent Association, is obliged to make an urgent appeal to the citizens of our town for aid to carry on its work. The past severe winter has drawn so heavily upon our funds, that notwithstanding the liberal support given us in November, our Treasury is exhausted, the unusual number of cases of sickness have demanded our attention; the extreme cold weather has made our coal bills necessarily high; provisions, and clothing though prudently dealt out, have rapidly used up our money, and in order to prosecute our work we must have help. Our appeals have heretofore been promptly responded to, and we believe the present one will not be unheeded. By order of the President,

Mrs. Dr. H. C. PORTER.
Mrs. R. M. WELLES, Sec'y.

THE "FRED MERCUR."—The Hazelton Sentinel gives a description of the trial trip of a new engine,—the "Fred Mercur"—just built at the Lehigh Valley shops in that place:

It was designed by Master Mechanic David Clark, and built under his personal supervision, and when finished was pronounced a model of perfection and beauty by the best mechanics in the employ of the company. It made a trial trip to Pittston and back last Friday, that fully proves that it is the best and fastest locomotive now on the Lehigh Valley Railroad. In order to test her speed and strength Master Mechanic Clark, Master Mechanic Drumbeller, Superintendent, Mitchell, Superintendent Blakeslee, Fred Mercur and several other gentlemen and officials of the company were aboard with the engineer, Christ. Fagan on the run up the mountain from Sugar Notch to Fairview, where the grade of the road is ninety-five feet to the mile. There were five passenger cars in the train, being one more than the usual number. At Warrior Run and Newport stations the train came to a stop to change passengers, and notwithstanding the fact that an extra car was attached, the train was landed at Fairview station, having made the run from Sugar Notch, a distance of 13 miles in the remarkably short space of 29 minutes. To say that the engine behaved well on the run is a mild way of expressing it. Christ. Fagan was delighted with the manner she steamed and traveled, never before attained on the mountain by a locomotive, and it is needless to say that the trial was highly satisfactory to Mr. Clark and other officials, some of whom, as was reported Saturday, made Christ. Fagan a handsome present. Henceforth the Fred Mercur will be known as the fastest passenger locomotive yet built in this section of the state. The cylinders are 20x22 inches, 62 inch driving wheels, and the fire box is 43 1-2 inches wide and 11 feet in length. There are 139 tubes 2 inches in diameter and 11 feet long, and also all the late improvements known in the construction of locomotives. All the mechanics at the Lehigh Valley shops, as well as Mr. Clark and his assistants, are to be complimented on turning out such a masterpiece of workmanship.
