A. M. CORNELL, of Columbia, takes his place next week as Superintendent of the Poor House in place of A. D. MUNN, whose health will not permit him longer to continue the duties he has so well performed for the past year. MR. CORNELL is an excellent selection for the place and the duties of the place will undoubtedly be discharged to the satisfaction of the public. A careful, thoughtful man he has shown in the management of his own affairs that he is fitted to be entrusted with these of the public.

We clip the above from last week's Northern Tier Gazette, and while we fully endorse all that is said of the new appointee, we sincerely regret that Mr. MUNN could not have been induced to remain in charge of the Poor House, as he possesses in an eminent degree qualities requisite for the position.

ALMOST A FIRE.—Yesterday at the close of the morning service at the churches, people were seen hurrying in the direction of Eastbrook's block. Investigation disclosed the fact that a fire had started on the third floor in the G. A. R. hall. It was discovered and an alarm given which promptly brought the fire company with engine and hose carts, but before they could get in position the flames were subdued by the application of a few pails of water. The fire had burned a box containing sawdust, which was used for a spittoon, and a hole through the floor told the story of its origin. A short time longer and the flames would have spread between floor and ceiling and over the building. Fortunately but little damage was done and the crowd dispersed very soon. The Post met on Saturday night and the janitor had not looked after the "old sojors" as he should, if they were to be thrown into such a tinder box. WILL.

Athens, April 4.

Nothing like the Comedy and American Four consolidated variety show which has been crowding the Buckingham to the utmost during the past week has been seen here this season. The combination gives as good, if not better, show than Tony Pastor brings with him. The bill played throughout is one continuation of good things. The combination opened Monday night to the largest house ever seen in the theatre; many being unable to gain admission. The bill opened with a roaring sketch with Joe Pettingill as the negro. The olio was opened by the Parker Sisters, the most refined lady song-and-dance artistes living. Georgie Parker is simply too beautiful and petite for anything. Andy Collins' banjo act brought him four or five encores nightly. He has no equal. Murphy and Mack's Irish sketch is a screamer.—The American four simply break up the house every night. Miss Carrie Howard is one of the best serio-comics on the American stage. In short the entire bill is a repetition of good things and must be seen to be appreciated.—Louisville Argus, Jan. 10, 1881.

Will appear in Mercur Hall to-morrow evening. Admission 25 cents; reserved seats 15 cents extra. Tickets for sale at KIRBY'S.
