BURTON STRAIT BRADFORD, foster son of LEVI D. BRADFORD of Troy, died in the asylum at Rochester, Minn., on the 8th ult., aged 33 years.

The Troy Rod and Gun Club is expecting a quantity of land-lock salmon from the state Fish Commissioner with which to stock different streams and ponds in western Bradford.

Mr. Leoues has taken Mr. Bostwick's house on Pine street.

It has been reported that the Wyalusing Star had disappeared from the newspaper firmament, but not so. It appears that its brilliancy was only obstructed for a short period by another planet, known as "Henry," a sort of comet that rushed across the path of the Star and attempted to usurp the right of way.—Athens Gazette.

Is it plagiarism or only a coincidence? We find the following in the New York daily News:

WHO IS WHICH?

[Charlotte Porter of Towanda calls the attention of the Philadelphia Times to this flagrant "literary coincidence."]

A WINTER FANTASY.

Your veil is thick, and none would know
The pretty face it quite obscures;
But if you foot it through the snow,
Distrust those little boots of yours.

The tell-tale snow, a sparkling mold,
Says where they go and whence they came;
Lightly they touch its carpet cold,
And where they touch they sign your name.

Who runs may read! On twinkling feet,
You trip where all may soon detect you;
And where, still rosy-cold, you meet
The nested Loves—they quite expect you!
—Frederick Locker.

In T. B. Aldrich's "Lyrics and Sonnets" the twenty-second lyric (p. 41) is as follows:

A WINTER PIECE.

Beneath the heavy veil you wear,
Shielded from jealous eyes you go;
But of your pretty feet have care,
If you should venture through the snow.

How'er you tread, a dainty mold
Betrays that light foot all the same;
Upon this glistening, snowy fold,
At every step it signs your name.

Thus guided, one might come too close
Upon the slyly-hidden nest,
Where Psyche, with her cheek's cold rose,
On Love's warm bosom lies at rest.

Judge STALFORD, Col. J. A. CODDING and Rev. D. CRAFT, the commissioners appointed to view and report on the independent district at Sayre made a favorable report, leaving out most of the Cayuta district, upon the petition of the citizens of that district. The boundary on the north is along the state line east to the road on the east line of the COYKENDALL farm, thence along the road and straight to the creek, and from there to the river.

EDWARD HINE, of the Liverpool Mercury is willing to risk his reputation on the assertion that "the worst case of small-pox can be cured in three days simply by the use of cream tartar. One ounce of cream tartar dissolved in a pint of water, drank at intervals when cold, is a certain never-failing remedy. It has cured thousands, never leaves a mark, never causes blindness, and avoids tedious lingering."
