The case of HUNT vs. the Borough of Mon-roeton, tried before Judge MORROW this week, was on action brought to recover dam-ages on account of an injury sustained by the plaintiff. He alleged that while walking on the side walk in Monroeton one night last fall, he stepped into a hole, fell and broke his leg. The defense set up was that HUNT was intox-icated and stepped or fell off the walk, causing the accident. Arbitrators awarded $750 damages to HUNT, but the jury found no cause of action.

Can any of our young readers answer this: What is that which has three feet, but no legs, is all body, but no limbs, has no toes on its feet, no head, moves a great deal and never uses its feet for that purpose, has one foot at each end and the other in the centre of its body? This is a queer creature in some re-spects, and is very popular among the ladies and some men. It never walks out, but goes with one foot where its head might be, drag-ging the other foot behind. These feet have nails, but no toes, no heels and no bones in the foot.

The Courier, published at Bath, N. Y., prints the following obituary of the late Mrs. BAKER:

Mrs. Baker was the daughter of Hon. Jos. C. Powell, of Towanda, Pa., in whose family she was tenderly reared until her marriage to Mr. Baker twenty-four years ago. Since that time her residence has been in this county, and nearly all of this period she has been a resident of Bath. She united with the Pres-byterian Church here in 1860, under the min-istry of Rev. W. E. Jones, and her character has been such as to commend the faith that she then professed. To her natural energy and enterprise and persistency she added many of the fruits of the spirit, and in her home-life her Christian love and zeal and trust were continually manifest. Her hus-band and two sons have lost from their pres-ence one whose quiet and unceasing power for good was to them a force of which they were always conscious, but which had in it nothing repulsive. The light which rays out from such a life reaches farther to convey more of its genial warmth to other lives than we are apt to be aware of. We would love to see such a spirit as that which she posses-sed becoming more generally diffused, for nothing but good would come of it. During her last illness, which kept her confined to her room for three months, she was a con-stant sufferer, but was constantly staying her-self on Him whom she had trusted hitherto, and was often heard calling upon Him as one with whom she was in the habit of holding the most intimate fellowship. And now that she has fought the good fight and has finished her course, having kept the faith, let us re-joice that for her there is a crown of right-eousness and of glory which fadeth not away.

Monroe.

Newt. Rhinevault is not more than half well this Spring. The weather must do some-thing for him and he must take care of him-self. There are quite a number on the defec-tive list this Spring, but none of them have yet asked for leave of absence.

Spring has come certain, for I saw old Elder Alden full forty rods from the grotto on his two canes. There were some blue birds there also.

George Chubbuck's little "Charlie" is just five months old, weighs twenty-five pounds and is a perfect picture of health; but not so handsome as to perfectly spoil it. Then there is Johnnie Jones' "George," a healthy little specimen of our stock, four months old and just as fine as silk. Please trot out your im-proved specimens all round and let us have a look at them through the REVIEW, and say a word or two about it when we have nothing else to talk about. N. D. P.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.—E. S. Thurber has provided himself with a suitable "rig" and is now prepared to deliver all kinds of packages, goods, trunks, &c., on the shortest notice and at reasonable rates. Orders left at Stevens & Long's and Dye & Co.'s will re-ceive prompt attention.

Baggage and parcels hauled to and from depots. 4-12

The Rival hanging lamp, in brass and nickel at C. P. Welles' crockery store.

A FINE HORSE.—The celebrated stallion, so widely and favorable known, "George Henry Patchem," owned by ROBT. ARNOLD of this place, is looking very fine this Spring and presents a splendid appearance on the road. He deserves and will receive the pat-ronage of persons desiring to raise large, fine and first-class horses. His size is great, so that if you fail to get stock of great speed you will surely get valuable horses for service. Our best horsemen admit that he shows a 2:30 clip. The especial attention of farmers and horsemen is called to this horse.

Boys watches that will run, only 25 cents at the 99c store.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELERS.—Special in-ducements are offered you by the BURLING-TON ROUTE. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found elsewhere in this issue.
