Get your couches, sofas, easy chairs—everything in the upholstery line repaired at Ottarson's, Bridge street.

We erred Saturday in naming the amount which WALTER TRACY received for "Tom Moore." The figures should have read $350.

RUNDELL, of the market under the REVIEW office is preparing for warm weather by the erection of a commodious "cooler" on the south side of his building which will be accessible from the market through a door.

Few communities can boast more fine looking and valuable farm horses than can be found in the country surrounding this place. Our streets were lined on Saturday with teams most of which would have done credit to the celebrated horse districts of France.

In commenting on the recent sale of the property at Cape May Point which was fitted up a few years ago by the Presbyterians as a religious summer resort, the New York Times remarks:—"The chief reason why Presbyterians cannot form successful seaside associations is, however, the unquestionable fact that Presbyterianism is a mountainous, or at all events an inland faith. Born among the Waldensian hill tribes, it reached its most vigorous growth among the Swiss mountains and in the rugged fastnesses of Scotland.—Congregationalism, which is merely Presbyterianism passed through a coarse sieve and with less coherence among its particles, flourishes only in the inland and hilly parts of New England, and has been unable to keep its hold on Boston and the seaport towns.—In this country the true Scotch Presbyterianism of the grim covenanting type is found almost exclusively among the Allegheny Mountains and Presbyterianism of every kind has gradually receded from the coast line, and flourishes to any marked degree only in the interior of the country. It may be regarded as an established fact that an altitude of 800 feet above the sea is the lowest limit of the zone of Presbyterianism, and that it does not grow with real vigor below the altitude of 1000 feet. We can thus readily see why it is unwise and almost impossible to establish a Presbyterian seaside resort. We might as well expect the mountain ash to flourish in the sand of the sea beach. Methodism, which has never flourished at any great height above the sea is essentially a sea-coast faith, and is perfectly at home at Ocean Grove or anywhere within sound of the surf."

A FINE HORSE.—The celebrated stallion, so widely and favorably known, "George Henry Patchem," owned by ROBT. ARNOLD of this place, is looking very fine this Spring and presents a splendid appearance on the road. He deserves and will receive the patronage of persons desiring to raise large, fine and first-class horses. His size is great, so that if you fail to get stock of great speed you will surely get valuable horses for service. Our best horsemen admit that he shows a 2:30 clip. The especial attention of farmers and horsemen is called to this horse.

Boys watches that will run, only 25 cents at the 99c store.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELERS.—Special inducements are offered you by the BURLINGTON ROUTE. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found elsewhere in this issue.

WANTED.—A reliable person to take care of a house and grounds. Apply to R. A. Mercur, Esq.

Wanted to rent, immediately, a small house, or rooms suitable for a small family. Inquire at this office.
