The buildings upon the farm of Isaac Morley, who lives just below this place on the west side, were destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The fire was communicated to the dry grass by a passing engine, and in a few minutes spread to the buildings, which consisted of a fine house, a barn and wagon barn. The furniture was taken out of the house, which was unoccupied at the time, but seventy bushels of wheat and five tones of hay were burned. Thus in an hour the home of a veteran of over ninety-two years is laid waste, but he has lived around with his children for some time, only keeping the old homestead furnished ready for use.
Athens, Pa., Apl. 18, '81. WILL.

Here is a receipt for home-made cream candy: One coffee cup of white sugar, one or two tablespoonfuls of water, enough to make it dissolve nicely as it heats. Boil without stirring, in a bright tin pan, until it will crisp in water like molasses candy. Just before it is done put in a tablespoonful of extract of vanilla and a quarter of a tablespoonful of cream of tartar. When sufficiently done pour into a buttered pan and when cool enough to handle work it as you would molasses candy, until it is perfectly white; and then stretch, and lay on a marble slab, or if you have to use the moulding board, put buttered papers over it, and with a chopping knife, cut it into mouthfuls and set away until it creams, which it will do as it dries out. If it grains before it is done or before you have a chance to pull it, put it back into the pan and pour water on it, and boil it over again.
