

The Farmer Feedeth All.

My lord rides through his palace gate,
My lady sweeps along in state,
The sage thinks long on many a thing,
And the maiden muses on marrying;
The minstrel harpeth merrily,
The sailor plows the foaming sea,
The huntsman kills the good red deer,
And the soldier wars without a fear;
But fall to each whate'er befall,
The farmer he must feed them all.

Smith hammereth cheerily the sword,
Priest preacheth pure and holy word,
Dame Alice worketh broidery well,
Clerk Richard tales of love can tell;
The tap-wife selis her foaming beer,
Dan Fisher fishes in the mere,
And courtiers ruffie, strut and shine,
While pages bring the Gascon wine;
But fall to each whate'er befall,
The farmer he must feed them all.

Man builds his castles fair and high,
Whatever river runneth by,
Great cities rise in evrey land,
Great churches show the builder's hand;
Great arches, monuments and towers,
Fair palaces and pleasing bowers,
Great work is dond, be't here and there,
And well man worketh every where;
But work or rest, whate'er befall,
The farmer he must feed them all.

WONDERFUL TREES.—The fir tree growths of Puget Sound form one of the wonders of the American world. They average 200 feet in height, and some specimens have been cut that measured 320 feet in length and twelve feet in diameter at the base, with a straight and well proportioned log to the length of 90 feet to the first limb. The cedar trees are in like proportion, and are most valuable for wooden wares of all kinds, while the firs are best for spar and ship timber of any yet found in any country. There are few nations that do not use them in shipbuilding. One-fourth the wealth of San Francisco was culled from the firs of Puget Sound while the government slept, and to-day all the principal mill owners who saw and prepared for market from 100 to 200,000 feet a day to each mill—and there are thirty or more mills—are residents of San Francisco, where they invest their profits, to the great injury of the residents of the Sound. There is, apparently, no exhaustion of the timber, and a century will elapse before Puget Sound forests will be cleared of their immense resources of varied tree growth.

"Fear not thou faithful Christian; fear not, at the appointed time, to descend into the tomb. Thy soul thou mayest trust with thy omnipotent Redeemer, who is Lord of the unseen world, 'who has the keys of hell and death.' Most safely mayest thou trust thy better part in those beneficent hands which were pierced with nails and fastened to the ignominious tree for thy salvation. With regard to thy earthly tabernacle, be not dismayed. It is taken down only to be rebuilt on a diviner plan and in a more heavenly form. If it retires into the shadow of death and lies immured in the gloom of the grave, it is only to return from a short confinement to endless liberty. If it falls into dissolution, it is to rise more illustrious from its ruins, and wear an infinitely brighter face of perfection and glory."—Rev. James Hervey.

A barren world does not suddenly become a garden of beauty. Slowly and patiently, season after season, its furrows must be turned and the seed sown again and again. Great marshes are to be drained, wide forests felled, rocks rent asunder and borne away, desert places enriched, the whole work done by an invisible Spirit working through human hands. Centuries pass before a great continent yields its riches to the hand of the cultivator, before its barrenness becomes wholly fruitful; shall we look for a quicker harvest of divine graces and virtues out of the hard heart of the world?—Christian Union.

HOPE.—What makes it possible for any of us to bear the sight of suffering in those dear to us? What could it be but hope? Hope of healing and purification through suffering; hope of rescue at any cost for the lost; hope learned from Him who not only loved the world enough, through all its sinning, to give Himself for it, but hoped for it enough to deem the joy set before Him of saving it from its sin well worth the cross? They through hope able to be patient; are through patience learning to hope.

A FEW FACTS

in regard to the White Sewing Machine.

It is an acknowledged fact that the White Sewing Machine now stands pre-eminent among first-class machines, for its simplicity and light-running qualities.

It is a mechanical fact that the White Sewing Machine is made from the best material and of excellent workmanship, and all its wearing parts are adjustable, so that lost motion can be "taken up" in an instant.

It is an undisputed fact that the durability of the White Sewing Machine is sustained by a written warranty for five years.

It is a progressive fact that the White embodies the most practical and useful improvements of other sewing machines, together with advantages peculiarly its own.

It is a money-making fact that the White is the easiest-selling selling machine in the market, and therefore all wide-awake dealers make it their specialty.

It is a gratifying fact that the White gives universal satisfaction, and that it is steadily and rapidly increasing in public favor.

CAUTION.

Do not be imposed upon by agents and parties who are interested in the purchase and sale of other machines. It has become a common trick for unscrupulous competitors to get a White machine and put it in bad order so that they might prejudice purchasers against it and in favor of their own machines. To guard against such contemptible trickery, we advise all intending purchasers to correspond with us direct, and we will take pleasure in giving them the address of a regular authorized dealer for the "White" in their county, or we will offer to sell them a machine direct at special prices, and guarantee satisfaction in every respect.
