The conduct of Senators Conkling and Platt, is utterly indefensible from any standpoint. They were chosen, as Republicans, to represent the great State of New York in the U. S. Senate. At a critical moment, actuated by personal pique they resign their seats, depriving their State of representation in the body, and giving the Democrats a majority—a situation which might embarrass the administration, and work incalculable harm to the Republican organization. And for what? Simply because the President saw fit to make a nomination for an important office in New York—a position, by the way, in which the whole nation is as much interested as the Empire State, without consulting Messrs. Conkling and Platt. Is the disposition of offices and the patronage of the administration the paramount interest with the Senators? If so why not provide in some other manner for the necessary legislation of the country and then such boyish pranks as these gentlemen have indulged in would not be so much concern to the people and would not disgrace the Congress of the United States in the eyes of the civilized world. Much as we may respect the ex-Senators, we hope the legislature will proceed to choose successors who have more common sense.

The President and Senator Conkling.

EDITORS REVIEW.—The people are intensely interested in the fight waged by Conkling, in the Senate, against the President's choice for Collector of the Port of New York. Senator Conkling would mislead the Senate and the people into the belief that he has been badly treated by the President. That it is "Imperialism," and unlawful use of power for the President to remove a Collector with whom no especial fault is found, and to appoint another eminently fitted for the position, of the President's own choice. But we believe the people know better. They will not be deceived. The strife in the Senate though ostensibly about the confirmation or rejection of Judge Robertson for Collector, means more than this to the people. It means absolute power over appointments in their respective States by the Senators from those States. It means a precedent that will hereafter tie the hands of the President in regard to appointments, or it means the lawful use by the President of his constitutional right of appointments, and the privilege of using his free and unqualified judgment in regard to them. It means that the established right of one or two Senators from any one state to rule the whole Senate, through the pernicious custom of "Senatorial Courtesy" or it will mean that the Senate of the United States does not think it proper for one Senator of a great state like New York, to control the whole patronage or his state. As we said at the outset, the people are interested, and they uphold the President in the course he has taken. If the voice of the people could be heard and heeded by our Senators at Washington, Mr. Conkling would be doomed to ignominious defeat. GAMBETTA.

The appointment of women as Postmistresses and their election as members of school committees have been familiar for many years. Now the Governor of Indiana enlarges the list of their public functions by making them notaries public. There is good reason to believe that, with the progress of years, women will fairly divide with men the various office duties of public station, just as they now enter into many of the trades and into all the professions.

DR. A. E. BURR'S HOMOEOPATHIC LUNG SYRUP.

This remedy is something new, both as to name and composition. This is one of the wonders of the world. This Syrup, I claim, is better and more effective than any other ever offered to the people of America or any other country, and what I say of this I can prove. This Syrup, like the Pills, is harmless and safe. It contains no opium or other narcotic poison, like the most Syrup, and is not disagreeable to take. Any child will take it. And it will cure any and all inflammations arising from Cold. It is superior to all others in every respect and especially for the following reasons:

- 1st. It will cure Croup every time.
- 2d. It will cure Inflammation of the Lungs.
- 3d. It will cure Quinsy.
- 4th It will cure Whooping Cough.
- 5th It will cure Bronchitis.
- 6th It will cure Hoarseness.
- 7th It will cure Sore Throat.
- 8th It will cure any Cold.
- 9th It will cure Congestion of the Lungs.
- 10th It will cure any Cough.
- 11th It will cure Scarlet Fever.
- 12th. It is the best remedy that any one can take for Consumption, and if taken in the first stage I will guarantee a cure.
- 13th. It is perfectly safe for all ages as there is nothing in its composition that can harm a child.
