JUD WALBORN, of Bath, N. Y., is visiting his parents in this place.

Dr. ED. A. MULLAM, of Chicago, is visiting his mother in Monroeton.

Miss HATTIE LYNCH, of Wilkesbarre, is visiting her friend Mrs. W. H. HAWES, at Monroeton.

Dr. RUFUS G. MASON, of Duncan Falls, Ohio, is visiting friends in this county, where he formerly resided.

CHARLES SEELY was in Elmira yesterday. When he leaves Towanda a good deal of it is gone.—Free Press.

Rev. Mr. FUGETTE, of Blossburg, who is visiting his daughter at Myersburg, was in town yesterday and honored the REVIEW office with a call.

THOMAS KELLEY, a laboring man, who passed through this place on Monday, on his way from the Old Country, was sunstruck at Barclay, yesterday. Dr. HILLS, who attended him, says he fears he will not recover.

We learn that Superintendent JUDD, who has so efficiently administered the affairs of the Barclay Company for some years past, is to be transferred from this place to some other (and more lucrative we presume) position with the Erie Railway Company, on the first of June, and that FRANK LYON, Superintendent of mines will be promoted to the place.

"My Wayward Pardner," for $2 at Whitcomb's book store.

A party of Philadelphia gentlemen interested in the Long Valley Coal Co., are to visit the mines there to-day.

The Revised edition of the New Testament in three different styles and ranging in price from 20 cents to $1 25, just received at Whitcomb's book store.

We had intended to give our readers this morning a short account of the visit of President CLAGHORN and his guests to the Loyal Sock colliery yesterday, but we are compelled to defer the article till to-morrow.

The Greenback County Committee will meet in this place on the 10th of June to choose delegates to the State Convention which assembles in Reading, on the 16th and 17th of the same month.

Mr. Griffith, (late of South America) will deliver an Illustrated Lecture on Patagonia, Chili and Peru, in the Universalist Church to-night (Friday 27th.) Tickets for sale at Whitcomb's Book store, 15 & 10c.

As an evidence that the circulation of the REVIEW is not confined to the borough as some mistakenly imagine, Mr. DELPEUCH, who advertised in our columns for a farm hand, informs us that the notice not only brought him a good man, but quite a number of applications after he had hired him. The reader will also find an advertisement of a girl wanted by a lady in Black Walnut, Wyoming county, which shows that the REVIEW is read outside of Bradford county. We refer to this subject to correct an erroneous impression that the daily is not of much account as an advertising medium except here at home, where it is admitted everybody reads it.

Died on the 19th inst., at the house of her son WILLIAM, Mrs MEHITABLE KELLOG, aged 76 years. Mrs. K. was a native of Hartford, Connecticut, and came here with her parents when only 16 years of age. She was married to MOSES KELLOG in 1824 and has ever since lived in the house where she died, about three miles above Monroeton on the South Branch. In the same room in which she died, our townsman, Col. G. F. MASON and his estimable wife (who was a sister of the deceased) were married. Mrs. KELLOG was a woman who in over half a century of residence in one neighborhood, had no enemies. Her life was pure and earnest for good. A faithful friend and good neighbor, and truly christian woman, she passed onward in full faith in her immortality and in the infinite wisdom, justice and mercy of our One All Father.

Several years since Col. E. J. AYERS of Macedonia, contracted with Mr. BRAMHALL who was then doing business here, for two wagons with the understanding as he alleges, that the vehicles were to be paid for in vinegar at a stipulated price per gallon. Soon after the transaction, and before one of the wagons had been delivered, BRAMHALL failed in business and his book accounts passed into the hands of B. W. LANE, and he brought suit to recover balance due. Mr. AYER contended that he had lost largely by reason of Mr. BRAMHALL'S not taking the vinegar, and that he never got but one of the wagons. The case was tried before G. H. VANDYKE, Esq., E. J. ANGLE, and JOHN W. CODDING arbitrators Wednesday. R. A. MERCUR and J. P. KEENEY appeared for the plaintiff, and Gen. MADILL for the defendant. The award was for the plaintiff for $128.

JAS. MCCABE has a new delivery wagon.

MARRIED.

FWLER—MULLAN—At the home of the bride in Monroeton, May 25th, by Rev. Hallock Armstrong, Mr. Edward F. Fowler and Miss Lizzie Winnifred Mullen.

A succession of refreshing showers heralded the coming nuptials of ED. and LIZZIE, furnishing music and pyrotechnics in advance and arraying all nature in smiling robes. A succession of beautiful rainbows spanned the heavens, harbinger and promise of future abundance and happiness. In harmony with nature, the company was large and joyous, and arrayed in robes only less brilliant than those which the robes of Solomon in all his glory could not rival. The presents were numerous, appropriate, and best of all came from loving hearts and willing hands. H.A.
