TOWANDA, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 31, 1881.

PRICE ONE CENT.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Personal.

J. N. CALIFF started for Minnesota on a business trip yesterday.

N. S. FRAZER, of Wyalusing, made us an agreeable call yesterday.

J. H. HOWARD and wife, of Wyalusing, have gone to Scranton on a pleasure trip, driving the whole distance and taking their leisure along the route.

It will afford the hosts of friends of BEN WAKEMAN in this place real joy to hear that he was the recipient from his father the other day of the snug sum of $20,000.

H. L. HORTON, Esq., the New York banker, has purchased the handsome residence of the late W. H. MORGAN, on Main street and presented it to his sister, Mrs. W. M. SHORES.

JAMES BOTHWELL, of Alba, reached his 75th birthday on Tuesday last and celebrated the event by making a feast to which his children, grand children and other relations were invited.

Mrs. JOS. D. MONTANYE has been overtaken by a strange misfortune, the total loss of the sight of one eye. It was accompanied by no pain. All at once she discovered that vision was gone.

Miss IDA MORGAN, daughter of our townsman, CHARLES MORGAN, is teaching her first term of school in the FISHER district, Towanda township. She is, we are pleased to learn, succeeding splendidly, and is highly spoken of by the Superintendent, parents and pupils.

R. A. PACKER, R. F. GOODMAN, of Sayre H. ELMER, Waverly, JOHN. TAYLOR, Mauch Chunk, C. A. WORDEN, Auburn, W. P. HEWEY Vera Cruz—gentlemen connected with the Lehigh Valley, Alleghany and Pennsylvania and Southern R. Rs. are here on Mr PACKER'S elegant yacht, Emilie, bound for Chicago, Oswego Palladium.

On Monday last at the residence of S. S. LOCKWOOD, MR. ANSEL OLMSTEAD, of Ulster, Pa., and Miss MYRA COLE of Nichols, N. Y., were united in matrimony, Rev. A. W. HOOD officiating. "ANSE" is one of the most genial of gentlemen, and richly deserves his excellent wife. We extend to them our congratulations.—Elmira Telegram

MR. KAVNAUGH'S green houses grow more handsome and attractive every day. Mr. K. is an experienced florist and moreover possesses excellent taste in the selection and arrangement of plants and flowers. He had a magnificent Palm the other evening which was greatly admired. Mrs. E. H. SMITH was the fortunate purchaser. The ladies we know will enjoy a visit to his gardens, and he takes great pleasure in showing them around.

MR. HAMPSON, the gentleman whom the REVIEW endorsed for Inspector of Mines for this district a few days ago, has been appointed. After passing an excellent examination he was largely indebted to O. D. KINNEY, for his success. His selection reflects credit upon the Governor as it secures for the responsible position an intelligent, conscientious gentleman, who will discharge all his duties with fidelity to employers and employees.

The circus is here.

Bishop HOWE will visit this parish and officiate at Christ Church to-morrow evening.

MR. MILLER has sold the horse he recently purchased of Mr. FITCH to an Elmira gentleman for $225.

Decoration Day was observed here yesterday in a very becoming manner. At 3 o'clock all business was suspended and our people generally in an orderly and reverent manner joined in the solemn services conducted by the Grand Army. The floral monument dedicated to comrades whose graves are unknown was very beautiful. After performing the customary rites in the cemetery, the procession was marched to Mercur Hall, (a heavy shower preventing the completion of the programme out doors), where Rev. C. T. HALLOWELL delivered an able and patriotic address, Mr. LEGRAND BREWER read an original poem, and the balance of the programme as published yesterday, was executed. Everything passed off smoothly and harmoniously. The organization of a Company of soldiers' sons to take part in the exercises, was very appropriate and added interest to the occasion.

On the night of Friday, the 6th of May, a horse was stolen from the premises of FRANK TOWNER, near Rome, Pa. The next day the thief was captured at Owego, by Sheriff ROBERTSON, and lodged in the Towanda jail. When he was asked for his name, he said it was FRANK TWEESER, and remarked that it was a good enough name for that job. He said he lived in Pennsylvania; also said he lived in Albion. Mr. TOWNER and the officer in Owego searched for the horse but could not find it.

On Sunday last JOHN SMITH, Jr., had occasion to go into a piece of woods on his farm on the hill just back of the narrows on the other side of the river, where he found a horse hitched to a tree nearly starved to death. The horse was identified as the one belonging to Mr. TOWNER, which had been stolen on the 6th of May. The horse had had nothing to eat in sixteen days but what it could get around the tree, and when found could scarcely walk.—Owego Times.

The large number of parents and friends who were present at the closing exercises of the Graded School Friday afternoon must have been very gratifying evidence to Prof. BURGAN and his assistants, that their onerous labors are appreciated.

The exercises were in the main highly creditable to teachers and pupils. The choruses were without exception well rendered. The instrumental duet by MAUD ALLEN and FRANKIE KUYKENDALL and the vocal duet by FRANKIE TURNER and EVA STEPHENS, won the young Misses much credit. A dialogue, "Little Mushrooms," by three little girls, was a pleasing feature. A motion song by the "C Primary" grade was prettily executed and well received.

The recitations were fine, particularly those of MAUD SKIFF and little LIZZIE MERCUR. EVAN MUIR declaimed "The Execution of Montrose" well. A wand exercise by the "B Junior" grade, showed much careful training. A solo by Miss ROSA BOARDMAN was enthusiastically applauded.

The most prominent performance was a dialogue by the members of the Senior classes, the girls, part decorated in "blue" and part in "gray," representing the several states of the Union, spoke first in order of the original thirteen then in order of the admission.

After the final chorus, the names of 164 pupils who had successfully passed the examination for promotion were read.

WEATHER INDICATIONS FOR TO-DAY.—Warm, south to west winds, fair weather, followed during the afternoon or evening by cooler north to east winds, local rains and rising barometer.
