W. A. CHAMBERLIN and Postmaster POWELL were out fishing for black bass yesterday, agreeably with the provisions of the statute in such case made and provided, but they were not very successful.

PATCH & TRACY purchased a ton and a half of butter Tuesday, and that evening received by mail orders for the whole of it.

On cleaning out R. A. PACKER's private fish pond recently, there were found two mammoth gold fish, each of which measured fully ten inches in length. Mr. P. is going to restock the pond with carp, a new fish that is growing into favor.

A little son of Dr. H., of Barclay, varied the closing sentence of that beautifully appropriate prayer for use by children, "Now I lay me," &c., the other evening in this quite practical if not reverent manner: "God bless me, Papa, Mama, brother and sister and JIM —, for the two sticks of candy he gave me to-day. Amen."

An excursion association for the present season has just been formed at Wyalusing, known as the Wyalusing Excursion Association, which having obtained reduced rates of fare purpose to run three excursions this season. One to New York will start the 21st instant, occupying a week. The Association appears to be a strong one, being made up by the Presbyterian and Methodist societies and the Cornet Band of that village.

Bishop HOWE was at Christ Church last evening. There were in the chancel with him, the Rector, Rev. J. S. BEERS, Rev. G. P. HOPKINS and Rev. G. D. STROUD. The Bishop delivered a very able and impressive discourse, from the text, "But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord." The theme was the duty of christians to live in constant communion with God. At the close of the sermon the rite of confirmation was administered to a class of ten. The Bishop is the guest of M. C. MERCUR and will remain in town until this evening. This morning he will baptize the infant child of Rev. G. F. ROSENMILLER, Rector of Athens and Sayre.

CHANGE OF ADMINISTRATION.—Supt. J. B. JUDD of the Barclay railroad, was yesterday relieved by F. F. LYON, superintendent of mines of the same company. Mr. JUDD has had the superintendency for a number of years. He is one of the best railroad men in the country, having been in the employ of the Erie Company for a long period. He was conductor on the ill-fated train which was wrecked at Carr's Rock some twelve years ago. During his residence in Towanda he has won many friends, and has faithfully and efficiently discharged his duties as superintendent of the Barclay branch of the Erie road. We are not advised of his plans for the future, but have no doubt he will be offerred a more lucrative position. Men of his experience and ability are not numerous, and have no trouble in finding profitable employment. We shall regret to have him leave town.

The new superintendent, Mr. LYON, is a gentleman who has had considerable experience in the management of coal mines; he is an educated mining engineer, having pursued his studies at Lafayette College, Easton. When the mines were opened at Bernice he was appointed engineer, and retained the position for five years, since which time he has been employed in the same capacity at Barclay. For the past two years he has with great acceptability superintended the mines, and we understand will continue to discharge the duties of that position, in addition to the general superintendency of the road. He is a self-made man, and his steady promotion is the best evidence of his fitness and fidelity. We congratulate him on this new evidence of appreciation of his valuable services on the part of the company.

The subject of the following item which we clip from the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle, formerly worked in this place and is a brother of our townsmen, A. F. and H. A. COWLES:

Charles H. Cowles is a compositor who has for nearly a year been employed in the Democrat and Chronicle printing office, says that paper. He has been afflicted for thirty-seven years with serious and increasing deafness. Sunday evening while eating his supper, he suddenly began to hear sounds which he had not heard since the fourth year of his age, when he was rendered deaf by a severe attack of scarlet fever. The ticking of a clock, the ordinary conversation of people near him and other like sounds fell upon his hearing last evening, bringing with them a grateful hope that his years of deafness were drawing to a close, if not already at an end. This certainly appears to be one of the most remarkable instances of a complete restoration on the part of Nature herself, independent of medical or surgical agencies. Mr. Cowles is a man whose mind is well stored with information, although it was impossible for him to get even a common school education when a child. He was too deaf to acquire any benefit from attending an ordinary school, in which he could not have heard the teacher's instructions, unless they were screamed in his ear. Consequently, when only eleven years of age, he went into a printing office to learn his trade, and acquire an education at the same time. In attaining both of these objects he has been entirely successful, having worked in some of the best newspaper printing offices in the country. He says he feels very happy in this period of restoration to hearing, and he only hopes it may be prolonged. He has never been able to hear a sermon, a lecture, or other of the entertaining and instructive addresses to which the most of mankind may listen when they will. He is to be heartily congratulated upon this favorable and remarkable change.

Rev. Edward Judson, Baptist, has terminated his pastorate over the largest and wealthiest congregation in Orange, N. J., resigning a salary of $5,500 to commence preaching in the down town wards of New York city. It is his ambition to give the poorer classes as good preaching as the wealthy pay for.

MacVeigh and James confer every day this week on the details of the Star route inquiry, preliminary to submitting additional matter to the grand jury. One reason of the slow progress in the presentation of persons for indictment is the difficulty in obtaining evidence to prove a conspiracy. There are indications that some leading contractors propose to turn states evidence.
