In this latitude the sun goes down at night and we retire to our couches and sleep. In the morning the sun returns and we arise to the pursuit of our various daily avocations. But in the Arctic region in the spring the sun never sets. There is no morning and no night. It is one continuous day for months. At first it seems very difficult to understand this strange thing of nature. One never knows when to sleep. The world seems to be entirely wrong and man grows nervous and restless. Sleep is driven from his very eyelids, his appetite fails and all the disagreeable results of protracted vigils are apparent. But gradually he becomes used to this state of affairs, devises means to darken his tent and once more enjoys his hours of rest. In fact, he learns how to take advantage of this new arrangement, and when traveling pursues his journey by night, or when the sun is lowest, because then he finds the frost hardens the snow a great assistance in sledging.

A LESSON IN CIVILITY.—Mr. Harding, of Philadelphia, has been a guest at the Catskill Mountain house for several seasons. He always had the best in the house and paid well for it. One day last summer his little daughter, who was sick wanted some chicken broth, and Mr. Harding requested the proprietor of the Catskill Mountain house to prepare it. "If you want so much waiting on," was the reply, "you had better buy some land and build a hotel yourself." Mr. Harding said: "Well, I declare, I never thought of that before. I believe I will act upon your suggestion." Harding left the Catskill Mountain house soon after this incident and immediately went to work to erect a new house. The result is the Kaaterskill house, situated a short distance from the Catskill Mountain house which contains 520 rooms.

ICE HOT ENOUGH TO SCORCH WATER.—If we remove the air and vapor from the region surrounding a piece of ice and take measures to absorb the fresh vapor with sufficient rapidity, the ice will never melt, even if we apply ever so strong a degree of heat to it. This, incredible as it appears, is really the case, for numerous experiments made by different chemists have conclusively demonstrated the infusibility of ice in a vacuum. It is also extremely probable that the ice actually gets hot—so hot, indeed as to scorch paper in contact with it—but this is not so fully proven.

SINGING SAND.—Dr. Leuz, the traveler, reports having found singing sand in the Sahara. At certain times he heard low murmurings and plaintive sounds in the sandhills of the desert. These sounds would increase and decrease in intensity and cease at last. He explains the phenomenon by differences in the temperature causing the loose grains of sand to hit against one another and make the air reverberate. Travelers often reported having fancied hearing a tolling of distant bells by the side of such sandhills, similar to the sounds produced by waves of a river or a waterfall.

There will be a chance now for those who believe the General Government could fund its maturing 6 and 5 per cents. in a 3 per cent. loan. The State of Pennsylvania is coming for ten millions to take up maturing loans, and the Act of the Legislature gives the State authorities a margin of discretion for the new issue at 4, 3½ or 3 per cent. It will be interesting to see how much money is offered at par for a 3 per cent. loan.

DR. A. E. BURR'S

HOMOEOPATHIC LUNG SYRUP.

This remedy is something new, both as to name and composition. This is one of the wonders of the world. This Syrup, I claim, is better and more effective than any other ever offered to the people of America or any other country, and what I say of this I can prove. This Syrup, like the Pills, is harmless and safe. It contains no opium or other narcotic poison, like the most Syrup, and is not disagreeable to take. Any child will take it. And it will cure any and all inflammations arising from Cold. It is superior to all others in every respect and especially for the following reasons:

- 1st. It will cure Croup every time.
- 2d. It will cure Inflammation of the Lungs.
- 3d. It will cure Quinsy.
- 4th It will cure Whooping Cough.
- 5th It will cure Bronchitis.
- 6th It will cure Hoarseness.
- 7th It will cure Sore Throat.
- 8th It will cure any Cold.
- 9th It will cure Congestion of the Lungs.
- 10th It will cure any Cough.
- 11th It will cure Scarlet Fever.
- 12th. It is the best remedy that any one can take for Consumption, and if taken in the first stage I will guarantee a cure.
- 13th. It is perfectly safe for all ages as there is nothing in its composition that can harm a child.
