A correspondent writing from Union, N. Y., to the Binghamton Tribune says:-"Mr. FRED BROWN, foamerly a drug clerk in Unon, now occupying the position of head clerk in the house of C. B. PORTER, of Towanda, is in town spending a two weeks' vacation .-Mr. Brown is a young man Union is proud to own, and he meets a warm welcome from his many friends heae."

We are sadly pained to learn that our esteemed friend, ex-treasurer Bunyan of Granville, is suffering from a severe paralytic shock sustained last week. His power of speech is gone and one half his body com pletely paralyzed. Mr. BUNYAN is well advanced in years, but his temperate life and abstemious habits have left him with a strong constitution, which we sincerely hope may enable him to overcome his present prostra-

Towarda presented quite a deserted appearance on Monday. Most business places were closed and many proprietors and clerks took advantage of the holiday to visit with their families or go into the country. The the President he fired, aiming, I thought, few gentlemen seen on the street kept clase at the heart and missed him. The Presito the telegraph office, anxious to catch every dent did not appear to notice him, but item of news from Washington.

When the news was received here Saturday evening that the President was dead, the church bells were tolled, emblems of mournchurch bells were tolled, emblems of mourning were displayed from the Republican and ed the police. I held him till some men office of Madill & Kinney; the Grand Army came and lifted him up, He did not flag was displayed at half-mast, and all men speck to me or to any one until a flag was displayed at half-mast, and all men went about the street looking as sad as though | young boy, who I think was his son, came. their own households had been stricken. The interior of the Episcopal church was draped in mourning. The contradiction of the sad No words passed between the President news early Sunday morning seemed almost and the man who did the shooting. ## The President Better.

The President's condition has apparently been improving since Sunday and hopes are entertained that he may yet recover though still in a critical condition. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. NEWELL, of Horn The following official bulletins contain the latest information:

SOME ENCOURAGEMENT!

EXECUTIVE MANSION, 1:15, P. M. There is no material change in the con dition of the President. Dr. Agnew of Philadelphia, who came here to consult with the resident physicians, says that in his judgment there are some features of the case that are extremely encouraging. The kidneys and intestines are entirely uninjured. The liver is lacerated to some extent, and the large nerves leading from the spine to lower extremities h ave been so injured as to cause pain in the feet and the patient is slowly gaining strength to meet rhe secondary inflammation when it occurs. As yet there is no evidence and nothing to indicate that it will be of any extraordinary extent.

JULY 5-8:30, P. M.

The condition of the President continues as favorable as at last bulletin .-His pulse is 106, temperature 100-9 and respiration 24. Another bulletin will be issued to-morrow morning.

HOW IT WAS DONE.

Of those who actually saw the shooting of the President by Charles Guiteau Mrs. White, the woman in charge of the waiting room where the tradgedy occur-Quite a number of local items prepared for red, was the first to reach the wounded President, and she gives the following 50 Costly Presents given away nightly, twice before. One time in particular. I noticed him a few days ago; he promenaded up and down just as he did to day, wiping his face, apparently excited. I thought he was waiting for some friends. This morning he waited here half an hour, walking up and down. There were few people in the room when the shot was fired. All the passengers had gone out. I think there was a gentlemon standing near the door."

4 There is no doubt the assassin is a lunatic and that the bloody deed was premeditated.

Among the numerous messages of condolence forwarded to the White House, were the following:

NEW YORK, July 2.

To the Hon. James G. Blaine, Secretary of State. Washington: Your telegram, with its deplorable narrative, did not reach me promptly, owing to absence. I am profoundly shocked at the dreadful news. The hopes you express relieve somewhat the horror of the first announcement. I wait for further intelligence with the greatest anxiety. Ex-press to the President and those about him my great grief and sympathy, in which the whole American people will join.
C. A. ARTHUR.

GOVERNOR'S ISLAND, N. Y.

To Gen. W. T. Shearman, Washington:—I trust that the assault on the life of the President to-day may not have fatal consequences, and that in the interests of the country the act may be shown to have been that of a madman. Thanks for your dispatch and for your promise of further information.

W. S. HANCOCK. ELBERON, N. J., July 2.

To Secretary Lincoln. Washington: Please dispatch me the condition of the President. News received conflicts. I hope the most favorable may be confirmed. Express to the President my deep sympathy and hope that he may speedily recover. U. S. GRANT.

Queen Victoria also sent expressions of deep sympathy.
