Rev. J. B. FRENCH, of Troy, preached two excellent, logical and practical discourses in the Baptist church here yesterday.

Mrs. F. D. DECKER and daughter META, of New York, are visiting friends in Towanda. They are the guests of Judge PARSONS.

Prof. RYAN, A. J. FISHER and M. E. ROSENFIELD and their wives have gone into the wilds of Sullivan for a week in the woods.

W. L. MOODY of Rome, accompanied by a young lady of Ithaca, visited his mother, Mrs. GEO. KIRBY, Chestnut street, Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. CLARK WILSON are enjoying a little rest at their home in this place. They conducted service at the M. E. Church last evening.

Messrs. HALE, PORTER, PRATT and SMITH deserted their camp near Browntown Saturday and came home, after a week very pleasantly spent.

Senator ROCKWELL and S. H. STANTON of Troy, were in Towanda on Saturday. The last named gentleman called and subscribed for the REVIEW.

GEO. ELWELL, editor of the Bloomsburg Columbia, and his wife are visiting in town. They are the guests of E. W. ELWELL and family, River street.

Capt. MANVILLE's boy already displays his father's characteristics. The young gentleman is not yet a year old but drives a horse, "handling the ribbons" quite skillfully. We expect soon to see him riding the black mare.

Mr. WILL A. RANDALL of New York, traveling representative for this state, of the great hardware house of SARGENT & Co., whose catalogue is nearly as large as a "Webster's Unabridged," was a guest of the Ward House yesterday.

Dr. T. B. JOHNSON, HENRY C. PORTER, C. L. and W. G. TRACY, of this place, ED. SELLECK, of Burlington and FRANK HANNON of Sullivan county, started down the river in boats this morning for a week's fun fishing and hunting. They took with them camp equipment and commissary stores in abundance. NAT YOUNG went along as Cook. Their destination is a point near Wyalusing. We wish them a good time.

Our genial friend and enterprising agriculturalist, W. J. DELPUECH, saw our notice of green corn in the REVIEW the other day and on Saturday called to say he could double discount it. He has had delicious sweet corn from his garden, for the past ten days. In verification of this claim, he left on our table a very generous sample which was discussed and enjoyed at our dinner yesterday with many pleasant thoughts of the thoughtful donor. May he live long and do so often.

Dr. M. M. BROWN, of Syracuse, arrived in town this morning and spent the day on his old bass ground near MCKINNEY'S. He remains here a few days and then goes to Pennsylvania to try his piscatorial skill.—Ithaca Journal. His piscatorial skill is immense. That man can catch bass every time he throws in, while others who fish by his side never get a bite. We know him. His fishing ground is Wyalusing, and he is a brother of Dr. C. W. BROWN, of this city, who is also "some on bass."—Elmira Advertiser.—And now, we should like to know the Dr. opinion in regard to the worms in bass.

SYLVENUS EASTABROOK died at his residence in Elmira yesterday, aged 63 years. He was a brother of A. J. EASTABROOK and resided in this place for several years, as a member of the firm of B. A. PETTIS & Co.

W. H. SNYDER, who was injured by a railroad accident Friday night, died yesterday morning. He was badly burned but the doctor thinks he died of internal injuries. The funeral takes place at ten o'clock this morning. He leaves a wife but no children.

The river is fordable in many places—the drouth having rendered the water very low. Last year it was forded in May, some six weeks earlier than this season. At those points where there is neither bridge nor ferry, the low water is hailed with much interest.

Mr. GOODENOUGH, who for more than a year past has been associated with the proprietors in the publication of this paper, severed his connection therewith on Monday last to accept the business and editorial charge of the Blossburg Register, recently tendered him by HAVENS & Company. The Gazette regrets that duty compels the severing of association so mutually pleasant. The strokes of his graceful pen have often shown resplendent in the columns of this journal; but it is not the loss of the able writer we so much mourn, as the absence of the genial companion, faithful companion and firm friend. "BEN" is known to almost everybody in this vicinity, and to his credit be it said he is known only to be respected and admired. With him acquaintance soon ripens into friendship, and a friend once made is never lost. We feel we are not alone in expressing this regret—all Wellsboro feels the change. We are consoled, however, in the hope that it has been for the best, and that his ability, industry and good nature will be appreciated in Blossburg as they were here. His home is still with us for a little while, but his smiling countenance will henceforth be seldom seen upon our streets.—Wellsboro Gazette.

THE PRESIDENT HAS A RELAPS.

News was received Saturday afternoon to the effect that the President had suffered a serious relaps, and had experienced a chill. The unfavorable news caused much uneasiness, and all day yesterday, crowds of people hung around the telegraph office, anxious to hear the reports. Manager Ward kindly gave the public everything he could get. The following telegrams will explain the symptoms and condition of the President up to 1:30 this morning.

July 24, 10 a. m.—The President was more restless than usual during the night and had another chill just before midnight. This morning at 8:15 his pulse was 98, temperature 98.4, respiration 18. A consultation was held with Dr. Hamilton of New York and Dr. Agnew, of Philadelphia, after which a counter opening was made through the integument of the back about three inches below the wound, which it is hopeful will facilitate the drainage of the pus and increase the chances of recovery. The President bore the operation well. His pulse is now 112.

3 p. m.—There has been no perceptible change in the President's condition since the last un-official bulletin. The favorable reaction which followed the operation is very encouraging to the surgeons, and they consider the President's condition improved. Col. Rockwell, who came from the sick room, says that the President is resting quietly. He says further, "we all feel greatly relieved and hopeful."

7 p. m.—The President has been much relieved by the operation of this morning and the pus has been discharging satisfactorily through the new opening. At noon his pulse was 118, temperature 99.8, respiration 24. At present his pulse is 104, temperature 99.2, respiration 23.

July 25 1:30 a. m.—The President is resting quietly. The physicians are dozing and the members of the household, excepting the watchers in the sick room, are asleep.

We are constantly receiving orders for "Lum Smith's Imitation Stained glass," and are ready to give our patrons the full benefit of an inexpensive and handsome decoration by placing it on any glass whether door or window, large size or small glass, green or white, round or square, in fact any position, shape or kind of frame or glass that needs shading from the rays of the sun, or from the gaze of inquisitive eyes. Thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed since we have received the agency of this Imitation, we shall by a strict attention to business, hoping to merit a continuance of the same. To those who have heard of the "Imitation Glass," and have not seen it, we extend a cordial invitation to examine into its real merits, and ask the prices for which it can be obtained, we are prepared to contract with churches, halls, or other public buildings, and warrant all of our work to surpass in beauty the genuine stained glass and our prices are less than one-fourth the cost of the same.
