High Heels.

Among the many silly get-ups and fashions of the present age—and they are numerous—none is more ridiculous or abominable than the rage for high heel shoes. This barbarous custom has run to such an extreme and resulted in so much suffering and poor health, especially spinal affections, that the physicians are loudly and justly protesting against the dangerous practice. Ladies particularly are the great sufferers, but occasionally cases of men becoming invalids by this idiotic custom are reported. The idea of setting the heel up from 1½ to 2 inches higher than is natural, wedging the toes into a tight narrow space, jocking the knees forward like a knee-sprung horse, kincking the back and in short destroying the equilibrium of the well-balanced and systematically formed physical structure, shows not only a total disregard of the laws of health and beauty, but also a lack of good sense. It is tiresome, causes pains, weakens the system, paves the way for many ailments and breaks down many a robust person. Vain mothers subject innocent children to this cruel torture, deforming feet and body and making wrecks of them in early life. Fashion is at the bottom of it. It is one of those abominable French get-ups, of which we have entirely too much for our comfort or good. We are glad that the medical fraternity are awakened and combatting the evil and we hope parents seeing the alarming situation may act in the matter. If something is not done, it might be well to form a society in the interest of those sufferers, get legislative enactments against the manufacture of stilt like heels and a penalty for making them.

Attorney General Palmer has secured one victory in the legislative salary question. The judges of Dauphin county have declared the law under which members drew more than a thousand dollars, unconstitutional. The case will be carried to the Supreme Court, but probably will not get before that tribunal until next spring. In the meantime the "boys" will have to get along without the coveted $500 extra pay. In closing an exhaustive opinion, the judges concluded: "We are, therefore, clearly of opinion that so much of the act of the eleventh of May, 1874, already cited, as pretends to give daily pay, in addition to a fixed sum, to members of the Legislature, is unconstitutional and void. It would be unlawful for the State treasurer to pay it; this court cannot enforce payment by mandamus, and the same must be refused. We leave out of view every question of policy or expediency. Those are questions for the Legislature alone, over which the judiciary has no control, and no right or disposition to pass judgment."

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat would not advocate anything so absurd as that passengers should be shipped "at so much per hundred pounds, as cattle and hogs are shipped," but its notion is that "if 200 pounds of beef or pork can be carried from the Mississippi to the seaboard for 50 cents, a man might be hauled over the same distance for considerably less than fifty times as much." What the Globe-Democrat wants to show is that a permanent reduction in rates would pay the trunk lines by increasing travel. In the meantime, while the companies are thinking it over there are people who have an indisputable and clearly marked right to claim the hog rate when they travel.

A young lady of Johnstown, N. Y., while bathing at Chautauqua Lake, had a novel experience. A snapping turtle caught her by the ear. Her screams brought friends to her assistance, or she would certainly have been drowned; but the turtle's grip was like a bull dog's, and after his head had been cut off it took ten minutes to pry the jaws apart. It will take a good deal of the poetry out of bathing in Chautauqua Lake. Sharks at Long Branch and Coney Island and snapping turtles at Chautauqua are not soothing to the nerves of timid bathers.

Thirty thousand persons have petitioned the Georgia Legislature asking that the people of the State be allowed to vote on prohibition of the liquor traffic. The petition was 600 feet long, and had names from every county.
