Husbands.

The Argonaut thus discusses husbands, as a study:

We hear much about the art of winning a husband. Let us take a step further and make a study of keeping a husband. If he is worth winning he is worth keeping.

This is a wicked world, and man is dreadfully mortal. Let us take him just as he is, not as he ought to be. In the first place he is very weak. The wife must spend the first two years in discovering all these weaknesses, count them on her finger, and learn them by heart. The fingers of both hands will not be too many. Then let her study up these weaknesses, with a mesh for every one, and the secret is hers. Is he fond of a good dinner? Let her tighten the mesh around him with fragrant coffee, light bread and good things generally and reach his heart through his stomach. Is he fond of flattery about his looks? Let her study the dictionary for sweet words if her supply gives out. Does he like to hear her talk about his brilliant intellect? Let her pore over the encyclopaedia to give variety to the depth of her admiration. Flattery is a good thing to study up at all hazards in its delicate shades but it must be skillfully done. The harpy who may try to coax him away will not do it absurdly. Is he fond of beauty? Here's the rub—let her be bright and tidy; that is half the victory. Next, let her bang her hair metaphorically and keep up with the times. A husband who sees his wife look like other people is not going to consider her "broken down."

Though it is a common sneer that a woman has admitted that her sex consider more, in marrying, the tastes of her friends than her own, yet it must not be considered ludicrous that a man looks at his wife with the same eyes that other people do. Is he fond of literary matters? Listen to him with wide-open eyes when he talks of them. A man doesn't so much care for a literary wife if only she will be literary enough to appreciate him. If she has literary inclinations let her keep them to herself. Men love to be big and great to their wives. That's the reason why a helpless little woman can marry three times to a sensible self-reliant woman's none. Cultivate helplessness. Is he curious? Oh, then you have a treasure; you can always keep him if you have a secret and only keep it carefully. Is he jealous? Then, woman, this is not for you; cease reading; cease torturing that fretted heart which wants you for his own, and teach him confidence. Is he ugly in his temper and fault-finding? Give him a dose of his own medicine, skillfully done. Is he deceitful? Pity him for his weakness, treat him as one who is born with a physical defect, but put your wits to work—it is a bad case. It is well not to be too tame. Men do not waste their powder and shot on hens and barn-yard fowls; they like the pleasure of pursuing wild game—quail and grouse and deer. A quail is a good model for a wife—neat and trim, with a pretty, swift way about it, and just a little capricious. Never let yourself become an old story; be just a little uncertain. Another important fact is, don't be too good; it hurts his feelings and becomes monotonous. Cultivate a pleasant voice, so that this very mortal man may have his conscience prick him when he is in jeopardy; its pleasant ring will haunt him much more than would a shrill one. It is hard to do all this, besides taking care of the babies and looking after vexatious household cares and smiling when he comes home, but it seems necessary. "To be born a woman is to be born a martyr," says a husband who for ten years has watched in amazement his wife treading the winepress of her existence. It is a pitiful sight to some men. But if the wife does not make a study of these things the harpy will, to steal away the honor from his silver hairs when he is full of years and the father of sons and daughters. At the same time, gudewife, keep from trying any of these things on any other mortal man but your own. These rules are only evolved to order to "keep a husband." The poor, weak creature would rather be good than bad, and it is woman's duty to hold him by every means in her power.

LUNG SYRUP.

This remedy is something new, both as to name and composition. This is one of the wonders of the world. This Syrup, I claim, is better and more effective than any other ever offered to the people of America or any other country, and what I say of this I can prove. This Syrup, like the Pills, is harmless and safe. It contains no opium or other narcotic poison, like the most Syrup, and is not disagreeable to take. Any child will take it. And it will cure any and all inflammations arising from Cold. It is superior to all others in every respect and especially for the following reasons:

- 1st. It will cure Croup every time.
- 2d. It will cure Inflammation of the Lungs.
- 3d. It will cure Quinsy.
- 4th. It will cure Whooping Cough.
- 5th. It will cure Bronchitis.
- 6th. It will cure Hoarseness.
- 7th. It will cure Sore Throat.
- 8th. It will cure any Cold.
- 9th. It will cure Congestion of the Lungs.
- 10th. It will cure any Cough.
- 11th. It will cure Scarlet Fever.
- 12th. It is the best remedy that any one can take for Consumption, and if taken in the first stage I will guarantee a cure.
- 13th. It is perfectly safe for all ages as there is nothing in its composition that can harm a child.
