Edward Lemon, a young artist attempted suicide in Minneapolis a few days ago, but was resuscitated. He then went into the office of the Republican, at Neillsville, Wisconsin, on Friday, and told Editor Hoffman, a friend, that he had concluded to finish the job. Showing a bottle of laudanum, he said that he was going to do it right there, and wanted Hoffman to sit with him, watch the effect, and write it up in good shape. "It won't take long," said he, "as I have two ounces of laudanum in me already." Hoffman treated the matter as a joke, made an excuse to go out and sent for a doctor, upon whose arrival Lemon angrily left. Meeting Hoffman soon afterward, he followed him to his office saying: "You gave me away before, but I have concluded to come back and die." He was followed by several friends who did not believe his story. One of them asked: "What shall we say in writing up this affair?" "Oh" replied Lemon, "say that I died in the hope of a blessed immortality, and put in something about the golden stairs. You know how to do it." At this moment the poison he had swallowed began to take effect and he fell back in his chair, livid and helpless. Everything that physicians could devise was done to save him, but he died in a few hours.

A singular will was left by Charles Elliott, a wealthy farmer of Knox, Maine, who died there on July 15. Among the legatees are two grandsons who share equally with the children, but who are hampered by the following provision: "I further bequeath and say that if Charles or George B. Elliott, legatees above named, or either of them or any of my grandchildren (though yet unborn) or their children shall use tobacco in any form, either to smoke or chew, or drink ardent spirits or alcoholic liquors in any way unless proscribed by a physician under oath that it is necessary (and that not to last but thirty days) after this my will is approved by the Court, and for each offence of using tobacco or alcoholic drinks as aforesaid, to be cut off from their dower in my property for six months for the first offence, and one year for each subsequent offence, and for one year of total abstinence of its use, his or their dower to be restored as before provided. Their said share or share so cut off to be disposed of and divided the same as provided in case of their decease." A codicil provides that gambling or betting money or other valuable consideration shall carry the same penalty as the use of tobacco and ardent spirits.

A Ladies' Silk Culture Association is established in San Francisco auxiliary to that in Philadelphia. It appears to be equally careful to keep steadily in view the fact that, while the raising of cocoons may be of greater value as a secondary occupation for small farmers and their families, it does not promise such large profits as to make it a subject of great speculation. The trouble there as in the East is to find a market for the products, and the most obvious plan is to establish "flatures," or places where the winding of the filament from the cocoon may be taught. This will be done no doubt as soon as the societies here and in San Francisco can afford to do so, and in the meantime it is worth while noting that the raising of worms in California continues to be entirely successful. One farmer's wife was reported in June as having hatched 30,000 worms from an ounce of eggs. She kept them in a room adjoining her kitchen and fed them four times a day on mulberry leaves from a mulberry grove. Any one who goes into the business must, of course, make provision for a supply of leaves, just as he must raise hay for his cattle.

Conflicting reports come relative to the Pope's leaving Rome. One dispatch asserts that the rumor was circulated by the Vatican to arouse the Catholics abroad. The London Times' correspondent says that the Pope will ultimately go to Malta. At Rome he neither enjoys liberty nor security and he is seriously considering the subject. He has distinctly made up his mind that he will not tolerate the slightest infringement on his dignity, and should such an event happen it would determine his departure at once.

DR. A. E. BURR'S

HOMOEOPATHIC
LUNG SYRUP.

This remedy is something new, both as to name and composition. This is one of the wonders of the world. This Syrup, I claim, is better and more effective than any other ever offered to the people of America or any other country, and what I say of this I can prove. This Syrup, like the Pills, is harmless and safe. It contains no opium or other narcotic poison, like the most Syrup, and is not disagreeable to take. Any child will take it. And it will cure any and all inflammations arising from Cold. It is superior to all others in every respect and especially for the following reasons:

- 1st. It will cure Croup every time.
- 2d. It will cure Inflammation of the Lungs.
- 3d. It will cure Quinsy.
- 4th It will cure Whooping Cough.
- 5th It will cure Bronchitis.
- 6th It will cure Hoarseness.
- 7th It will cure Sore Throat.
- 8th It will cure any Cold.
- 9th It will cure Congestion of the Lungs.
- 10th It will cure any Cough.
- 11th It will cure Scarlet Fever.
- 12th. It is the best remedy that any one can take for Consumption, and if taken in the first stage I will guarantee a cure.
- 13th. It is perfectly safe for all ages as there is nothing in its composition that can harm a child.
