We are pained to learn that President FOX, of the Citizens National was taken so ill last night that a physician was summoned. We hope he may be better this morning.

Rev. Father HELEY, President Georgetown D. C., College, and a classmate of Bev. Father KELLEY, is spending a short vacation here. He is one of the ablest preachers in the Catholic Church in this country, as his exalted position would indicate.

There is a trite and true saying, that "it is better to be born lucky than rich." We realized the truthfulness of the proverb on Thursday, when we, (i. e.) the seniors of the REVIEW domestic household, were invited to join a small party who were bound for that delightful resort, Mountain Lake. It was our good fortune to find comfortable seats with Prof. RYAN and his wife. The Professor's fleet team soon landed us safely at the Poor House, where the company spent an hour or more looking through the establishment, under the guidance of Assistant Superintendent FERGUSON, whom we found to be an intelligent, courteous gentleman. While there we met for the first time Mrs. JENNIE F. SNELL, the gifted writer of Milan, who was there with a small party on a similar mission to our own.

On leaving the Poor House we drove rapidly to the lake, sharpened appetites admonishing us that it was dinner time. Approaching the water through the grounds of Mr. DAVID LENOX, who has at no little expense made ample preparation for the accommodation of parties, we selected a shady place where there was "much grass;" here the ladies unpacked their baskets, and when the savory contents were displayed tastefully arranged, we had a menu that would have tempted the most fastidious epicure. After the several courses had been fully discussed, without any perceptible diminution of the edibles, several hours were pleasantly and profitably spent in boating, strolling through the wood, communing with nature, and in social chat.

Two other small parties were on the ground—one from Troy, consisting of our old friend Dr. R. C. KENDALL and wife, Mrs. CARPENTER, and Miss WADSWORTH, of Elmira, and Messrs. VINE and E. L. BALDWIN. The other party were from Liberty Corners and appeared to be enjoying themselves to the fullest extent. They had a violin with them and had a good old-fashioned sensible dance. One of the most graceful of the gentlemen participants in the "giddy mazes," was Mr. ADELBERT COOLELAUGH, the enterprising cattle dealer, who is proficient in the art of music, as well as the "poetry of motion."

Lengthening shadows reminded us that the day was far spent and at six o'clock, after a season of unalloyed enjoyment, we reluctantly started for home, which we reached safely after a pleasant twilight ride.

The company consisted of Prof. and Mrs. BYAN, A. W. DIMMOCK and wife, A. J. FISHER, wife, and son, Mrs. HEATH and sons of Philadelphia, M. E. ROSENFELD and wife, Mrs. D. G. ROSENFELD and three children of Houston, Texas, Miss FRANKIE WOODRUFF and the writer and wife.

The President's Condition.

We regret to again be compelled to announce that the President is not so well, though the symptoms do not appear to alarm his physicians.

OFFICIAL BULLETINS.

AUGUST 21, 8:30 A. M.

The President awoke more frequently than usual, yet slept sufficiently during the night and appears comfortable this morning. The parotid gland swelling is about the same, but is not painful. He took liquid nourishment by the mouth several times during the night as well as this morning. Pulse, 106; temperature, 98.8; respiration, 18.

12:30, P. M.

The President's condition continues about as at the last bulletin, except there is a slight rise in temperature. He continues to take liquid nourishment by the mouth as well as the enemata. Pulse, 108; temperature, 99.4; respiration, 18.

6:30, P. M.

The President has vomited twice during this afternoon. The administration of food by the mouth has therefore again been temporarily suspended, and nutritive enemata will be given more frequently. His temperature is lower and pulse rather less frequent than yesterday afternoon. The parotid swelling is painless but stationary. Pulse, 108; temperature, 99.12; respiration, 18.

The Surgeon's rooms at the Ward House are being crowded more and more with those seeking his aid, and every day adds to their numbers. The following certificate will show his skill:

Prof. EAKIN:—I have been afflicted from infancy with cross-eye; am 20 years old. By your painless operation this day of one minute the eye came immediately and perfectly straight.

We are constantly receiving orders for "Lum Smith's Imitation Stained glass," and are ready to give our patrons the full benefit of an inexpensive and handsome decoration by placing it on any glass, whether door or window, large size or small glass, green or white, round or square, in fact any position, shape or kind of frame or glass that needs shading from the rays of the sun, or from the gaze of inquisitive eyes. Thankful for the very liberal patronage bestowed since we have received the agency of this Imitation, we shall by a strict attention to business, hoping to merit a continuance of the same. To those who have heard of the "Imitation Glass," and have not seen it, we extend a cordial invitation to examine into its real merits, and ask the prices for which it can be obtained, we are prepared to contract with churches, halls, or other public buildings, and warrant all of our work to surpass in beauty the genuine stained glass and our prices are less than one-fourth the cost of the same. Those in need of anything of this kind or who are lovers of art, whether they wish to purchase or not, are respectfully invited to examine the same at CHAS. F. CROSS' Book Store.
