The REVIEW does not often indulge in puns, and the reader may judge of our disgust on reading the following attempt at one in yesterday's edition, to find that a careless proof correcter had substituted an "a" for "u" in the pivotal word. We reprint it corrected:

Two weeks more and the agony over the republican county nominations will be over. It looks as though the party may have a Hull ticket and a strong one too.

On Sunday last a young man named E. W. RICE, of Rome, hired a horse and buggy from B. W. LANE, and when he returned the rig the animal's fore legs were cut quite badly. The young man claimed that as he was driving along over a smooth road on a slow trot the horse stumbled causing the injury. He refused to pay $20 demanded for the damage, and LANE had him arrested on a criminal charge of cruelty to animals. The defendant was discharged.

The Catalonia the steamer on which Mr. SHAW and family have engaged passage for their trip to Europe, made her trial voyage from Liverpool, sailing on the 6th inst, and arrived in New York Sunday night 21st. She was delayed in consequence of fracture of the screw shaft.

The Catalonia is one of five new vessels contracted for by the Cunard Company, to be completed before the end of this year. She is a large and powerful vessel, 430 feet in length, 43 feet beam, 35 feet depth of hold and 4,650 tons measurement. She is strongly built of iron, with six water-tight iron bulkheads reaching from the keel to the main deck and has three full decks. Each deck is of iron plate, running from stem to stern, securely riveted to each beam and also to the sides of the ship thus adding greater strength to the vessel. She is fully supplied with life-boats of the best construction, each furnished with sails, oars, provisions and water-casks and signalling apparatus, and the vessel is furnished with every means for the remedy of fire or accident. The accommodations for cabin and steerage passengers are complete in every particular. The vessel is commanded by Captain GILL.

She will start on her return trip Saturday.

We take the liberty of transferring to our columns the following items from the Milan correspondence in the Elmira Advertiser of yesterday:

Little Freddie Vincent, infant son of Chas. Vincent of this place, died of diphtheria Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Charles D. Ross, of Bay City, Mich., is spending part of the summer at Mr. A. O. Snell's, in Milan, and with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Davies, at Athens.

Rev. J. C. Moyer preached his farewell sermon on Sabbath evening. He leaves to enter college to pursue his studies, accompanied by the best wishes of his many friends in Milan.

The Milan party to Pisgah, on their return visited the new Bradford county poor house at Burlington, Pa., and were kindly shown through the fine buildings by the obliging superintendent. It is a model of neatness, comfort and good order. All its appointments are first-class. It is a great curiosity to our county people, for they are coming and going every pleasant day by carriage loads, and even parties to inspect the workings of the institution.

Mr. J. P. Drake, of Rockford, Ill., is visiting at Mr. M. S. Warner's, where his wife is spending the summer. Mrs. Drake left on Monday to attend the Bible Convention at Northfield, Mass., Mr. Moody's old home, under whose auspices it was established. Dr. Bonar, the celebrated Scottish divine and Bible scholar, is to be present. The convention opens the 1st of August and closes the 31st. It is especially for Bible study, and many eminent Bible scholars are expected to take part in the exercises.
