We hope he may live to enjoy his centennial.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.—On Wednesday evening last, at the home of her step-father, in Troy, Miss WREXIE ROCKWELL, daughter of the late R. C. ROCKWELL, M. D., became the wife of Prof. E. K. MARRYATT, principal of the Lansing, Iowa, high school. The wedding was a private but pleasant affair, none but the near friends and relatives being present.

MILTON FASSETT acted as groom's-man and Miss EVA THOMAS as brides-maid, and the marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. G. P. SEWELL in an impressive manner. After a host of well wishes for the newly wedded pair the company sat down to a tempting board.

Though the presents received were costly and appropriate, their value as reminders of the love and respect of their givers will be most highly prized by their recipients. Mr. and Mrs. MARRYATT left on the evening train and will make their home at Lansing, Iowa. That their married life may be long and happy is the earnest wish of a wide circle of friends.

The Graded School opens this morning.

The widow SALLY COLE died at her residence in Macedonia yesterday morning at the advanced age of 83 years. The funeral will take place at the Macedonia church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The deceased was the mother of Capt. W. J. COLE of Asylum township and Dr. A. J. COLE of Mansfield.

During service in the Baptist Church yesterday morning, the bulletin announcing the improved condition of the President was received. At the close of the hymn the pastor read it aloud to the large congregation and then asked all to rise and join in singing "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." The subdued voices of the singers indicated their unfeigned interest in the suffering President.

We are deeply pained to learn that our old friend, CHARLES TAYLOR, formerly of Standing Stone, has been afflicted in the death of his wife. She died on the 14th inst., very suddenly, at Canisteo, N. Y., where Mr. TAYLOR now resides. One child, a boy ten years old, is left motherless to mourn with the smitten father her early death. Mrs. LYMAN BLACKMAN, of Houston street, a sister of Mr. T., attended the funeral on Tuesday.

The President's Condition.

The news from Washington yesterday inspired hope once more that the President may yet be restored, and this morning the bulletins are encouraging, showing a decided improvement since Saturday, when hope seemed almost gone.—Earnest supplications went up to the Great Physician from millions of hearts yesterday for the recovery of the President, and we believe they will be answered.

OFFICIAL BULLETINS.

8:30, A. M.

The improvement in the President's symptoms announced in last evening's bulletin continued during the night and some further improvement has been observed since midnight. His pulse progressively diminishing in frequency. The stomach has continued to retain the liquid nourishment administered and last evening he asked for and received a small quantity of milk toast. Stimulating and nutritive enemata continue to be retained. There has been no mental disturbance during the night or this morning. Pulse, 100; temperature, 99.4; respiration, 17.

12:30, P. M.

At the morning dressing of the President, several yellowish spots were observed just below the ear, over the swollen parotid gland, an incision being made about a teaspoonful of healthy pus escaped. The wound looks rather less indolent than it has been doing for several days past. Since the morning bulletin there has been some rise of temperature but little increase in the frequency of the pulse, and in other respects no material change has occurred. Pulse, 104; temperature, 99.5; respiration, 18.

6:30, P. M.

The improvement in the President's condition declared yesterday afternoon still continues. He continues to take willingly the liquid food given by the mouth, and is apparently digesting it. Stimulants and nutriment given by enemata are also retained. At the evening dressing an increased quantity of healthy looking pus was discharged from the suppurating parotid. The appearance of the wound has not perceptibly changed since the morning dressing. But little rise in temperature or pulse has taken place since noon, and the pulse is perceptibly stronger than at the same time yesterday. Pulse, 110; temperature, 99.7; respiration, 20.
