The following is the Platform adopted by the Republican State Convention in Harrisburg last week:

Resolved, First—That the Republican party of Pennsylvania is in the most hearty accord with the administration of President Garfield, and while uniting in the prayers of all good people for his speedy recovery, pledges continued fealty and the most active support in the prompt and courageous correction of all governmental abuses. As Republicans we are in favor of any proper and well-considered reform, either in the government of the nation, the State, municipality or county; and we court suggestions to any or all these ends, and only ask that in their advocacy well-established safeguards shall not be hastily supplanted by experiments. The administration of President Garfield has set the right example in this direction, and while firmly adhering to the principles and better practices of the great party which called it into existence, it yet insists upon faithfulness and honesty in every branch of the public service. The bullet of an assassin should not interrupt this work. It should be pursued while its author lives and beyond his life, if, through increasing misfortune, it should be taken away.

Second—The Republican party has ever been progressive and reformatory, and while realizing that nothing in government is wholly right, we desire it to be always brave enough to seek every avenue of approach to the right, to the end that all our people may enjoy the ever-increasing blessings of good government.

Third—That to President James A. Garfield, this tender and loving, this struggling and suffering, this pure and brave man, now become the beloved of this people and the admired of all people, we tender for ourselves and our constituents assurances of deep and heartfelt sympathy; and keenly appreciating the value of such a life to his country we express the prayerful hope that he may soon be restored to the discharge of the important duties for which he is remarkably qualified, and from which by a peculiar infamous crime and an undeserved assault upon whom for a conscientious exercise of proper executive power, he has been temporarily withdrawn.

Fourth—That in State as in nation, the Republican party is committed to the course of economical and honest administration. We demand the use of all necessary means and the enforcement of all laws intended to prevent fraud and waste and we require a close and watchful guardianship over all of the multifarious interests committed to the care of our organization.

Fifth—That in any revision of our tariff legislation which may be made, care shall be taken to discriminate in favor of our industries and thereby to promote the causes which are rapidly making America a controlling power in finances as it already is an established leader in political thought.

Sixth—That the administration of Governor Hoyt merits our warmest approval. We regard with satisfaction the results of a purely Republican administration under his leadership, in which all departments have been faithfully conducted, the credit of the State raised to the highest point, and its finances placed upon a proper basis without increasing the burdens of the people.

General Baily, the Republican nominee for State Treasurer, was born in Brownsville, Fayette county in 1826. He was educated in Madison College, Uniontown, in which place he entered business as a jeweller. At the beginning of the war he raised a company and entered the service as a captain. He was wounded at the battle of Gaines Mills in June, 1862. He was under Grant until after the battle of Spotsylvania and remained in active service in the army until 1864. At the close of the war President Johnson brevetted him Brigadier General for gallantry on the field.
