

DAILY TOWANDA REVIEW.

VOLUME III, NO. 30.

TOWANDA, PA., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1881.

PRICE ONE CENT.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Personal.

B. A. LONG, Esq., of Troy, is in town this morning.

G. W. BRINK, Esq., of LeRaysville, is a juror this week.

Mrs. WAYNE DEFOREST has returned from the Thousand Islands.

Associate Judge ROGERS, of Sullivan county, was in Towanda yesterday.

Maj. GORE, of Sheshequin, is serving his country as a juror this week.

WILL BARRON of Penn Yan, N. Y., is visiting his sister, Mrs. Capt. MANVILLE, on Third street.

Miss HELEN NEVINS, of Towanda, Pa., has returned home from her visit among friends in this village.—Waverly Review.

Our venerable friend, SOLOMON SPALDING, of Rome, who is spending a few days in this place visiting his grand daughter, Mrs. H. A. PRINCE, made us a pleasant call yesterday.

The Reverend J. S. BEERS, late rector of Christ Church, takes final leave of the parish and starts for his new home in Natick, to-morrow morning. He will be at the residence of Warden, H. T. JUNE, Huston street, where he will be pleased to meet any members of the congregation and other friends, this evening.

Mr. BEERS has greatly endeared himself to the people of Towanda during his residence here and his departure is universally regretted by all who know him well. He has been a faithful steward in the Master's vineyard, and has been the means of advancing His kingdom. He has preached the Gospel and done his work faithfully, without respect of persons—the poor have been as carefully and affectionately cared for as the rich. All wish him and his abundant prosperity in their new Massachusetts home, and their future will be watched with solicitude by their Towanda friends. The REVIEW realizes that it has lost a warm friend and reluctantly bids Mr. B. adieu.

The matrimonial market opens brisk.

We print on our fourth page an interesting letter from Doctor PAYNE in regard to the Water Works.

The Medical Society met a week ago to-day: the minutes were handed us last evening. A little too gray headed, Mr. Secretary.

FRANK GRADY has secured the services of Mr. ONLY, the tailor, and says he now has the best force of workmen in the county.

PARROT & GRESSEL, merchant tailors, have received their fall and winter goods, and invite all who want new suits to give them a call.

CARY the tailor, in the rooms adjoining the REVIEW office, is a skillful workman and repairs as well as makes garments in the best manner and on reasonable terms.

ED VANDERMARK has lost a gold badge which he prizes very highly, as it was presented to him by Mantua Hook and Ladder Co. for meritorious services. His name and the date of presentation are inscribed on the back of the pin.

Mr. WILLIAM DITTRICH has on his lot and near the house, a pear tree grown from seed planted by Mrs. D.'s mother more than fifty years ago. The tree has attained immense proportions and is very prolific, frequently bearing more than thirty bushels of excellent fruit in one year. This year it was loaded. The tree is still vigorous and no doubt will continue for many years to come to remind, by its bountiful fruitage, the descendants of the lady who propagated it of her thoughtful goodness. The people who plant and cultivate good fruit for the benefit of coming generations, like those who sow pure thoughts in the hearts and minds of the young, often "build better than they know."

Are you going to the Elmira fair?

Hon. HORACE HORTON, of Shores Hill, has a dairy of Alderney cows and yesterday sold his butter to DITTRICH & Co. It was literally "gilt edge," being as yellow as new gold.—HORACE may not be a success as a mail contractor, but he certainly is as a butter-maker, or perhaps we should say his good wife is. We venture the assertion that a better dairy will not be offered in market this season. It will be a matter of interest to those who appreciate good butter to know that Messrs. DITTRICH will not ship this lot to the city where it would command a fancy price, but will keep it for their home retail trade.

The following resolutions were adopted at the meeting of the vestry of Christ Church, held Monday evening Sept. 12th, 1881:

WHEREAS, After five years of faithful service as Rector of Christ Church, the Rev. JOHN S. BEERS is about to sever his connection therewith, therefore,

Resolved. In reluctantly parting with our highly esteemed Pastor, we hereby express our great satisfaction with the zealous and effective manner in which he has labored in the cause of religion, and for the best interests of this Church. His christian character and great industry in the cause of his Master, have made a strong impression on our church and congregation. May God's choicest blessings follow him in his new field of labor.

Resolved. That a copy of this preamble and resolution certified by the Secretary, be delivered to Mr. BEERS.

Court Proceedings.

Commonwealth vs. Sam Berry—Surety of the peace. After hearing the case, Court order that the defendant pay the costs and give bonds in the sum of $100 for his good behavior toward all good people of the commonwealth and especially toward George Bruce. In default Berry was again locked up.

Commonwealth vs. Patrick Conly—Assault and battery. Jury return verdict of not guilty, and prosecutor, M. Kirwin for costs.

Commonwealth vs. Elsie Vanderpoel—Keeping a bawdy house. Jury find defendant guilty.

Commonwealth vs. Draper Terry—Larceny. Jury find defendant not guilty.

Commonwealth vs. Wm. McIlue—Stealing a boat. On trial.

M. E. ROSENFELD, the most popular clothing merchant in northern Pennsylvania, has won the patronage of this community and the surrounding country, by years of honorable dealing. All know that he is here to stay—his establishment is not a branch of any city house, temporarily established, for the purpose of getting rid of inferior shoddy stock, and then, after reaping a harvest at the expense of the ignorant and gullible, "pull up stakes" and depart for other fields of operation; and those who are wise will consult him when in need of fashionable, well made clothing. In purchasing from him you are assured of getting just what you call for, and if by chance there should be any mistake, when you return you are sure to find MORRIS or some of his salesmen, at home and ready to correct, willingly, any mistakes. He is reliable, honorable and gentlemanly. A residence of twenty years among us has made him familiar not only with our people, but with their tastes and wants in the clothing and furnishing goods line, while his long experience and intimate acquaintance with the best manufacturers, makes him master of the situation and gives him an advantage in buying possessed by but few country dealers. The profits of his business are expended in building up and improving our town—a fact which should not be forgotten, especially by those who profit by his enterprise in that direction.

Ed. MOUILLESSEUX, our enterprising Jewelle has just secured the agency for the John Foley Celebrated "Bank" Gold Pens. It is generally conceded by all Dealers that it has no equal in the market, and it will pay whoever is in need of a good Pen to examine Ed's stock before purchasing elsewhere. He has also put in stock the celebrated "Diamond Pointed Stylographic Pen" or "Ink Pen" the wonder of the age. Call and see it. 1w.

The President's Condition.

Sitting up for the first time

At his own request, yesterday morning the President was taken from his bed for the first time and placed in the invalid chair in a position where he could look upon the ocean. He enjoyed the change immensely. He remained up twenty-five minutes with no ill effects.

Some tender chicken was added to his breakfast yesterday morning, which he ate with a relish.

Dr. Hamilton pronounces him in a convalescent state. He says Dr. Bliss' diagnosis of the case is correct. The ball is now encysted and the wound is healing nicely. No trouble is anticipated from that direction. The swelling on the neck and the incisions made are nearly well. The lung difficulty was only the result of a cold.

OFFICIAL BULLETINS.

LONG BRANCH, SEPT. 13, 1881.

8:30 A. M.

The condition of the President this morning is encouraging and gives promise of a good day. Pulse 100; temp. 99; resp. 20.

6 P. M.

At the examination of the President at 12 M., to-day, the temperature was 98.8; pulse, 100; respiration, 20. At the evening dressing, at 5:30, the temperature was 98.4; pulse, 100; respiration, 20. The President was placed in a semi-recumbent position upon an invalid chair at 11 a. m., and remained half an hour without fatigue or discomfort. The wounds are making the usual favorable progress, and his general condition is reassuring.

Water sells in Ottawa at a dollar per barrel and a single pailful has been often sold for twenty-five cents.

In the election in Maine for Member of Congress to succeed Frye, ex-Governor Dingley (Republican) was elected over the Greenback and Prohibition candidates by 4,500 majority, a gain of 2,900.

Prof. King's balloon, the "Great Northwest," after inflating with hydrogen all day at St. Paul, rose sluggishly at 5:30 P. M. There was no wind and it was apparently over weighted with seven passengers, including five journalists and 500 pounds of baggage. After hovering in the air in full sight for half an hour it slowly settled between the bluffs near Fort Snelling.

An unusual celestial phenomenon was witnessed in different parts of the country Monday night. A band of light started in the north and moved to the zenith, when it spanned the sky from the western to the eastern horizon, when the eastern end gathered itself up in portions like white clouds, moving rapidly towards the west until the whole mass disappeared in that direction. The band had an apparent width of twelve feet and was different from the auroral display, in that the edges were sharply defined, and that when the band broke up it did so in the form of white luminous clouds. Some thought the nebulous belt had touched the earth's atmosphere.
