Personal.

J. P. CULVER, of Bradford, arrived in town last night.

M. C. MERCUR was in Pittston and Wilkes-Barre yesterday.

Hon. H. L. SCOTT visited the State Fair at Elmira yesterday.

Colonel and Mrs. MEANS have returned from Sullivan county.

Mrs. WILLIAM SCOTT is spending a few weeks with friends in Troy and Canton.

OLLIE BENNETT, of FITCH'S confectionary store has been visiting in Philadelphia this week.

Mrs. T. M. SANTEE, of Hazleton, is visiting her mother, Mrs. GOODRICH, at the Ward House.

Mrs. BAILEY, of Rochelle, Ill., is visiting her brother, WILLIAM LEWIS, Esq., Commissioners' Clerk.

HIRAM ROCKWELL of Roaring Branch, has been visiting friends in town and returned to his home yesterday.

Capt. G. V. MYER and family have returned from their month's sojourn at Ralston Springs. The Captain's health is apparently much improved.

Capt. S. W. NORTHROP, attended a meeting of the survivors of his old regiment, the 89th N. Y., Dickinson Guards, in Binghanton, yesterday.

Report says Mr. H. CHARLES PORTER, who has just attained his majority, will commence the study of law in Philadelphia. He is a graduate of Princeton.

Through the most careful nursing and constant watching, Mrs. Doctor MONTANYE'S life is still prolonged, but her friends fear every hour will be her last.

Mr. BURK, of the Philadelphia Press editorial staff is making a tour of the state to examine the political barometer, on the WOLFE question. He was here yesterday and dined at Senator DAVIES' with a small party of friends.

Miss CARRIE BACKUS and the Misses KALLOCK, of Savannah, Ga., who had been spending some weeks here, visited Watkins Glen on Tuesday and from thence proceeded to their home in the south. They were escorted by Mr. SCHLEY, of Georgia, who has been sojourning at the Ward House for some time.

Matrimony is not confined to town and city, but occasionally a sensible young man goes into the rural districts for a bride. So did our young friend Mr. DUDLY HINMAN of Monroeton, and next week he will lead to the altar Miss BECKY McCORD, the accomplished daughter of S. B. McCORD, Esq., of Highland.

POOL-DELANO—Although it was not a "wedding," in the conventional meaning of the term, the marriage of Miss HATTIE DELANO and Mr. WILL POOL, at the residence of the bride's parents, on Pine street yesterday afternoon, was one of the pleasantest social events of the season. No invitations were issued, and the affair was supposed to be quite private, a goodly number of the friends of the young couple were present to witness the nuptials. The back parlor, in which the ceremony was performed, was becomingly trimmed with evergreen festoons, and a profusion of crosses arranged with consummate taste. The letters "D" and "P" encircled by evergreen wreaths were suspended from the walls, and the bride and groom stood under a canopy-shaped festoon. The bride was arrayed in a traveling suit, and looked beautifully sensible. A large number of very handsome presents were displayed in the dining room. The most noticeable one was an ornate velvet-covered clock, presented by Miss LILLIE BABBITT of New York. Rev. J. S. BEERS officiated, reading in a clear and impressive manner the unequalled service from the Episcopal prayer book.

As the bridal party took the carriage for the station, they were deluged with rice and an old shoe thrown after them, in token of the good wishes of the friends.

Mrs. POOL, mother of the groom, of Lancaster, and Prof. A. R. BACON and Mr. BORDEN, of Wilkes-Barre were present.

After a short bridal trip to the southern part of the state, Mr. POOL will take his bride to Wilkes-Barre, where he is now engaged in business. Both bride and groom have many warm friends in Towanda who heartily congratulate them and commend them to the good people of Wilkes-Barre.

Mr. and Mrs. MEL CARMAN have returned from their visit in Pike county.

JAMES MCCABE, at headquarters, sells the best tobacco.

There will be no services in the Episcopal Church next Sunday.

The cash receipts of the Uncle Tom's Cabin Troupe, on Tuesday evening, were $227.50.

FROST'S factory and the Eureka shops are both running extra time.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Wm. MCHUE, charged with stealing a boat, jury found defendant not guilty.

A rifle match between a Rome and Orwell team and a team of the Towanda club, will come off next Saturday at the East Towanda range.

Most of the New York excursionists have returned and the remainder will probably reach their homes to-day, as the tickets will not be good after this date.

DITTRICH & Co. are selling elegant pears fit for eating now or preserving, at one dollar per bushel.

M. E. ROSENFELD, the most popular clothing merchant in northern Pennsylvania, has won the patronage of this community and the surrounding country, by years of honorable dealing. All know that he is here to stay—his establishment is not a branch of any city house, temporarily established, for the purpose of getting rid of inferior shoddy stock, and then, after reaping a harvest at the expense of the ignorant and gullible, "pull up stakes" and depart for other fields of operation; and those who are wise will consult him when in need of fashionable, well made clothing. In purchasing from him you are assured of getting just what you call for, and if by chance there should be any mistake, when you return you are sure to find MORRIS or some of his salesmen, at home and ready to correct, willingly, any mistakes. He is reliable, honorable and gentlemanly. A residence of twenty years among us has made him familiar not only with our people, but with their tastes and wants in the clothing and furnishing goods line, while his long experience and intimate acquaintance with the best manufacturers, makes him master of the situation and gives him an advantage in buying possessed by but few country dealers. The profits of his business are expended in building up and improving our town—a fact which should not be forgotten, especially by those who profit by his enterprise in that direction.

Ed. MOUILLESSEAU, our enterprising Jewelle has just secured the agency for the John Foley Celebrated "Bank" Gold Pens. It is generally conceded by all Dealers that it has no equal in the market, and it will pay whoever is in need of a good Pen to examine Ed's stock before purchasing elsewhere. He has also put in stock the celebrated "Diamond Pointed Stylographic Pen" or "Ink Pen" the wonder of the age. Call and see it. 1w.

The President's Condition.

The President was able to sit in the invalid chair for over an hour and a half and had no pull back yesterday.

OFFICIAL BULLETINS.

LONG BRANCH, SEPT. 14, 1881.
9 A. M.

At the examination of the President at 8:30 this morning the temperature was 98.4; pulse, 100; respiration, 19. He passed the night comfortably, sleeping sufficiently. He is bright and hopeful this morning, and has taken fruits with his first meal for the day, with a relish.

6 P. M.

At the examination of the President at 12 m., to-day his temperature was 98.8; pulse, 104; respiration, 20. At the evening dressing at 5:30 p. m., his temperature was 99.2; pulse, 112; respiration, 21. The President was placed on the invalid chair, in a semi-recumbent position, about 12 m., and remained an hour and a half, sleeping part of the time. He was not fatigued by the transfer or change of position, and his general condition this evening is as favorable as usual, notwithstanding the slight febrile rise.

The Kansas State Fair buildings were burned yesterday. No lives were lost but the destruction of property is estimated at $50,000.

General Ambrose Everett Burnside who died at Bristol, Rhode Island, Tuesday, was born at Liberty, Indiana, May 23rd, 1824. He graduated at West Point in 1847, was stationed at Fort Adams, Newport, R. I., and subsequently sent to New Mexico where he commanded a squadron of cavalry and acted as Quartermaster in the boundary commission of 1851 and 1852. In 1861 he was appointed Colonel of the First Regiment of Rhode Island Volunteers, which marched to Washington four days after the issuing of the call by the President.

During the Confederate invasion of Maryland, Burnside was placed under the command of McClellan, gained the battle of South Mountain, September 14, 1862, commanded the left wing at Antietam and afterward one of the three corps into which the Union army was divided.

On November 7th he superceded McClellan in the command of the army of the Potomac, but after repeated and unsuccessful attacks upon Lee's army, tendered his resignation which was accepted. He was then assigned to command the Department of the Ohio, taking two divisions of the 9th Corps, and soon after arrested C. L. Vallannigham.

During the absence of the 9th Corps at Nicksburg, occurred Morgan's raid, after which Burnside succeeded in his attempt to free East Tennessee from the Confederates, and received the thanks of Congress. Subsequently the 9th Corps, under the command of Burnside, bore a prominent part and did good service with Grant in Virginia. He resigned April 15, 1865, was elected Governor of Rhode Island in 1866, and re-elected in the two following years. Since 1869 he has been engaged in business. In the autumn of 1870, being in Europe, he was admitted within the German and French lines in and around Paris, and ineffectually endeavored to mediate between the belligerents.

He was elected to the United States Senate in 1875, and was consequently a member of that body at the time of his death.
