In his address of welcome at Yorktown on Tuesday, Gov. Holliday made this tender and touching allusion to the late President: "When the hand of the assassin struck our President down, there was not a home or heart, from sea to sea from which earnest prayers did not go up for his recovery; and when death came there was not one that was not draped in mourning and bowed in the deepest sorrow. He was to have been with us to-day and have joined in these august ceremonies. It has been otherwise ordained, but his honored successor is here and his Cabinet and the Yorktown Congressional Commission and representatives of every department of the United States government and the people of the sister States and Territories and citizens of foreign nations to participate in the proceedings of this historic day. Virginia gives them cordial welcome. Providence decreed that her soil should be the scene of the last great act of the Revolution. Her citizens rejoice that they can grant it to all the States and join them in building thereon a memorial which they trust may be as lasting as the emblem it typifies, and that both may be immortal. We feel that however dire the calamity that has befallen us, or may in the future come, faith is not dead and patriotism has not been wounded. "God reigns and the Government at Washington still lives." The friends of freedom everywhere catch up the grand refrain and speed it round the world, God reigns and the Government still lives, Long live the Government."

While Wolfe is kicking up a row in the Republican party, all is not lovely with the Democracy. The Herald, a leading Democratic journal of the northwestern part of the State. Published at Mr. Noble's home, repudiates the party candidate most decidedly. In a recent double-leaded leader it gave its reasons for declining to support Mr. Noble for State Treasurer, its article closing as follows:

"In a word, the Democrats never made a more unfortunate nomination, as they will learn as the campaign progresses. The Herald wishes it could consistently support Mr. Noble; but knowing what we do of his personal and political unfitness for the office, we consider it not only our duty to oppose him, but to show the public why we oppose him. This we shall do in a series of articles."

The great comet of last summer has received governmental recognition in China. The following is a translation of an imperial decree issued on the occasion of its appearance: "The Sovereign and his Ministers can only accept the warning given by the comet with reverence and awe, and endeavor to move the heart of Heaven by introspection and the cultivation of virtue, doing the best they can to fulfill the whole duty of man. Errors must happen in the employment of individuals and the administration of government, and those whose duty it is to speak must not fail to be outspoken when these errors are observed by them, that they may duly advance that good government which it is our earnest desire to maintain."

The Commercial's Washington special says it is believed that the system of making weekly purchases of bonds at New York will be modified at the end of the month and semi-weekly purchases will be resorted to in the belief that they will be less disturbing to business interests than the weekly ones. It is also under consideration to entirely depend upon such purchases in lieu of making calls.

F. J. Fitzsimmons, Chairman of the Democratic County Committee of Lackawanna, is evidently a Mulhooly of the solid sort. He has issued an address to the voters of his party, in which he says: "No scratching, no kicking, and victory is assured." The Democratic party made a great mistake when it did not nominate Mr. Fitzsimmons for State Treasurer. No "kicking" and no "scratching" would insure the success of almost any candidate this year, but a little kicking and scratching may defeat even Mr. Orange Noble.

One hundred years ago yesterday Lord Cornwallis, commander of the British forces at Yorktown, surrendered his army of 7,000 men, after being besieged ten days by the American and French troops to General Washington, commanding the American army.

Bishop Wiley tells the Methodist clergy of Cincinnati that they must not kiss women promiscuously, "for it is a dangerous business."

Thirty murderers are in jail in Philadelphia awaiting trial, and it is thought that not less than half of them will be convicted of murder in the first degree.
