A recent issue of the London Penny Press contains the following, which is not strictly correct. John Howard Payne was the author of "Home, Sweet Home," which was written at Tunis, where he died in 1851: "The author of 'Home Sweet Home,' T. H. Payne, a poor but genial-hearted man, was walking with a friend in London, and pointing to one of the most aristocratic houses in Mayfair, he said: 'Under those windows I composed the song of Home, Sweet Home, as I wandered about without food or a semblance of shelter I could call my own. Many a night since I wrote those words that issued out of my heart by absolute want of a home have I passed and repassed in this locality and heard a siren voice coming from within those gilded walls in the depth of a dim, cold London winter, warbling Home Sweet Home, while I, the author of them, knew no bed to call my own. I have been in the heart of Paris, Berlin, London or some other city and have heard people sing Home, Sweet Home, without a penny to buy the next meal or a place to put my head in. The world has literally sung my song until every heart is familiar with its melody. My country has turned me ruthlessly from office, and in my old age I have to submit to humiliation for bread.'"

Colonel Rockwell has received the following letter from Mrs. Garfield, which is furnished to the press for publication:
MENTOR, O., Oct. 17, 1881.

Dear Colonel Rockwell:

It is my wish that an account of the life and an appropriate collection of the literary remains of General Garfield shall be published after the careful consideration and preparation so manifestly necessary to that end. I request that you will announce in some public manner my purpose to cause this work to be done at the earliest practicable moment, and of which due notice will be given.

Very sincerely yours,

LUCRETIA R. GARFIELD

To Col. A. F. Rockwell, Washington, D. C.

With regard to the foregoing Colonel Rockwell makes the following statement: "To those best acquainted with the great capacity for work and the vast versatility of General Garfield, the extent, variety and orderly arrangement of his intellectual estate are amazing. Fully appreciating its value, and believing that the most enduring monument of the late President must be erected upon the granite foundation of what he said and did and was, Mrs. Garfield purposes an affectionate and careful work in this direction. Such a monument, therefore, illustrating a life which cannot be written until the world has moved far enough away from him to take in the grandeur of his career and character, may be expected only after measured and deliberate work, and as coming by Mrs. Garfield's sanction and authority."

Before Rev. Dr. Whitehead, who was last week chosen Bishop of the diocese of Pittsburg, can be inducted into the sacred office a majority of the Standing Committees of the different dioceses in the country must approve the election. Mr. Whitehead is about 41 years of age and is now Rector of the Church of the Nativity, South Bethlehem, Pa., and a member of the Standing Committee of the Central Diocese of Pennsylvania. He is a graduate of Union College of Schenectady, N. Y., and of the Episcopal Divinity School of Philadelphia. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by the faculty of the former institution. He is a conservative churchman and while not considered a brilliant speaker, is possessed of fine executive abilities and is a hard worker. He recently declined calls from St. Stephen's, Philadelphia, and St. Paul's, Buffalo.

D. R. Locke, "Nasby," has returned from a summer trip to England and Ireland. He believes in Parnell.

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is the leading journal of American Agriculture. while it also includes all minor departments of rural interest, such as the Poultry Yard, Entomology, Bee-keeping, Greenhouse and Grapery, Veterinary Recipes, Farm Questions and Answers, Fireside Reading, Domestic Economy, and a summary of the News of the Week. Its Market Reports are unusually complete and much attention is paid to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light on one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell. It is liberally illustrated and is intended to supply, in a continually increasing degree, and in the best sense of the term, a LIVE AGRICULTURAL NEWSPAPER.

The Volume of THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN for 1882 will be largely increased in contents by the addition of a sufficient number of pages to meet the growing demands upon its space, but the terms will continue as follows, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, ONE YEAR, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.
