An old gentleman from the interior of Ohio arrived in Washington a few days ago with $17,000 in United States 6 per cent bonds which he purchased in 1861 and which were called in July last. He first visited the Loan Division where he said he came to obtain gold for his bonds as he had paid gold for them. When told that a draft on the United States Treasury was as good as gold he insisted upon the gold and would not listen to any explanation regarding an equivalent in another form. He appeared with a large leather valise, in which he carried off the full amount of his claim in twenty-dollar gold pieces, weighing in all about 75 pounds. He became very much provoked with Treasurer Gillfillan when that officer endeavored to persuade him to accept drafts and have them cashed when he reached home, reiterating that he came there for gold and declining to take anything else. He staggered under his heavy load as far as Assistant Treasurer Wyman's room, where he expressed a wish to count his treasure before leaving town. A room was assigned to him for that purpose. After the entire amount had been carefully counted and found to be correct, the old gentleman was persuaded to have the money sent by express to his home. During the time he was engaged in counting the money a city detective, who had been summoned, remained near him and would have kept watch over him had he insisted upon carrying the money away.

The Garfield memorial services under the auspices of the Governor and City Council were the most impressive ever held in Mexico. The attendance was extremely large. There were speeches by prominent citizens and music by an orchestra of a hundred and fifty professionals. The decorations consisted of crape and the colors of the two Republics. Hammeken Mexia, representing the city said the City of Mexico lays a crown of laurels on the tomb of a virtuous citizen, soldier and statesman, James A. Garfield, and expresses profound sympathy for his widow and orphans.

Since the first of July more than twenty millions in bars manufactured from foreign gold have been transported from the New York assay office to the Philadelphia mint for coinage, which has nearly exhausted the appropriation for that purpose. As there is now a large amount of gold in the New York assay office and more arriving almost daily, an additional appropriation will be necessary to meet the cost of transportation.

The public awaits with some curiosity the published announcement of Messrs. Terry and Hinds, offering themselves as candidates for Commissioners. They will undoubtedly set forth strong reasons why they should be elected. Until otherwise advised however, the voters will keep on wondering why they are candidates.

Nearly fourteen thousand dollars in cash have been received by the committee in charge of the Garfield monument fund. Thirty subscriptions of one thousand dollars each have been subscribed at Cleveland towards the fund.

In order to lend a little life to the pending campaign in this county, two ex-officers have announced themselves as independent candidates for Commissioners. Of course neither of them has any expectation of being elected.

All honorable Democrats will now vote for Ransom and Bradford, both of whom have made excellent officers.

Furmer Dickens, a nephew of the novelist, Charles Dickens, was elected a deacon of the Methodist church by the Rock River conference at Sycamore, Ill.

No intelligent Republican will be deterred from giving a hearty support to the whole ticket by any independent candidate "side-show."
