S. M. Wilson is the Prohibition candidate for State Treasurer.

The Case not Made Out.

Mr. Wolfe had hardly got back to his home from the Harrisburg Convention, of which he was not a member, before he placed himself in the field as an independent Republican candidate for State Treasurer. He telegraphed to the Press to announce him as such, and promised to justify his candidacy before the party. Mr. Wolfe recognized in the beginning that he was bound to show that it is the duty of Republicans having the welfare of the party at heart to cast their ballots for him, that by the defeat of General Baily and the election of Mr. Noble the managers of the party might be taught a wholesome and lasting lesson.

Mr. Wolfe has written and he has spoken, and not one of his publications, not one of his speeches, justifies his revolt or gives a sufficient reason why conscientious Republicans should follow him. In all that he has said there will be found nothing to show that revolution is either justifiable or expedient at this time. Mr. Wolfe has had his opportunity and failed. The people have listened to him, but he has not convinced them. That fault was in the cause, not the advocate, whose error came earlier when he resolved to pursue an unjustifiable course. In so far as Mr. Wolfe seeks to pry the Republican party his cause is good; but when he goes outside of the party to make war on it in practical alliance with the Democratic party which is to reap the benefit of Republican disaster, his cause is one which no thoughtful, loyal Republican can support.

The Republicans of Pennsylvania have not completed that manly, united effort for better methods within the party which must be made in vain before there will be any warrant for smashing what cannot be repaired. The bludgeon is the extreme resort. Fairly administered, the organization of the Republican party in Pennsylvania would be very near the perfection of political machinery. It has taken a quarter of a century of earnest effort to build it up. Shall it be broken up now because some of its parts need renewing and the whole a good, vigorous rubbing up?

The Republican party is more than a partisan organization; it is an expression of certain principles which it is believed, ought to determine the policy of government in this Republic. The principles are worth preserving, and the organization to preserve the principles in their force. Mr. Wolfe gives no reason why Pennsylvania Republicans shall help Democrats to reduce the organized Republican party to a demoralized rabble inspired by certain principles and without the power to enforce them.—Press.

One of the points which Mr. Wolfe attempted to make in his speech here was the impossibility of deposing the "bosses" except by revolt, and in the next sentence told how the work had been accomplished inside the party in New York State. Mr. Wolfe is neither logical nor consistent.

1831 THE CULTIVATOR 1831

Country Gentleman

THE BEST OF THE AGRICULTURAL WEEKLIES.
ENLARGEMENT FOR 1882.

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is the leading journal of American Agriculture. In amount and practical value of contents, in extent and ability of correspondence, in quality of paper and style of publication, it occupies the first rank. It is believed to have no superior in either of the three chief divisions of FARM CROPS AND PROCESSES, HORTICULTURE & FRUIT-GROWING, LIVE STOCK AND DAIRYING, while it also includes all minor departments of rural interest, such as the Poultry Yard, Entomology, Bee-keeping, Greenhouse and Grapery, Veterinary Replies, Farm Questions and Answers, Fireside Reading, Domestic Economy, and a summary of the News of the Week. Its Market Reports are unusually complete and much attention is paid to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light on one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell. It is liberally illustrated and is intended to supply, in a continually increasing degree, and in the best sense of the term, a LIVE AGRICULTURAL NEWSPAPER.

The Volume of THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN for 1882 will be largely increased in Contents by the addition of a sufficient number of pages to meet the growing demands upon its space, but the terms will continue as follows, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

All New Subscribers for 1882 paying in advance now, will receive the PAPER WEEKLY, from receipt of remittance to January 1st, 1882, WITHOUT CHARGE.

MILL PROPERTY FOR SALE AT A BARGAIN.—In consequence of continued ill health I now offer my mill property, known as LUTHER'S MILL, in Burlington township for sale at a great bargain. The site is one of the best on Sugar Creek, and embraces about 7 acres of land on which are several dwelling houses and other buildings. The mill has always enjoyed a large custom. A practical miller can pay for the property in a short time from the profits. The property will be sold very cheap and on easy terms.
