PREPARING FOR THE HOLIDAYS .- The holidays, which are only a little ways off, are alrsady being discussed. The babies are beginning to dream of Santa Claus and Merry Christmas, and the old, old gossip about the jolly season is being revived around the domestic hearth. In view of all this, S. P. WHITCOMB is preparing for a grand display of the choicest stationery goods made, the early invoices of which are already arriving. And his first showing of the publisher's art indicates that the enterprising stationer does not intend to slight the universal taste for the prettiest low priced books as well as the choicest and most expensive, while magnificent intermediary goods, will be offered. In fine Mr. WHITCOMB will spare no pains to satisfy the public in every particular as the early arrivals alluded to amply testify.

The return rifle match between the Keystone Club and Towanda Club took place at Rome on Saturday last. The weather was unfavorable for shooting, the wind being very strong, and the scores in consequence were low. The Keystone won the match by two points. The following is the score; KEYSTONE CLUH.

Scientific American gives the following information to those who desire to get rid of stumps on their farms: "In the autumn or early winter bore a hole one or two inches in diameter, according to the girth of the stump, and about eight inches deep. Put into it one or two inches of saltpetre, fill the hole with water and plug it close. In the ensuing spring take out the plug and pour in about a gill of kerosene oil and ignite it. The stump will smoulder away without blazing, to the very roots, leaving nothing but ashes."
