HUGH KILGOUR'S DEATH—HUGH KILGOUR, a young Scotchman, died in Ulster, Pa. on Monday night of last week, at the age of 28 years. His mother was the sister of Supervisor JAMES McQUEEN of Horseheads, Young KILGOUR came from Scotland about two years ago, hoping that the change of scene and air would restore him to health. For five years before he came to this country, or from the time that he became a man, he was in the employ of the Glasgow and South-western railroad, holding a profitable and responsible position. At first here he was with the Atchinson, Santa Fe and Topeka railroad in Kansas, but was obliged to give up the position on account of his health. He returned east, went to Ulster, where he had relatives and friends, and gradually failed until death came. He was unmarried, and was a young man of more than ordinary capacity, making friends with all with whom he came in contact. The funeral services were observed on Thursday, Nov. 10, and the remains were buried at Smithfield, in Bradford county, Pa., beside those of the young man's grandfather and grandmother.—Elmira Free Press.

Hon. LEVI P. STALFORD, whose death occurred at his home in Browntown on Sunday last, was one of the most prominent citizens, not only of the township in which he had always lived, but the county as well. He was born in Wyalusing township April 11, 1811, and was in his 71st year. He was of Irish descent, his great grand father having emigrated from Tipperary, Ireland, in 1718. In May 1792, his grand father came upon the farm where the Judge was born and reared, it having been inherited by his father, who died in 1841, when the homestead descended to the subject of this notice.

For many years Judge STALFORD was extensively engaged in lumbering, but never neglected his farming interests and was one of the most intelligent and successful agriculturalists in this section. His sterling integrity, exceptionally good judgment, urbane manners, and benevolent, charitable disposition won for Judge STALFORD the confidence and esteem of all who had the honor of his acquaintance. He was frequently called to fill the various offices of trust in the town, and in 1863 was elected one of the Associate Judges of the county. It is needless to add, that in all these stations he discharged the duties with honor to his constituents and credit to himself. Had he been an aspiring politician, he could have reached any position in the county.

In 1842 Mr. STALFORD was happily married to Miss MARY R. O'CALLAGHAN. Eight children—four sons and four daughters—were born to them, seven of whom are still living; the eldest son having died only two weeks since.

The STALFORD home was ever a favorite resort. A generous welcome always awaited the visitor and hospitality was dispensed with an open hand. Judge STALFORD was one of the first members of the Bradford County Historical Society, and for years filled the office of treasurer. He was seldom absent from the meetings and was one of the earliest to suggest the publication of the county history. Although he never united with the church he was a firm believer in the christian religion and a generous supporter of the Wyalusing Presbyterian church, being President of the Board of Trustees. He was also President of the Cemetery Association. Yesterday his mortal remains were consigned to their last resting place in the quiet grave yard where repose the ashes of his forefathers. The funeral discourse was pronounced by his beloved pastor and friend, Rev. DAVID CRAFT, in the presence of a large concourse of friends and neighbors assembled to pay the tribute of respect to all that remained of one who had in his life time commanded their love and highest esteem.

The pall-bearers were, GEORGE H. WELLES, D. W. BROWN, BENJ. ACKLEY, JOHN GAYLORD, STEPHEN HOMET, and D. K. BROWN.

At the supper in the north store Mercur Block this evening oysters scalloped, stewed and raw will be served; also, celery slaw, sandwiches, biscuit and cake. Without coffee and cake the price of supper will be 30 cents; with these, 35 cents.

"I had a fall from a ladder and sprained my wrist so badly," says A. B. Palmer, of Cumberland Court House, Va., "that I lost all use of my arm. I procured a bottle of the St. Jacobs Oil, and, after rubbing my arm with it, I obtained immediate relief. I used it likewise for neuralgia, and find it also effectual for burns, bruises, etc."

There will be no entrance fee charged to the Oyster Supper in Mercur Block this evening and the ladies hope that a goodly number of our business men will relieve their wives of the trouble of preparing the evening meal and take tea with them. Tables will be spread at 5 o'clock. The menu will comprise tea, coffee and sandwiches, as well as oysters. Whatever of patronage they may receive will be gratefully.

FIVE CHILDREN AT ONE TIME!—A Lady in New England had five children sick with Chills at one time. Her pastor recommended Thermanine. She bought a family box and cured the whole lot. Children won't take quinine; its bitter taste turns their stomachs. Thermanine is put up in sugar-coated capsules, like small flat beans. Only costs 25 cents a box. It has never been known to fail, and is now prescribed by physicians instead of quinine.
