PETER BRADY of Easton is registered at the Ward House.

Miss Doctor DEWERS has patients in Tunkhannock whom she has been visiting this week.

Doctor ELLIS, who spent some time in this place as agent for Appleton's Cyblopedia was in town yesterday.

Maj. GORE of Sheshequin came down yesterday to attend the funeral of his friend and former partner, Doctor BARSTOW.

C. D. PASSAGE of Towanda was in town yesterday.—Mrs. SIMON KINNEY visited Towanda yesterday.—Waverly Review.

FRANK STALFORD, of Norwalk, Conn., who was called to this county by the death of his father, made us a call on Thursday evening.

W. H. DODGE has gone to Shippensburg to spend Sunday and meet his wife, who is spending a few days there, on her way home from Beverly, N. J., with Mr. CRISWELL'S family.

M. E. HEISE, representing the large stationery house of C. J. COHEN, Philadelphia, arrived in town last evening and will display his samples this morning. He carries a large assortment of the best goods, is an accomplished salesman and a royal good fellow.

Prof. G. W. RYAN, County Superintendent of Schools, made this office a pleasant call on Wednesday evening last on his tour through the county visiting schools. The Prof. with much labor, has inaugurated a thorough system in discipline and management in the schools under his charge. He is certainly the right man in the right place.—Le Raysville Advertiser.

Mrs. JOHN STIRTON of Ridgbury died very suddenly yesterday morning.

By the immense sale of St. Jacobs Oil we begin to realize that the world is not slow to recognize what is good for its ailments.

NEWTON WALDRON of Troy was killed yesterday morning in jumping from a moving freight train near Granville Summit. He was 24 years old and married.

Rev. O. L. GIBSON, a former pastor of the M. E. Church in this place, died recently in Michigan, having been transferred to that conference at the late session of the Genesee conference.

Dr. TAYLOR, pastor of the Universalist church, announces his topics for to-morrow, morning, "The division of Christ's garments;" in the evening, "What is man to live by?"

Mr. JOHN T. HINDS, at the National Theatre last evening, fully confirmed his reputation by his performance of Con. McCarty in "The Shaughnaun." His personation of the hero was characterized by humor, fervor and a degree of artistic merit that easily swayed the sympathies of the audience.—Philadelphia Evening Star.

This celebrated actor, supported by a first class company, will appear in his famous character, "The Shaughnaun," at Mercur Hall, Tuesday evening next.

Mr. and Mrs. THOMAS CURRAN mourn the death of their little daughter JOANNA, aged 5 years. The child had been afflicted with heart disease for nearly a year, from an attack of lung disease last winter. DODE was a very bright little girl, and gave promise of affording her parents great happiness. But he who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto Me," has taken her to be with himself in a home of perfect happiness, where she will be spared the sorrows and trials inseparable from existence in this world. "In heaven their angels do always behold the face of the Father." Funeral at 2 p. m. to-day.

Rev. Dr. REDDY is conducting a series of religious meetings this week in the Ghent M. E. church. Each day at 11 o'clock a. m., he holds a service for the promotion of Holiness. All are welcome.

He is said to be one of the best teachers of gospel truth, to be found in the evangelistic work. He has published a pamphlet on "Prayer and Providence," in relation to the death of Garfield. It is very instructive. All christians, as well as others, ought to read it.

Miss NELLIE RECORD, the daughter of a prominent lawyer of Forrestville, Chautauqua county, eloped Thursday with a Mr. DYE on the eve of her marriage with Mr. HOOKER, her father's law partner. A woman who had rather Dye than Hooker self to a man she did not love, certainly gives herself a very consistent Record.—Ec.

The father of the heroine of the above item is a cousin of our townsman, J. A. RECORD.

The following, at an election held at Waverly Thursday, were chosen directors of the G. I. & S. Railroad, for the ensuing year; ROBERT A. PACKER, CHARLES HARTSHORNE, HARRY E. PACKER, HOWARD ELMER, ROBERT H. SAYRE, JAMES STILLMAN, WILLIAM ELLIOTT, JOHN RUMSEY, CHAUNCEY P. GREGG, WILLIAM STEVENSON, JOSEPH PATTERSON, WILLIAM W. WRIGHT, GEO. M. DIVEN.
