PROSPECTIOUS.—"Of making many books there is no end," and the multiplication of newspapers is the popular source of educating the people. We are aware that the idea is quite prevalent that Bradford County has too many papers, but with the large number not one is wholly devoted to the interest of the great producing class—the agriculturalists—and at the urgent solicitation of some of the best practical farmers in the county, we have decided to commence about the first of the new year, a local agricultural weekly, especially adapted to the wants of the farmers of this section. The contributors to the paper will embrace the best practical farmers in the county, and we shall aim to make it of real value to every tiller of the soil, dairyman and stock raiser in the county, by giving the results of experiments by those in whom the classes interested have confidence, and whose success in business is an evidence of thorough practical knowledge.

The paper will contain a condensation of the general news and the fullest local notes. Fuller particulars hereafter.

LAMOREUX'S dancing classes to-night.

Mrs. MINGOS not only has the most attractive display of millinery goods to be found anywhere, but her show windows are very artistically arranged. It is difficult for any lady of taste to pass without stopping to admire the beautiful things to be seen, and we confess to a weakness in the same direction.

We saw yesterday at BURCAILL Brothers a very neat monument to be placed over the grave of Mrs. JOHN BEAMAN. The material is mottle-green, carved into a neat design. The inscription reads: "Margaret, wife of JOHN BEAMAN, born March 5, 1839, died May 26, 1880.

"A faithful wife,
A friend most dear,
A tender mother, lieth here."

Aunt HANNAH CRAMMER, an old lady residing in a small house near the Graded School complains that she is greatly annoyed by the scholars, who treat her very rudely, Aunt HANNAH is quite aged and infirm and never molests any one. We hope Principal ALBERT or the directors will see that she has no further cause of complaint from that source.

The fifth annual convention of the New York State Dairyman's Association will be held at Whitney's Point, December 20, 21 and 22.

The usual reduction of railroad fare will be made to those attending the Convention, viz: New York, Lake Erie and Western Railroad, the New York, Ontario and Western railway and the Syracuse, and Binghamton Railroad. Persons taking the New York, Lake Erie & Western railroad will purchase tickets to Binghamton, then take the Binghamton and Syracuse road to Whitney's Point. Whitney's Point is on the line of the Syracuse and Binghamton railroad.

First-class hotel accommodations for $1.00 per day have been arranged for all who attend.

THE CHRISTMAS (DECEMBER) ST. NICHOLAS.—This year's Christmas "St. Nicholas" is the finest number of that Magazine ever issued; and therefore, probably, it is also the finest number of a children's magazine ever printed. Its ninety odd pages full of fine illustrations make it a delightful Christmas present for a boy or girl.

It opens with a superb frontispiece, engraved by T. Cole, after a painting by the famous Spanish painter Zamacois, and which here figures as one of the illustrations of an article about court-jesters in the olden time.

The number contains the opening chapters of two new serial stories:—"Donald and Dorothy," by Mary Mapes Dodge, the editor of the magazine;—and the Hoozier School-boy," by Edward Eggleston, author of "The Hoozier School-master." In it appears, also, the beginning of a series of "Stories from the Northern Myths," illustrated with a striking picture by Robert Blum; and it includes the second installment of "Recollections of a Drummer boy," in which are narrated some actual exciting experiences of the author when serving in the Northern army during the civil war—and especially how his regiment "got a shelling."

There is a long poem by Eva L. Ogden, engrossed and illustrated by Alfred Brennan in full-page form, after the style of the now celebrated "Miller of Dee," by the same contributors.

Mrs. Clara Erskine Clement's admirable "Stories of Art and Artists" are continued in a paper upon Raphael, splendidly illustrated with reproductions of his portrait of himself, his Sistine Madonna, and the Madonna della Sedia.

Of the contents relating especially to the holiday season, the most striking are: Some entertaining glimpses of life and manners in the United States "A Hundred Years Ago," with several pictures by Robert Blum and Alfred Brennan: the first half of a characteristic "fairytale" story—"The Poor Count's Christmas,"—by Frank R. Stockton; Washington Gladden's story of one happy Christmas-day, entitled "An Angel in an Ulster"; and the conclusion of "The Magic Pen," an operetta of which the first part was printed in the November number, and which is by E. S. Brooks, author of the successful "Land of Nod" operetta of last Christmas.

The pictures, stories, poems, and lively pieces in this beautiful number will, of course, interest the boys and girls; and at least thirteen hundred members of the Agassiz Association will enjoy reading Mr. Ballard's ninth report concerning that vigorous society, and its delightful, self-imposed studies of Nature; and the "Jack-in-the-Pulpit," "Letter-box," and "Riddle-box" pages will have devoted readers;—but that one thing in this number which is most likely to rivet the attention of the young folk is "Deacon Green's Offer" of one hundred brand-new one dollar bills to the one hundred boys and girls who best shall do a certain pleasant piece of work for him.
