PROSPECTIOUS.—"Of making many books there is no end," and the multiplication of newspapers is the popular source of educating the people. We are aware that the idea is quite prevalent that Bradford County has too many papers, but with the large number not one is wholly devoted to the interest of the great producing class—the agriculturalists—and at the urgent solicitation of some of the best practical farmers in the county, we have decided to commence about the first of the new year, a local agricultural weekly, especially adapted to the wants of the farmers of this section. The contributors to the paper will embrace the best practical farmers in the county, and we shall aim to make it of real value to every tiller of the soil, dairyman and stock raiser in the county, by giving the results of experiments by those in whom the classes interested have confidence, and whose success in business is an evidence of thorough practical knowledge.

The paper will contain a condensation of the general news and the fullest local notes. Fuller particulars hereafter.

The Greenback conference here yesterday afternoon decided to endorse the Worker as the party organ of this Congressional district.

Roasted lemon is said to subdue the whooping cough very effectively. It is prepared as follows: Roast a lemon without burning it. When hot, cut and squeeze the juice upon sugar. Give a teaspoonful as often as the cough is troublesome. This is a cure for any kind of a cough and perfectly safe to take.

At the District Stewards Convention held in the First M. E. Church in this city Wednesday, the following persons were elected Trustees of the North Hector Camp Ground for one year: Rev. C. C. WILBOR, Rev. M. S. HARD, DAVID DECKER, Rev. M. F. DEWITT, of this city; also, Rev. S. BALL, Horseheads; E. R. BACKER, Mansfield, Pa.; B. M. PECK, Towanda, Pa.; C. H. YOUNG, Corning; GEO. N. NEWBERRY, Troy, Pa.—Elmira Advertiser.

The fifth annual convention of the New York State Dairyman's Association will be held at Whitney's Point, December 20, 21 and 22.

The usual reduction of railroad fare will be made to those attending the Convention, viz: New York, Lake Erie and Western Railroad, the New York, Ontario and Western Railway and the Syracuse, and Binghamton Railroad. Persons taking the New York, Lake Erie & Western railroad will purchase tickets to Binghamton, then take the Binghamton and Syracuse road to Whitney's Point. Whitney's Point is on the line of the Syracuse and Binghamton railroad.

First-class hotel accommodations for $1.00 per day have been arranged for all who attend.

The Oil well of Sciota, of which we give frequent accounts, is now down six hundred feet and the work is rapidly progressing. Those in charge of the boring,—practical men from the Bradford district—feel much encouraged—the different strata of rock found corresponding with that in the western part of the State, and affording good indications of striking Oil ere long.—Towanda Review.

Will the editor of the REVIEW be kind enough to inform us if there is an oil well at Sciota—if he does not mean Wyoming county and if his information upon which he bases his "frequent accounts" is not derived from us?—Tunkhannock Standard.

We believe the oil well being bored by a company of Wyoming county capitalists, to which we have often referred, is near Sciota, Wyoming county, not far from the line of Wilmot township. We have never published as original, any information in regard to it from the Standard.

If you have not yet secured tickets for the lecture by that prince of humorists, Josh Billings, do so at once. The 21st will soon be here.

J. B. HAYS is a track walker on the Geneva, Ithaca and Sayer railroad. A few days ago he was picked up by an engine going at the rate of about forty-five miles an hour and tossed like a feather. He seemed to like that kind of exercise rather much than otherwise. To the astonishment of his friends, says the Ithaca Journal, he visited that place Friday as well as though he had never been in a railroad wreck. He has been in thirteen railroad smash ups in his time, and upon one occasion was picked up by a cow-catcher and carried eight miles, without receiving serious hurt. He says he is called the India-rubber man, as he might well be, for he uses his limbs as if they were made of whalebone.

MONROE EXCHANGES.—Mr. George Wanck goes into the Summers House on the first of January, for a term of years, to try his hand in the art of catering to the public taste, as a hotel keeper. He has a first class location, and will doubtless keep a good house, and secure his share of the patronage of the traveling public. G. L. Bull, Esq., proprietor of the Hinman House, is crowded with business in his line; and his house is a satisfactory resort for those who "require rest, food, and fire," and his visitors are certain to call again. A stranger's money should always secure him a good home for the night.

Dr. Hull has purchased the new and promising mansion erected on the east side of Bridge street, (next door to the grotto) by George Chubbuck. Mr. Chubbuck had but just moved in, when the Doctor's money induced George to sell out and allow the doctor to finish it up, and make for himself and family, a splendid home for life. When the doctor puts on a finish he imparts a shine that makes it attractive.

Walter Bull is opening grounds for a home dwelling, on land on Main street, purchased of Mrs. Emily Young, widow of the late Edward Young. If the bird does not fly he will soon have a tasteful cage doubtless, that will be inviting to almost any fair dancier to "walk into my parlor as the spider said to the fly." N. D. P.
