Col. PIOLLET addressed an open session of the State Grange in Williamsport last evening.

G. MORTIMER LEWIS, of the Wilkes-Barre bar, was attending to legal business in this place yesterday.

Worthy Master, W. H. SMITH and D. O. HOLLON of, Oscaluwa, are attending the State Grange in Williamsport.

Col. KENTNER, of Mehoopany, was in town yesterday purchasing candy, nuts and fruits at FITCH'S, for a Christmas entertainment for a Sunday School.

C. D. CAMP, late editor of the Tunkhannock Republican, is in town. He informs us that he proposes to take up his residence in Minnesota.

Miss LIBBIE PUFF and Mr. TIP KINNEY, and FRED E. SMITH, Esq., all of Waverly, N. Y., were the guests of Miss JULIA POWELL last evening.

M. KEEFE, a former Towanda boy, who is now employed in the P. B. & N. Y. R. R., made us a call yesterday. He is paying a short visit to his friends in Overton, where his wife has been staying for a little time.

Everybody should hear Miss KELLOGG this evening.

Don't miss hearing Miss GERTRUDE KELLOGG, this evening.

Don't fail to hear Miss KEOLGG this evening.

The best watches made for sale at ED. MOUILLESSEUX'S.

JIM LOCKABEE, one of L. B. RODGERS' teamsters, was kicked by a horse yesterday and his face is badly bruised.

ED. MOUILLESSEUX has the finest assortment of finger rings, bracelets and breast pins ever offered here, and his prices defy competition.

Remember that a first class orchestra will add to the enjoyment of those who attend the select readings by Miss GERTRUDE KELLOGG this evening.

H. C. Dern, editor of the Altoona (Pa.) Tribune, has used St. Jacob's Oil in his family for burns, bruises, etc., and heartily recommends it as a family remedy.

Towanda has not been favored with many first class entertainments this season, and for that reason Miss KELLOGG should be greeted with a full house this evening.

FITCH'S must be head quarters for Santa Claus, judging from the large number of barrels, boxes and packages to be seen in front of his store awaiting shipment.

HENDELMAN, the jeweler, is now receiving an immense stock of fine jewelry, gold and silver watches, all the new designs in bracelets, pins, rings, &c. His stock of silver and plated ware comprises all the new patterns of ROGERS' celebrated goods. It will pay you to call and examine his stock of beautiful goods.

A stranger went into the Parker house yesterday, and thoughtlessly left the door open, through which rushed the cold blasts of a winter's day. The air struck full on the parrot which swung in a hoop over the office counter, and the bird piped out, "Shut that door."

The stranger looked around in astonishment, but considered the remark as an impertinence and paid no attention to it. The parrot craning its neck over the swing, while its tail quivered with indignation at the stranger's neglect, again shouted out in a voice which rang through the room—"Shut that door, you rascal, shut that door!"

The stranger, now thoroughly alarmed, sprang to the entrance and closed the door at once. When an explanation was given, the stranger was much amused.—Bradford Times.

BURLINGTON, PA., Dec. 14, 1881.

Justin Morley died Sunday eve., Dec. 11th, 1881, in the 71st year of his age. Funeral ceremonies observed at the house Tuesday, at 1 o'clock p. m. A goodly assembly of relatives and friends were present. Sermon by Rev. A. Lane. Casket and Hearse furnished by J. O. Frost & Son, of Towanda. Interred at the old church cemetery. An industrious, economical and thriving farmer, an upright christian and an honest man, has gone from among us to try the realities of the spirit land. Peace to his dust: he is now at rest at last from the cares and frettings, the turmoils and brawlings, which have in a special manner, characterised his domestic relations in this life.
