The Callisopia Society of Elmira Female College, give a literary entertainment this evening. Miss WINNIE DAVIES of this place, who is the Society critic, will read an essay entitled "Modern Ideas of Culture." The young lady's Towanda friends would be pleased to hear it.

Those who did not hear Col SMITH, of Towanda, in the closing plea in the QUICK vs. MILLER suit missed a rare treat. The case was of that peculiar character as to afford ample play for the Colonel's peculiar qualifications, and despite the gavel of the Judge, the audience, which was only limited by the capacity of the court room, persisted in cheer after cheer, or were convulsed with laughter at his happy hits and home thrusts towards opposing counsel and party.—Montrose Democrat.

As Mr. GOODMAN and his good wife were for many years residents of this place and have hosts of friends here, we appropriate and endorse the following complimentary notice from the Waverly Review:

The family of R. F. Goodman of Sayre, leave to-day for Buffalo, their future home. Their many friends, though rejoicing at their success, will exceedingly regret the necessity that calls them away. Mr. Goodman's fortune has been so long cast in this vicinity that he seems to have grown up with all the young thriving business institutions that now furnish the vigorous life-blood to our beautiful valley. Starting in life as a district school teacher at the early age of 18 years, and afterward working as clerk in the old North Branch canal office under the late Colonel C. F. Welles, he has by close application and untiring energy arrived at his present responsible position—general manager of the Lehigh Navigation company. He has literally grown up with this section of the Lehigh Valley railroad, having been employed in some official capacity by them ever since they first broke ground through Northern Pennsylvania, and always steadily advancing to positions of higher trust and greater responsibility. What Sayre loses Buffalo has gained—an upright, energetic business man, a cultured genial gentleman, and a public spirited citizen.

The work of decorating Christ Church, or Christmas, will be commenced this afternoon.

B. DODGE and Mrs. O. A. BALDWIN, of this place, and SAMUEL and THEODORE LYON of Monroe. He was about 55 years of age.

By referring to his advertisement in another column it will be seen that CHAS. MORGAN one of the best blacksmiths in the county has taken DODGE'S shop and will carry on the blacksmithing business in all its branches. He has provided himself with the most approved tools and solicits a share of public patronage, which he is justly entitled to, not only because he is a good mechanic, and worthy, industrious citizen, but was a brave soldier. His patent "blower," and improved drill were purchased from A. D. DYE & Co.
