PHILADELPHIA GONVENTION.

The Democratic members of Congress have published a call for a National Convention to be held in the City of Philadelphia, on the 14th of August, and to be known as the-National Union Convention. This call is a formal disbandment of the Democratic party, and renunciation of the name Democracy, and it, there is no nation, there is no united Odenbaugh's, in Jackson tp., and at an invitation for its members to meet in Con- indivisible, American people. They and Rogersville, in Center. vention with such dissatisfied persons of the their predecessors for forty years have Union party as can be induced to unite with the in forming a new organization. It is a direct confession that the Democratic party, indelibly stained with treason as it is, a name too grisvous to be borne, and the cunning signers of this call, who are staggering under tts weight, are striving to relieve themselves from the dreadful burden,

This proposition to change its name is a humiliating acknowledgment of defeat, o dishoner and of national condemnation, which could have been wrung from these men only by the direct suffering and necessity. And vetit will not avail. The new party, whatever name or shape it may assume, will be the same old Copperhead concern. Composed of the same men, clothed with the same history, and plotting the same dishonors and disasters to the country.

The "call" establishes the fact, however, that the recent revelation to the Democracy of this District, 'that the war was just and necessary," was local in its character, and did not extend to Washington, for it makes no mention of the war at all, and, for aught that appears in it, the authors never heard of the rebellion. They discuss the dangerous situation of the country, atterly ignoring the fact that there has been a rebellion, and innocent ly seem to expect that the people will be equally dumb; apparently entertaining the idea of the ostrich, who believes that when his head is thrust into the dirt his body is out of sight. But allow me to quote a passage from it.

"At present eleven States are excluded from the National Council. For seven long months the present Congr as has persistently denied any representation to the people of these States. Laws affecting their highest and dearest intersts have been passed without their consent, and in disregard of the fundamental principle of free government."

Here it complains in piteous terms that for seven months 'eleven States have not been represented in Congress, but makes no reference whatever to the manner in which the Senators and Representatives from those States went out of Congress, or the condition of those States for the five years preceding these seven menths.

If affects to treat the subject as if the Senators and Representatives from those States had been rudely expelled from Congress, without cause or fault on the part, and wickedly kept out of their seats for the long period of seven months, and very foolishly tries to ignore the fact that these Senators and Representatives five years before that time, and in violation of their oaths, had voluntarily abandoned their seats and inaugurated a cruel war, in which, after a costly and bloody struggle of four years, they were overwhelmingly defeated.

The attempt to suppress the facts of history, and keep out of sight the many events which mark the annals of the rebellion, is an admission clearly fatal to the protected honesty and soundness of their doctrines. Again they say:

"As essential to national union, we must "As essential to national union, we must maintain unimpaired the rights, the diguity and the equaity of the States, including the right of representation in Congress, and the exclusive right of each State to control its own domestic concerns, subject only to the Consti-tution of the United States."

Now, all this is a mere trick of words, intended to obscure the truth. There is no issue involved concerning the rights or the dignity and equality of the States, but the real question is, what shall be the status or condition of the rebellions inhabitants of the rebel States: upon what terms shall they be admitted back to the enjoyment of political rights, and what securi y shall be taken, what guar-antees exacted by the loyal people of the nation to prevent the horrors and atrochies of an-

In conclusion, the authorities of this odl use the following language:

We therefore respectfully but earnest ly urge upon our fellow citizens in each triot in the United States, in the interest will address the citizens of Clarksville, his spirit warmed the blood like the journed until Aug 28th 36 at 19 o'clock which it has been our province lately to of Union, and in a spirit of harmony, and vicinity, on and with a direct reference to the principles contained in said call, to act promptly in the selection of moderate in said Convention, to the end that all the States shall at once be restored to bless the whole country "
