WAYNESBURG.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1867.

John R. PHELPS, Esq., has our thanks for valuable public documents.

Fancy Soaps and Perfumery in great variety at G. W. Roberts & Co's. Drug Store.

Well to Do.—The Gazette and Democrat of Newcastle, Lawrence Co. enters upon the new year enlarged, and otherwise improved. It is an energetic and enterprising journal, but we can't go its politics.

Paovoking.—Our country friends persist in mistaking the foreman for the "boss of the machine" because he has a great pair of whiskers. We have tried to overcome our boyish looks and propensities and yet they tell us we "look too young to be the editor!" Patience! Preach it to the winds!

If you want a Lamp Chimney for 8 cents go to G. W. Roberts & Co's. Drug Store.

Improved.—We failed to notice last week the enlarged and improved appearance of our neighbor, the Cumberland Presbyterian. Under the efficient management of Messrs. Miller & Day, this journal aspires to a brilliant field of usefulness. We cordially recommend it to all as a first class religious paper, true to the interest of christianity and the welfare of our nation.

A large and well selected stock of Drugs at G. W. Roberts & Co's. Drug Store.

The Tribune Almanac for 1867 will be ready on the 15th January. It will contain full election returns from all the States, beside a vast amount of other Political and Statistical matter. Orders will be filled in the order of their reception. Price, 20 cts per copy or seven for $1.00. Address, with cash enclosed, The Tribune New York.

Points of all kinds in dry and in oil for sale at G. W. Roberts & Co's. Drug Store.

The Normal.—This most valuable educational magazine, published by J. A. Cooper, at Elmhurst, Erie county, is before us. The Normal is not only an ably-conducted magazine, and filled with matter of general interest, but is also a cyclopaedia for the searcher after knowledge, taking up, as it does, knotty points in educational matters, which are learnedly discussed and elucidated. The Normal is published three times a year, and is furnished at the low rate of 75 cents per annum. Address J. A. Cooper, Elmhurst, Erie county, Pa.

Physician's Prescriptions carefully compounded at G. W. Roberts & Co's.

Dangerous.—The utter recklessness with which "the boys" go dashing down the hill at the east end of town, suggests the propriety of "coasting" within bounds. Sliding is fine sport, exhilarating and all that, but very expensive if it costs broken limbs or life.

Go to G. W. Roberts & Co's. Drug Store for pure Flaxseed Oil.

"Tall Times."—A thaw, a slight fall of rain, a freeze and a nice fall of snow makes "everything altogether lovely" and hangs "the anserine bird in a conspicuous position." Sleighbells parades dash in upon us from adjacent villages, cheer by their presence and are gone. The "oldest inhabitant" says it is a regular old-fashioned winter, having had nothing like "since the army lay at Valley Forge."

All the popular Patent Medicines for sale at G. W. Roberts & Co's. Drug Store.

River IRMS.—Four horse teams, with loaded wagons, cross on the ice at Greensboro—ice about 8 inches in thickness.

The Union Line of Steamers has purchased a calliope for their new boat the "Elisha Bennett." She will be ready for the spring trade.

The People's Line have been incorporated by the State Legislature.

If you want Lamp Oil that will not explode go to G. W. Roberts & Co's. Drug Store.

A PAPER FOR EVERY FAMILY.—And we mean not only every family, but single people as well, when we commend to all, the American Agriculturist—the most valuable and the cheapest journal in the world. We have received the first number of the new Volume, which begins the second Quarter Century, and find it of unexampled excellence and beauty, while the publishers announce still greater things to come. Mr. Clift, one of the most popular and practical writers of the country, is to join the already large and strong editorial force of the Agriculturist, and regular contributions are promised from the well known "Timothy Barker, Esq." the "Down East Farmer."—The Agriculturist is a marvel of value and cheapness. Each number has 36 to 40 large double octavo pages, containing 25 to 35 or more costly, beautiful and instructive Engravings and is packed full of useful, reliable information. The publishers promise to expend the present year at least $10,000 in engravings alone, and $14,000 in procuring and preparing sterling reading matter, adapted to the work of the Farm, the Garden, and the Household, including an entertaining and instructive department for Children and Youth.—Nothing less than the circulation of over 150,000, which reduces the expense to a small sum each, could enable the publishers to furnish such a journal, for only $1.50 a year.—We again advise every person to subscribe for the Agriculturist. It is adapted to City, Village and Country. Orange Judd & Co., Publishers, 41 Park Row, N. Y. City.

The State Normal School at Elmhurst, Erie county, Pa., is the place for young men and women to attend school. The State assists those intending to become teachers.

EXTENSION OF THE MONONGAHELA SLACKWATER NAVIGATION. At present there are six dams on the Monongahela river, making it navigable to Geneva, a town about ninety five miles from the city, and four from the Virginia line. A seventh dam in the vicinity of Geneva would ally steamers to reach Morgantown, West Virginia, about fourteen miles further up, and thus divert the trade of a large and productive section of country down the river to this city. The Slackwater Navigation Company offers to build this seventh dam provided the town of Morgantown subscribes $20,000 to the capital stock of the company. In accordance with the appointment of the borough council, the sense of the freeholders of the town were to have been taken by ballot, and as the citizens are generally in favor of the proposed improvement, the decision was doubtless in favor of the subscription.

The twenty-seventh annual meeting of the stockholders of the Monongahela River Navigation Company was held Jan. 10th, at the office of the Company, No. 75 Grant street. The report of the Treasurer, William Bakewell, Esq., shows the receipts of the company during the past year were $213,796.35, and the disbursements $191,817.22, making the profits $21,981.13.—Pitts. Gazette.

LAMENTABLE SIMPLICITY.—A man named Lewis Baker, of Greenfield, on the Monongahela, one day last week, strolled his pocket book containing $200 in money, notes, &c., into the stove. Said money, &c., wasn't fire-proof.

"NABOB" IS NO MORE!—Henry Hall, a colored individual of our town, widely known as "Nabob" and "Zip," shuffled off this mortal coil one day of last week. Henry was in the army for some two years, and very unexpectedly to his numerous acquaintances, acquitted himself with credit. As he was the occasion of the wasting of a vast quantity of flour during his lifetime, administered by the juvenile population of our town, it is confidently anticipated that there will be a material decline in the "staff of life," now that "He has gone to the land where all good negroes go."—Wash. Review.

PENNSYLVANIA NEWS.

The Old City Register says: The business of the oil region is now being conducted more legitimately than ever before. Further care and patience on the part of those engaged in the business will tend to greater improvement and a more perfect systematizing of it, and the day is perhaps not far distant when it will be as regular and steadily lucrative as any other pursuit. Many of the properties are being condemned for sale, and are, doubtless, subject to but trifling encumbrance, and it is the duty of those representing oil companies to see that the interests of the stockholders are not allowed to be wholly sacrificed.

Some time ago, Dr. John Lowman, of this place slightly wounded himself in performing a surgical operation. He soon discovered that the apparently trivial incident was to be attended by serious consequences. The doctor had received into his system, from his patient, a dangerous poison, well known to the profession. He has, in consequence, been a partial invalid ever since, and during the past two weeks has been entirely confined to his house and office. We are glad to say that he is now convalescent, and will be about again in a day or two.—Johnston Tribune.

Miss Marcella Simmons, of Hawley, Wayne county, has been missing for about ten days past. She started in the evening to go home from a millinery establishment at which she had been employed, but has not been seen since.—She had a bridge to cross on the way and it was at first supposed that she had been drowned. The stream was thoroughly raged for miles below, and no body found. Her friends are now that she has fallen a victim to the wiles of some artful seducer.

On January 5th a son of John Ride, late of Lackawannock township, Mercer county, started out to look for his rabbit traps, and not returning for a considerable time, his mother became alarmed and proceeded to look for him. The barking of his dog directed her steps, and she soon found him lying dead on his face at the foot of a tree with a rabbit in his arms.

Ludwig Minsker, aged seventy years, and long a resident of Danphin county, was found frozen to death recently in a field. He had undertaken to walk home alone the previous evening from a neighbor's house, and getting into a snow drift, fell and perished.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

James Henderson, of Manchester, Pa., went to the house of refuge for incorrigibility, eight months ago. James escaped in a few days, but was recaptured, and is now again in his old quarters. The little boy is only twenty years of age, and but six feet high.

GENERAL GRANT. It turns out, that General Grant did not such thing as give his approval to the veto of the suffrage bill. Gen. Grant was present when the message was read in Cabinet, but not being called on to express his views in reference to it, of course he said nothing about it. If the President had asked for his views he would have given them without reserve. When the Arkansas delegation called upon him, he told them to go home and adopt the Constitutional Amendment immediately, and after they had done that to pass a bill giving suffrage to all persons without regard to color. He has used similar language to others from the rebel States within the last six weeks.—Wash. letter.

The Round Table makes this good point: "The rebels, just when their cause was ebbing in, proposed to arm the negroes; the Democrats, now that they are in the very death struggle, propose to give the negro the ballot. The negro did not save the rebels, and he will not save the Democratic party."

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKET.

The Commercial of the 12th says: The week closes without any change noticeable in the condition of our markets, from what it was a week ago. The only demand appears to be for flour and groceries to supply immediate wants. Flour is pretty active, but it is of a local character, and without any attempt to speculate. Holders are indifferent about selling except at full prices, for the reason that the stocks on hand are light and they anticipate higher prices. There is very little doing in wheat.
