

Local Matters.

WAYNESBURG.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 30, 1867.

TO OUR READERS.—Again we petition you to aid us by contributing to the columns of your paper anything that will be of local or general interest. During these long winter nights, when you have drawn your easy chair before the cheerful fire, write us your thoughts on the political questions of the day, your experience or suggestions in farming, any incidents or accidents that may have happened in your neighborhood recently. Give us the material and we will try to build a suitable fabric.

Pure White Lead and Flaxseed Oil for sale at G. W. Roberts & Co.'s Drug Store.

Anonymous communications, we must say again, will be thrown among the waste paper. Several have been thus disposed of of late. Our friends will also bear in mind that reports of marriages and deaths must be accompanied by the name of the person sending them.

Lamps and Lamp Chimneys for sale at G. W. Roberts & Co.'s Drug Store.

Br some "unseen power" a steam engine, or part of one at least, has found its way to our town common, and it is rumored that a planing mill, door and sash manufactory is to go up next Summer, somewhere in these parts. We shall hail with gladness any improvement, but we should much rather see the building and hear the rumbling of machinery than to hear it to do.

Oils of all kinds for sale at G. W. Roberts & Co.'s Drug Store.

Every parent having a child to educate should send for a circular of the State Normal School. Its advantages are said to be unsurpassed. For circulars address the Principals, J. A. Cooper, Elmboro, Erie county, Pa.

Physicians Prescriptions carefully compounded at G. W. Roberts & Co.'s Drug Store.

The close winter we are having angers bountiful harvests. Farmers speak cheerily of future prospects. The industry of this class, favored by the powers that be, will give a quietus to hard times.

A large and well selected stock of Perfumery for sale at G. W. Roberts & Co.'s Drug Store.

Our week ago we were "snow bound" this week we are "ice bound." One inflexible band of ice girls all nature and as yet the general, solar rays have refused to release her from the cold embrace. Too slippery for walking and too dangerous for riding—verily, these are "troublesome times." How to raise the wind, we don't know. To say that our quaint, old Burg was dull would inadequately express the thought. Duller falls below the superlatively superlative sameness that reigns supreme. The sports of winter are growing old, and like a well worn coat, we are willing to lay them aside. Business has reached that stand point whence there seems to be no retrograde nor progressive movement. The loungers and loafers are visibly on the increase, as a few moments in the village tavern or groceries will demonstrate. They gather there to recount "the dangers they have passed," or "bequests the fleeting hours" with pipe and jake. Sewing circles and parlor festivities are not patronized to that extent which indoor confinement would suggest. Even the "boys," driven to desperation by the borough authorities not allowing them to slide in the streets, have thrown aside their sleds in disgust and amuse themselves by tying tin cans to the tails of any of the unfortunate canine species that fall into their ruthless clutches. Oh! the degeneracy of these days!

Varnish of all kinds, and of the very best quality, for sale at G. W. Roberts & Co.'s.

OUR BOOK TABLE.

Lady's Book.—The February issue of this excellent periodical is on our desk. It is a number of more than usual attraction; the illustrations are of the very highest order of the art, and the literary matter cannot be excelled. The "Lost Money" is a steel engraving containing thirteen figures, and is very expressive. The fashion plate is the forth coming tasteful for next month, in beautiful style. It contains more engravings, useful and ornamental, than any previous number. Godday has none to excel him, so the last issue excels its predecessors. Terms $3. Address L. A. Godley, Philadelphia.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—The February issue of this monthly is before us. Its table of contents is rich. The Guardian Angel—a story of New England life. Maha—a poem by Alice Cary; Characteristic of the Elizabethan Literature. George Reddell's Knight, Comic Journalism, by one whose experience peculiarly fits him to write on this subject. Elizabeth's Chamber; Katharine Morne; A Drift-wood Fire; Another Out-Door Paper; Real Estate, a poem, by J. T. Towbridge; How Mr. Frye would have preached it; Glacial Phenomena in Maine, the first of a series of popular scientific papers; Forza Maggiore, a chapter of Italian experience; Recollections of John Vanderlyn, the Artist; The Republican Alliance; the Standpoint of the Boarding-House. Address Tick nor & Fields, Boston, Mass.

BRADLEY'S MONTHLY.—This favorite and popular periodical for next month, is before us with all its attractions. It is rich with the best of reading from the pens of popular authors. Now is the time to subscribe. Address Bradley's Monthly, 118 William St. N. Y.

Paints of all kinds, dry and in oil, for sale at G. W. Roberts & Co.'s Drug Store.

Some of our patrons complain of the irregularity of the mails, with what justice we are unable to say. The paper is mailed promptly each week in time for the outgoing mails. Careless postmasters, storms and impassable roads are circumstances over which we have no control. We trust the cause of disappointment will be attributed to its just source.

Trusses and Abdominal Supporters for sale at G. W. Roberts & Co.'s Drug Store.

ORNAMENT THE PARLOR.—Suspend an acorn by a cotton thread so as nearly to touch the water in a glass vessel (a hyacinth glass is perhaps the best); set upon the window or mantel, and let it remain there for eight or ten weeks, more or less, without being interfered with, except to supply the evaporation of the water, and the acorn will burst, and as it throws a root down into the water, a sprout or stem will be sent upward, throwing out beautiful leaves, thus giving you an oak tree, in full life and health, within your parlor.

So says an exchange, it may be worth an experiment.

ATTENTION! SOLDIERS!

Disbanded Soldiers entitled to additional bounty under the recent Act of Congress should be careful when they employ to collect their dues. It is not every unprincipled "sharp" who hangs out his shingle that is a bona fide claim agent.

I am thus authorized by law, and will attend to all soldiers' claims for back pay, pensions and additional bounties. Having the correct blanks on hand to make such application, there is no cause for return of papers once sent, or delay in making them out. Receipts given for all discharges placed in my possession.

Apply at once—two more months will be too late. B. F. FLENNIKEN, P. O. Box 103, Office First Nat. Bank, Jan 30, '67, Waynesburg, Pa.

—Conveyancing done on reasonable terms.

FORBEAR.

Forbear, wrath only kindles wrath. An' sits up passions' fire: While unconquered only, daily tends To check the bittered ire.

MARRIED.

January 23rd, 1867, by Rev D. G. Zook, Miss Maggie Sellers, of Greene county, and Mr. John Jones, of Washington county Pa.

DIED.

On Thursday last, in this place, of Typhoid Pneumonia Mrs. FRANCES B. WIFE of the Hon. JESSE LAZAR, aged 59 years.

The burial ceremonies were performed on Sunday last. An instructive and very impressive sermon was preached by Dr. A. B. Miller, at the C. P. Church, after which, although the day was one of unusual inclemency, a large and sorrowing cortege followed the remains to the cemetery on the hill.

The deceased was an old resident of our town and has ever been honored for her moral worth, christian principles and urban disposition. Society has lost an ornament, christianity a friend, and the community a member that cannot be replaced.

On Tuesday, January 22d, 1867, at the St. Charles Hotel, Pittsburgh, JENNIE A. S. HAWKINS, wife of Charles H. Hawkins formerly of this place.

On Monday last, at her residence in Morris pt., this county, Mrs. SARAH, wife of Geo. LIGHTNER. The deceased died very suddenly, scarce a half hour from seeming health and death. It is presumed from apoplexy.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKET.

SATURDAY, January 26, 1867.

During the week there has been but little stir in our markets. In nearly all branches of trade, business has been almost at a stand still, and at the close, there was every prospect of remaining so. The snow storms and blockades have interfered with the receipts and shipments of goods not only on the railroads, but also on the country wagon roads. Our rivers are frozen over as solidly as they have been at any time for many years.

Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood cuts, and it combines in itself the rare monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has a power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature, —The Nation's Guide to American Literature.
