TRiumPHAL PROGRESS OF J. DAVIS FROM FORTRESS MONROE TO RICHMOND.

[Written for the Toledo Blade.] THE "SPOTT-WOOD" RICHMOND, VA., May 16, 1867.

In castia a retrospective glance back over the pathway of the past, I kin see many mistakes which I have made—I haven't alius made the most of opportunities—I hev doubtid when doubtin wuz a crime, and I hev stood shivrin on the brink and feared to lauch away, when on the totther side wuz the Jordan wuz pelf and profit. Our forsette isn't alluz ez our hind-side. The great error of my life wuz in not plungin headlong into the war ez a Confederate Major General, distinguishin myself for bravery to Federal prisoners, and being at the close of the fratricide struggle reserved and embraced ez a long-lost brother by the Northern people, (lettin em kill fatid calves for me) and uv course, being the objek of sympathy ez a martyr by the Southern people. In this stooshen a man hev two strings to his bow. He brings to his support the two extremes. He latches together Horris Greeley from the one side and General Boregard from the totther—they embrace, and standin out both theys holders he hev wat' may be called a soft thing uv it.

I wuz led into these train uv reflections by the experience I hev had with our sainted chief, Jefferson Davis. I wuz sat hither by the President to see that everything wuz done for the comfort of the illustrious man that cood be done on the occasion of his contemplid trip to Richmond. Partiklerly I wuz charged to see that everything calculated to jar onto his sensitive feelings be removed—everything which cood wound his sense uv hearin, seen or smellin.

The great man had consented to go—He had bin, he felt, illegally deprived of liberty—unconsciously in fact—and if he should consult his own feeling he wud remane, but to forgive wuz divine. Wewin these precedens in the lite of an Apology he wud go.

The day had arrived. The steamer wuz at the Fortress carefully prepared to receive its illustrious burden. It had been thoroughly cleaned and fumigated, the cabins had been nooly furnished, and special alterations made for the President and party. Their wuz-Yonned States officers and soldiers aboard, but out of respect for the feelings uv their illustrious 'prizer,' ez he is technically called, they kep themselves carefully out of his site, that the color uv 'v' air uniforms might not awaken unpleasant reflections. So perfect, in fact, wuz the arrangements that the ralin uv the boat which wuz originally blue, wuz kivered with gray cloth, and the eagle figherhead uv the craft wuz sawed off.

This wuz sejested by a eminent Conservative uv New York, who hev a large Southern trade which he didn't prejuse by his course during the war. 'The ladies cabin wuz originally assined to the party, but a female passenger hed no more regard for the comfort uv the martyr than to die on the passage, as they were deprived uv it. The Conservative merchant insisted that the corpse be chucked overboard, but Mr. Davis, with a magnanimity which wuz alluz characteristic uv him, retosed 'No,' said he, 'let her rest here. I kin endoor the inconvenience, severe as it is. It is but one more attempt to break my spirit!'

All the way up their wuz the most tetchin deference shown him. At every landin the people were assembled to greet him, which he acknowledged with a condescension I never saw off the stage. possible, the late hed uv the Govern- ment, who hed opposed him and the glorious coz, and ef Divine mercy cood stretch so far that he wud forgive the Colonel uv Michigan cavalry which hed hunted down the Saint who wuz now in our midst, and made uv him a captive. He prayed for forgiveness, for the reckless men of the North who invaded Virginy; for the noospaper conductors who had abozed him who is now with us, and partiklerly Horris Greeley, who hed this day in some measure atoned for his previous wickedness. He prayed that the blessins of Heaven might rest, first, upon the city uv Richmond, then upon the balance of Virginy, and afterwards upon the rest uv the Southern States, and he wound up with a fervent appeal that the Ethiopians, which cood change their skins, might see the error of their ways and return to their normal condition.

After this the President received his friends.

I am not permitted to give more of the President's plans than this: He will remain in seclusion, and will take no part watever in politics until after his final acquittal in November. He don't feel at liberty to take hold uv the Government so long ez ther is even a teeknikle charge against him. Our friends in the Northern States, who expected him to take the stump in their behalf this fall, will be disappointed. I return to-morrow to Kentucky.

THE SOUTH IN 1867.

The population of the fifteen former Slave States was a little over Twelve Millions in 1860, and is nearly the same to-day. The heavy waste of War has been made up in part by emigration and in part by natural increase. Several States may have even fewer inhabitants than in 1860, but Texas has many more, and we think there has been a gain also in Tennessee, whose two principal cities—Memphis and Nashville—have grown very considerably. Assuming the present population of the States (including Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginy, Maryland and Delaware) at Twelve Millions, we estimate that it may be divided politically as follows:

White Unionists who never flattered 2,000,000

Black Unionists 3,000,000

Original Unionists who became Rebels 3,000,000

Original Secessionists now loyal 3,000,000

Implacable Rebels 2,000,000

This last class is more noisy than numerous, and even more venomous than noisy. It derives power and consequence from its partial identification
