Death of Perry A. Rice.—It is with heartfelt grief that we record the death of Mr. Rice.—As has been several times mentioned, he was one of the citizens who were seized by Stewart's cavalry during the raid last October. Taken to Richmond, he was cast into Libby Prison with other citizen prisoners, but afterward removed to another prison, Castle Lightning. There he was kept for five weeks without a spark of fire, during the severe cold of January and February. He could not bear up under the hardship. He was first attacked with scalding in the ear, and afterward with inflammatory rheumatism and jaundice. Early in February he was taken back to Libby Prison, and about a week afterwards was placed in the hospital (in the same building); but with very little care and medicine he grew rapidly worse, and died on the 28th ult. Some of the citizen prisoners were chosen as nurses for the hospital; a Mr. Martin from Adams Co., attended Mr. Rice, and says that with proper medicine and attention he would doubtless have recovered.—Where or how he was buried is known only to those who had him in charge. We have much else to say, but as it pertains rather to all our citizen prisoners in common, it is reserved for another article.

Mr. Rice was born in Frederick Co., Maryland, in 1821, graduated at Marshall College in 1846, read law at Chambersburg under Judge Thompson, and afterward under R. M. Bard, Esq.; practiced law in Frederick, Md., one year, came to Mercersburg and published the Journal from '48 to '58; his later years here were spent more privately than the proceeding, doubtless more to his own taste, which inclined him to be retired. His friends and acquaintances deeply sympathise with his bereaved family, in the peculiar and circumstances of his death.—Mercersburg Journal of the 27th ult.
